Queen for a Day Marcia Ochoa, 2014-05-19 Queen for a Day connects the logic of Venezuelan modernity with the production of a national femininity In this ethnography Marcia Ochoa considers how femininities are produced performed and consumed in the mass media spectacles of international beauty pageants on the runways of the Miss Venezuela contest on the well traveled Caracas avenue where transgender women transformistas project themselves into the urban imaginary and on the bodies of both transformistas and beauty pageant contestants misses Placing transformistas and misses in the same analytic frame enables Ochoa to delve deeply into complex questions of media and spectacle gender and sexuality race and class and self fashioning and identity in Venezuela Beauty pageants play an outsized role in Venezuela The country has won more international beauty contests than any other The femininity performed by Venezuelan women in high profile widely viewed pageants defines a kind of national femininity Ochoa argues that as transformistas and misses work to achieve the bodies clothing and makeup styles and postures and gestures of this national femininity they come to embody Venezuelan modernity

Translating the Queer Héctor Domínguez Ruvalcaba, 2016-11-15 What does it mean to queer a concept If queerness is a notion that implies a destabilization of the normativity of the body then all cultural systems contain zones of discomfort relevant to queer studies What then might we make of such zones when the use of the term queer itself has transcended the fields of sex and gender becoming a metaphor for addressing such cultural phenomena as hybridization resignification and subversion Further still what should we make of it when so many people are reluctant to use the term queer because they view it as theoretical colonialism or a concept that loses its specificity when applied to a culture that signifies and uses the body differently Translating the Queer focuses on the dissemination of queer knowledge concepts and representations throughout Latin America a migration that has been accompanied by concomitant processes of translation adaptation and epistemological resistance Encyclopedia of
