

Hermeneutic (interpretive) Phenomenology

- Martin Heidegger (1889-1976)
- Hans-George Gadamer and Paul Ricoeur
- Disagrees with Husserl's epoche.
- An effort to "get beneath" the subjective experience and find the genuine, objective nature of things.
- Focuses on the relationship between the event and the person, and how meaning is formed in that relationship.
- Leads to endless possibilities and endless interpretations.
- Our relationship with things is not the object/subject relationship.

Heidegger And Whitehead A Phenomenological Examination Into The Intelligibility Of Experience:

Heidegger and Whitehead Ron L. Cooper, 1993 Martin Heidegger's Being and Time can be broadly termed a transcendental inquiry into the structures that make human experience possible. Such an inquiry reveals the conditions that render human experience intelligible. Using Being and Time as a model, I attempt to show that Alfred North Whitehead's Process and Reality not only aligns with Being and Time in opposing many elements of traditional Western philosophy but also exhibits a similar transcendental inquiry. With this reading, Process and Reality contains concepts much like Being in the world, ecstatic temporality, and others found in Being and Time. More important, this interpretation considers Whitehead's treatment of human experience paradigmatic for understanding his cosmological scheme in general. Finally, the results of this study are employed to sketch a phenomenology of holy experience. Prefatory Note to Heidegger and Whitehead

Heidegger and Whitehead Ronnie LeRoss Cooper, 1990 The Oxford Handbook of Process Philosophy and Organization Studies Jenny Helin, Tor Hernes, Daniel Hjorth, Robin Holt, 2014-05-15 Process approaches to organization studies focus on flow, activities, and evolution, understanding organizations and organizing as processes in the making. They stand in contrast to positivist approaches that see organizations and phenomena as fixed, static, and measurable. Process approaches draw on a range of ideas and philosophies. The Handbook examines 34 philosophers and social theorists, both those commonly linked to process thinking such as Whitehead, Bergson, and James, and those that are not as often addressed from a process perspective such as Dilthey and Tarde. Each chapter addresses the background and context of this thinker, their work, with a focus on the processual elements and the potential contribution to organization and management research. For students and scholars in the field of Organization Studies, this book is an entry point into the work of philosophical thinkers and social theorists for whom the world is far from being a solid place. The Phenomenology of Traffic Glenn Wyatt, 2020-09-09 The book delves into the affective, embodied, and sensory dimensions of traffic and urban mobility. It brings together key phenomenological and post-phenomenological readings to challenge taken-for-granted assumptions of urban traffic. Through the experiences of traffic users in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, the book provides fascinating pathways into structures and processes that make up phenomenal traffic worlds. It explores the nature of the traffic experience, modalities of existence within it, and the wide spectrum of awarenesses involved in making sense from non-sense. The book offers rich theoretical insights on how we feel our way through our affect-laden worlds. Through empirical examples from the urban traffic in Ho Chi Minh City, the book explores this fluid, constantly changing, complex collective of ongoing negotiations we call traffic, often emotional, involving and producing all kinds of entities. It develops a range of philosophical concepts in order to better understand the complex relationships between humans and non-humans in everyday settings. Offering innovative insights into the structures, authorities, materialities, and forms of power that shape our experiences of traffic, this book will be of interest to students, scholars, and practitioners interested in philosophy, cultural geography, mobilities, transport studies, cultural studies, and urban

Tragic Beauty in Whitehead and Japanese Aesthetics Steve Odin, 2016-05-19 The present volume endeavors to make a contribution to contemporary Whitehead studies by clarifying his axiological process metaphysics including his theory of values concept of aesthetic experience and doctrine of beauty along with his philosophy of art literature and poetry Moreover it establishes an east west dialogue focusing on how Alfred North Whitehead's process aesthetics can be clarified by the traditional Japanese Buddhist sense of evanescent beauty As this east west dialogue unfolds it is shown that there are many striking points of convergence between Whitehead's process aesthetics and the traditional Japanese sense of beauty However the work especially focuses on two of Whitehead's aesthetic categories including the penumbral beauty of darkness and the tragic beauty of perishability while further demonstrating parallels with the two Japanese aesthetic categories of y gen and aware It is clarified how both Whitehead and the Japanese tradition have articulated a poetics of evanescence that celebrates the transience of aesthetic experience and the ephemerality of beauty Finally it is argued that both Whitehead and Japanese tradition develop an aesthetics of beauty as perishability culminating in a religious aesthetic vision of tragic beauty and its reconciliation in the supreme ecstasy of peace or nirvana The Lure of Whitehead Nicholas Gaskill, A. J. Nocek, 2014-10-01

