From Paradise To Paradigm A Study Of Twelfthcentury Humanism:

From Paradise to Paradigm Willemien Otten,2004-11-01 This book presents a study of twelfth century humanism seen as an all embracing discourse in which the human and the divine interact on equal terms The book focuses on a number of twelfth century intellectuals especially Thierry of Chartres Peter Abelard William of Conches Bernard Silvestris and Alan of Lille Defining characteristic of their texts is the fact that God nature and humanity enter into a dialogue of sorts involving many disparate subjects and aiming to bring out the archetypal relatedness of all kinds of knowledge with respect to human nature As the authors studied here engage the divine and the universe in a joint conversation the book ultimately concentrates on trying both to understand its appeal and to explain its subsequent demise

A Companion to Medieval Christian Humanism John P. Bequette,2016-04-08 A Companion to Medieval Christian Humanism explores the perennial questions of Christian humanism as these emerge in the writings of key medieval thinkers questions pertaining to the dignity of the human person the human person's place in the cosmos and the moral and educational ideals involved in shaping human persons toward the full realization of their dignity The contributors explore what form these questions take for medieval thinkers and how they answer these questions thereby revealing the depth of medieval Christian humanism Contributors are C Colt Anderson David Appleby John P Bequette Benjamin Brown Richard H Bulzacchelli Nancy Enright David P Fleischacker Justin Jackson Ian Levy J Stephen Russell Aage Rydstrom Poulsen Andrew Salzmann John T Slotemaker Benjamin Smith and Eileen C Sweeney

Reclaiming Rome: Cardinals in the Fifteenth Century Carol Mary Richardson,2009-03-25 The fifteenth century was a critical juncture for the College of Cardinals They were accused of prolonging the exile in Avignon and causing the schism At the councils at the beginning of the period their very existence was questioned They rebuilt their relationship with the popes by playing a fundamental part in reclaiming Rome when the papacy returned to its city in 1420 Because their careers were usually much longer than that of an individual pope the cardinals combined to form a much more effective force for restoring Rome In this book shifting focus from the popes to the cardinals sheds new light on a relatively unknown period for Renaissance art history and the history of Rome Dr Carol M Richardson has been awarded the Philip Leverhulme Prize 2008 in the field of History of Arts

Rethinking the School of Chartres Edouard Jeaneau,2019-02-06 In this brief essay esteemed medieval historian Edouard Jeaneau examines a much debated question in medieval intellectual history did the famous School of Chartres actually exist Gracefully acknowledging the suggestion by Sir Richard Southern in 1965 that the School was actually a myth Jeaneau argues that the School did in fact exist but perhaps was not as important as previously thought Jeaneau provides a fascinating portrait of the School of Chartres during its heyday in the first half of the twelfth century bringing to light the accomplishments of Fulbert of Chartres Bernard of Chartres Thierry of Chartres Gilbert of Poitiers and William of Conches Deftly translated by Claude Paul Desmarais Rethinking the School of Chartres provides a narrative that is critical passionate and witty Sixteen black and

Religion Hent de Vries, 2008 What do we talk about when we talk about religion Is it an array of empirical facts about historical human civilizations Or is religion what is in essence unpredictable perhaps the very emergence of the new In what ways are the legacies of religion its powers words things and gestures reconfiguring themselves as the elementary forms of life in the twenty first century Given the Latin roots of the word religion and its historical Christian uses what sense if any does it make to talk about religion in other traditions Where might we look for common elements that would enable us to do so Has religion as an overarching concept lost all its currency or does it ineluctably return sometimes in unexpected ways the moment we attempt to do without it This book explores the difficulties and double binds that arise when we ask What is religion Offering a marvelously rich and diverse array of perspectives it begins the task of rethinking religion and religious studies in a contemporary world Opening essays on the question What is religion are followed by clusters exploring the relationships among religion theology and philosophy and the links between religion politics and law Pedagogy is the focus of the following section Religion is then examined in particular contexts from classical times to the present Pentecostal revival leading into an especially rich set of essays on religion materiality and mediatization The final section grapples with the ever changing forms that religion is taking such as spirituality movements and responses to the ecological crisis Featuring the work of leading scholars from a wide array of disciplines traditions and cultures Religion Beyond a Concept will help set the agenda for religious studies for years to come It is the first of five volumes in a collection entitled The Future of the Religious Past the fruit of a major international research initiative funded by the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research

Horizontal Learning in the High Middle Ages Micol Long,Tjamke Snijders,Steven Vanderputten,2025-10-01 The history of medieval learning has traditionally been studied as a vertical transmission of knowledge from a master to one or several disciples Horizontal Learning in the High Middle Ages Peer to Peer Knowledge Transfer in Religious Communities centres on the ways in which cohabiting peers learned and taught one another in a dialectical process how they acquired knowledge and skills but also how they developed concepts beliefs and adapted their behaviour to suit the group everything that could mold a person into an efficient member of the community This process of horizontal learning emerges as an important aspect of the medieval learning experience Progressing beyond the view that high medieval religious communities were closed homogeneous and fairly stable social groups the essays in this volume understand communities as the product of a continuous process of education and integration of new members The authors explore how group members learned from one another and what this teaches us about learning within the context of a high medieval community

Varieties of the Self Babette S. Hellemans,2023-07-31 The Paraclete was founded in 1129 Out of necessity to find a new place to shelter a group of nuns this female community was created by Peter Abelard 1079 1142 for Heloise of Argenteuil 1090 1164 Varieties of the Self shows how this community was dependent on a network of monasteries while also representing a formative driving force in the twelfth century reform the period of flourishing to which it clearly belonged The anthropological approach connects different works written by Peter Abelard hymns life rules letters biblical commentaries to views on the female self What is the perspective on identity sacrifice and intentionality within these sources and how do views on pollution purity and sacredness reflect on ethics of body and soul

Delivering the Word William John Lyons,Isabella Sandwell,2014-09-11 Biblical texts have been used consistently in sermons throughout Christian history Preachers have transformed the texts into an aural experience using them to evangelize educate edify exhort or even terrify their audiences Sermons have enabled Scripture to be communicated to people from a wide range of social backgrounds Delivering the Word examines the power of preaching and its reception across two millennia of homilies from St Paul Origen Chrysostom Augustine and Hildegard of Bingen to Jonathan Edwards Samuel Taylor Coleridge Aimee Semple McPherson and Chris Brain In its exploration of the impact of the sermon on the interpretation of Scripture Delivering the Word will be of interest to students of biblical and religious studies
