Verb Doubling and Dummy Verb Johannes Hein, 2020-06-22 This monograph provides the first cross linguistic study of repair strategies in verbal fronting verb doubling and do support addressing both typological properties and theoretical aspects First it brings together data hitherto scattered across the empirical and theoretical literature and adds newly collected data from two African languages For each of the 47 languages the properties of verbal fronting are documented in detail Based on this sample the empirical part establishes two novel typological generalizations regarding the interaction between the size of the fronted category and the type of repair strategy used The first of these identifies a systematic typological gap No language that allows both verb and verb phrase fronting has do support with the former and verb doubling with the latter In the theoretical part it is shown that previous theories of verb doubling do support are unable to account for both generalizations A new approach within the Copy Theory of the Minimalist Framework is developed that rests on the interaction of head movement copy deletion and the properties of different movement types The book thus provides the first comprehensive empirical and theoretical overview of repair patterns in verbal fronting

The Division of Labor between Grammar and the Lexicon Josep Ausensi, 2023-12-18 Much recent influential work within Generative grammar argues that syntax plays a key role in grammar and meaning composition whereas the role of the lexicon is minimal This book provides evidence that supports a more balanced division of labor between syntax and the lexicon in the creation of meaning The author argues that grammatical theory can only ignore lexical meaning at its own peril and defends a theoretical standpoint which is underrepresented in much of the current work in this area This book explores a wide range of relevant empirical data and makes a compelling case for a theory that can make adequate predictions about possible linguistic structures by allowing the lexicon and the grammar to dynamically interact and impose restrictions on each other

Pure-bred Dogs, American Kennel Gazette , 1968-12 The Grammar of Impoliteness Daniel Van Olmen, Marta Andersson, Jonathan Culpeper, Riccardo Giomi, 2025-11-03 The dominant view in linguistics nowadays is that impoliteness is purely a matter of situational assessments by speech participants This volume challenges that orthodoxy Bringing together studies on structures that convey insults threats and more in a wide range of languages it shows that there is in fact a formal side to impoliteness The volume reveals shared features of and sources for grammatical expressions of impoliteness explores ways in which their impolite character can be established and offers new insights into their diachrony

Grammar Competition in Second Language Acquisition Dominik Besier, 2023-03-06 Anybody with the chance of teaching English to Indonesian speakers should have experienced difficulties when it comes to non verbal predicates and the placement of be This volume looks at this matter from a grammar competition perspective An experiment conducted in Bandar Lampung with Indonesian learners of English identified specific error patterns These patterns result from grammar competition between the L1 Indonesian and the L2 English This work mainly deals with the influence of adverbs such as still or already and the category of the non verbal predicate adjectival nominal preposition phrase Although the main focus of this work is in the field of language acquisition this volume also provides a detailed contrast between English and Indonesian non verbal predicates and the contrast of the English copula be and the Indonesian copulas ada and adalah The linguistic description is done in a generative DM based approach Thus this volume does not only provide new insights in the field language acquisition but also in the generative description of Indonesian in general and non verbal predicates in particular

Evaluative Constructions in Italian Sign Language (LIS) Elena Fornasiero, 2023-09-18 The domain of evaluative morphology is vast and complex as it requires the combination of morphological semantic and pragmatic information to be understood Nevertheless cross linguistic studies on spoken languages show that languages share some patterns in the way they encode evaluative features It follows that investigating evaluative morphology in sign languages SLs can enrich the literature and offer new insights This book provides descriptive and theoretical contributions by considering Italian Sign Language LIS as empirical ground of investigation At the descriptive level the analysis of corpus and elicited data improves the description of morphological processes in LIS as well as typological studies on evaluative morphology by adding the patterns of a visuo gestural language At the theoretical level the study shows the benefit of combining different approaches Generative Linguistics Linguistic Typology Cognitive Linguistics for the exploration of evaluative constructions in SLs as it allows to identify both modality specific and modality independent properties In sum this book encourages the readers to rely on different data types analyses and theoretical perspectives to investigate linguistic phenomena in SLs
