Civilizations Felipe Fernandez-Armesto, 2001-09-14 In Civilizations Felipe Fernandez Armesto once again proves himself a brilliantly original historian capable of large minded and comprehensive works here he redefines the subject that has fascinated historians from Thucydides to Gibbon to Spengler to Fernand Braudel the nature of civilization To Fernandez Armesto a civilization is civilized in direct proportion to its distance its difference from the unmodified natural environment by its taming and warping of climate geography and ecology The same impersonal forces that put an ocean between Africa and India a river delta in Mesopotamia or a 2 000 mile long mountain range in South America have created the mold from which humanity has fashioned its own wildly differing cultures In a grand tradition that is certain to evoke comparisons to the great historical taxonomies each chapter of Civilizations connects the world of the ecologist and geographer to a panorama of cultural history In Civilizations the medieval poem Sir Gawain and the Green Knight is not merely a Christian allegory but a testament to the thousand year long deforestation of the trees that once covered 90 percent of the European mainland The Indian Ocean has served as the world's greatest trading highway for millennia not merely because of cultural imperatives but because the regular monsoon winds blow one way in the summer and the other in the winter In the words of the author Unlike previous attempts to write the comparative history of civilizations it is arranged environment by environment rather than period by period or society by society Thus seventeen distinct habitats serve as jumping off points for a series of brilliant set piece comparisons thus tundra civilizations from Ice Age Europe are linked with the Inuit of the Pacific Northwest and the Mississippi mound builders and the deforesters of eleventh century Europe are both understood as civilizations built on woodlands Here of course are the familiar riverine civilizations of Mesopotamia and China of the Indus and the Nile but also highland civilizations from the Inca to New Guinea island cultures from Minoan Crete to Polynesia to Renaissance Venice maritime civilizations of the Indian Ocean and South China Sea even the Bushmen of Southern Africa are seen through a lens provided by the desert civilizations of Chaco Canyon More here are fascinating stories brilliantly told of the voyages of Chinese admiral Chen Ho and Portuguese commodore Vasco da Gama of the Great Khan and the Great Zimbabwe Here are Hesiod's tract on maritime trade in the early Aegean and the most up to date genetics of seed crops Erudite wide ranging a work of dazzling scholarship written with extraordinary flair Civilizations is a remarkable achievement a tour de force by a brilliant scholar

Claiming the Dispossession Vladimir Biti, 2017-10-02 With the Treaty of Versailles the Western nation state powers introduced into the East Central European region the principle of national self determination This principle was buttressed by frustrated native elites who regarded the establishment of their respective nation states as a welcome opportunity for their own affirmation They desired sovereignty but were prevented from accomplishing it by their multiple dispossession National elites started to blame each other for this humiliating condition The successor states were dispossessed of power territories and glory The new nation states were frustrated by their devastating condition The dispersed Jews were left without the imperial protection This embarrassing state gave rise to collective historical and individual fictional narratives of dispossession This volume investigates their intended and unintended interaction Contributors are Davor Beganovi Vladimir Biti Zrinka Bo i Blanu a Marko Juvan Bernarda Katu i Nata a Kova evi Petr Ku era Aleksandar Mijatovi Guido Snel and Stijn Vervaeet      Primates in History, Myth, Art, and Science Cecilia Veracini, Bernard Wood, 2024-05-15 Non human primates hereafter just primates play a special role in human societies especially in regions where modern humans and primates co exist Primates feature in myths and legends and in traditional indigenous knowledge Explorers observed them in the wild and brought them at great cost to Europe There they were valued as pets and for display their images featured in art and architecture and where they were literally teased apart by scientists The international team of contributors to this book draws these different perspectives together to show how primates helped humans better understand their own place in nature The book will be of interest to undergraduate and graduate students as well scholars in disciplines ranging from anthropology to art history Key features Includes contributions from an international team of historians and natural scientists Integrates various perspectives and perceptions of non human primates across time and place Summarizes the place of non human primates in science art and culture Includes rare early illustrations