Being in the World Fred Dallmayr, 2013-05-01 It is commonly agreed that we live in an age of globalization but the profound consequences of this development are rarely understood Usually globalization is equated with the expansion of economic and financial markets and the proliferation of global networks of communication In truth much more is at stake Traditional concepts of individual and national identity as well as perceived relationships between the self and others are undergoing profound change Every town has become a potential cosmopolis an international city affecting the way that people conceptualize the relationship between public order and political practice In Being in the World noted political theorist Fred Dallmayr explores the globe's transition from the traditional Westphalian system of states to today's interlocking cosmopolitan network Drawing upon sacred scriptures as well as the work of ancient philosophers such as Plato and Aristotle and more recent scholars such as Martin Heidegger Hans Georg Gadamer and Raimon Panikkar this book delves into what Dallmayr calls being in the world seen as an aspect of ethical political engagement Rather than lamenting current problems he suggests addressing them through civic education and cosmopolitan citizenship Dallmayr advocates a politics of the common good which requires the cultivation of public ethics open dialogue and civic responsibility

Depths As Yet Unspoken Roland Faber, 2020-07-30 Whitehead's thought continues to attract attention in mathematics and metaphysics but few have recognized with Roland Faber the deeply mystical dimensions of his philosophy If you like to phrase it so Whitehead states philosophy is mystical For mysticism is direct insight into depths as yet unspoken Where however do these unspoken depths speak in Whitehead and what are their associated themes in his philosophy For the first time Depths As Yet Unspoken gathers together Faber's most compelling writings on Whitehead's mutually immanent themes of mysticism multiplicity and divinity In dialogue with a diversity of voices from process philosophers and theologians to mystical and poststructuralist thinkers Faber creatively articulates Whitehead's theopoetic process cosmogony in its relevance to metaphysics cosmology everyday experience religious pluralism and interreligious violence spirituality and longstanding concerns of the theological tradition including creation the Trinity revelation religious experience and divine mystery Although Whitehead's mystical inclinations may not be obvious at first they in fact constitute the apophatic backdrop to his entire philosophical corpus Through Faber's work Whitehead's philosophy is revealed to be nothing short of a remarkable endeavor to speak to the unfathomable depth of things

The Presence and Absence of God Ingolf U. Dalferth, 2009 Safeguarding the distinction between God and world has always been a basic interest of negative theology But sometimes it has overemphasized divine transcendence in a way that made it difficult to account for the sense of God's present activity and experienced actuality Criticisms of the Western metaphysics of presence have made this even more difficult to conceive On the other hand there has been a widespread attempt in recent years to base all theology on religious experience the Christian church celebrates God's presence in its central sacraments of baptism and Eucharist process thought has reconceptualized God's presence in panentheistic terms and some have argued that God might be poly present not omnipresent But what does it mean to say that God is present or absent For Jews Christians and Moslems alike God is not an inference an absentee entity of which we can detect only faint traces in our world On the contrary God is present reality indeed the most present of all realities However belief in God's presence cannot ignore the widespread experience of God's absence Moreover there is little sense in speaking of God's absence if it cannot be distinguished from God's non presence or non existence So how are we to understand the sense of divine presence and absence in religious and everyday life This is what the essays in this volume explore in the biblical traditions in Jewish and Christian theology and philosophy and in contemporary philosophy of religion

The Emergence of Institutions Elke Weik, 2022-08-27 This book presents an experiential aesthetic affective approach to the study of institutions Drawing on institutional sociology hermeneutics phenomenology and process philosophy it conceptualises institutions as collective experiences with their own self promoting and self propelling powers Instead of seeing institutional emergence change and decline as the result of actors interests and manipulations this book re establishes the importance of factors beyond human design and intervention Drawing on process theory it shows how ideas norms and values can form self stabilising configurations that affect people without conscious realisation It complements current thinking about institutions by showing how institutions constitute people long before people constitute them With the help of authors as diverse as Antonio Damasio A N Whitehead J W von Goethe and Max Weber Elke Weik crafts a perspective that allows us to understand institutions as aesthetic and affective powers in their own right This book is for researchers interested in process theory institutional and organisational studies hermeneutics and aesthetics

A Marriage of Philosophy and Music Erich Welling, 2014-04 How to use philosophy and music to open your horizons and enjoy being yourself put theory to work and help you experience personal growth is discussed in A Marriage of Philosophy and Music It is all about after After having a liberal education you are comfortable in modern culture and after further education and becoming a specialist in some field you enjoy using your skills We learn the ideas and methods of many social cultures and our own chosen specialty but we often neglect the liberal art of disciplining and enjoying the ideas and methods of our own individuality This book offers a path toward the education of privacy with the key words being selection design and beauty The book relates five areas of general human interest spirituality philosophy science art and body awareness The interrelation is accomplished by using personal patterns of experience that are available from philosophy and music Because of the plurality of subject matters and methods used in philosophy and music their patterns of discipline are comparable to self discipline A Marriage of Philosophy and Music attempts to create a path in this direction because besides the enjoyment of social culture and personal skills there is enjoyment in being yourself which is a neglected liberal art
