Sports and Play in Christian Theology Philip Halstead, John Tucker, 2020-11-24 Sport is a major preoccupation of the modern world It consumes the time and energies of millions of people around the globe In fact for many participants it operates much like a functional equivalent of religion giving them a way to interpret and understand the world Sports stadiums are the cathedrals of our time Sports stars are the saints or demi gods through whom we access the transcendent Members of the sports media serve as religious scribes and sports fans are the worshipping faithful What is true of sport is also true more generally of play Nevertheless and quite remarkably Christian theologians and religious historians have been surprisingly slow to recognize the spiritual and cultural significance of sport and play or to engage in the study of these concepts This book attempts to redress that neglect by integrating sport and play with Christian faith and practice In Sports and Play in Christian Theology ten Christian scholars and practitioners explore sport and play from theological biblical historical and pastoral perspectives This rich collection of wide ranging reflections and focused case studies will help readers locate sport and play within Christian faith and practice forces have intersected in his own life he shows how world religions despite their malfunctions remain one of our most potent sources of moral motivation and contain within them profoundly evocative accounts of human flourishing Globalization should be judged by how well it serves us for living out our authentic humanity as envisioned within these traditions Through renewal and reform religions might in turn shape globalization so that can be about more than bread alone

Christianity and Social Scientific Perspectives on Sport Tom Gibbons, Stuart Braye, 2020-06-29

There has been a dramatic increase in academic research activity and practical initiatives on the topic of sports and Christianity and its cultural significance during the past decade. The Faculty of Health and Life Sciences at York St John University York UK hosted the Inaugural Global Congress on Sports and Christianity IGCSC 24-28th August 2016 in collaboration with the Bible Society at which there were 180 delegates from 22 countries in attendance. For the area of sports studies, the social scientific study of sport, there was a thematic strand at the congress titled Christian sociological perspectives on sport from which a special edition of the journal Sport in Society partially emanated. This book is based upon this journal special edition. The papers selected for inclusion in the special edition were purposely eclectic in order to demonstrate the diversity of current research occurring in the area of Christianity and social scientific perspectives on sport. The goal was to bridge divisions between various social science disciplines and theology or religious studies through varied novel and interesting explorations of sport in its various forms. We hope this collection inspires further studies into this area. The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue in Sport in Society.
