Cultured Force Barnett Singer, John W. Langdon, 2004 Bridging gaps between intellectual history biography and military colonial history Barnett Singer and John Langdon provide a challenging readable interpretation of French imperialism and some of its leading figures from the early modern era through the Fifth Republic They ask us to rethink and reevaluate pulling away from the usual shoal of simplistic condemnation In a series of finely etched biographical studies and with much detail on both imperial culture and wars including World War I and II they offer a balanced deep strong portrait of key makers and defenders of the French Empire one that will surely stimulate much historical work in the field Algerian War and the French Army, 1954-62 Martin S. Alexander, Martin Evans, J.F.V. Keiger, 2002-08-21 The Algerian War 1954-62 was one of the most prolonged and violent examples of decolonization At times horribly savage it was an undeclared war in the sense that no formal declaration of hostilities was ever made Bringing to an end one hundred and thirty two years of French rule the Algerian struggle caused the fall of six French prime ministers the collapse of the Fourth Republic and expulsion of one million French settlers This volume bringing together leading experts in the field focuses on one of the key actors in the drama the French army They show that the Algerian War was just as much about conflicts of ideas beliefs and loyalties as it was about simple military operations In this way the collection goes beyond polemic and recrimination to explore the many and varied nuances of what was one of the historically most important of the grand style colonial wars Operation

Suicide Robert Lyman, 2013-11-05 During the Second World War it is hard to imagine a situation where the British High Command could think that one of the only ways they could attack Hitler was to send ten canoeists with limpet mines to paddle one hundred miles up the Gironde estuary in the middle of winter in an attempt to sink German blockade ships in Bordeaux harbor Yet this is precisely what happened in 1942 The man who gave the go ahead for the audacious commando raid Lord Louis Mountbatten head of Combined Operations fully anticipated that all ten men would die in the attempt Mountbatten wasn't far wrong two ripped their collapsible canoes as they were manhandling them out of the submarine two drowned when their canoes capsized entering the Gironde estuary and a further six were captured by the Germans and later executed By complete chance the two canoeists who managed to escape Major Blondie Hasler and Marine Bill Sparks stumbled into the arms of the French resistance Once in their care Hasler and Sparks made their way across France and into Spain crossing the Pyrenees in the company though they did not know it of a Gestapo agent intent on bringing down the resistance network Operation Suicide is the first account of this enthralling raid for over fifty years In utilizing primary source material including detailed German records captured by the British in 1944 which remained censored until 1976 Robert Lyman brings to life one of the most courageous and dramatic events to take place in the darkest days of the Second World War

A History of the Dora Camp Andre Sellier,2003-05-27 In mid 1943 Nazi Germany entered a crisis from which it was to emerge vanquished Faced with a shortage of manpower in armaments factories the Third Reich sent concentration camp prisoners to work as slaves While the genocide of the Jews and the Gypsies continued at extermination camps numerous outside Kommandos were set up in the vicinity of the large concentration camps The Dora Camp located in the center of Germany was one of the most notorious Originally a mere Kommando attached to Buchenwald it became one of the largest Nazi concentration camps There prisoners were put to work in a huge underground factory building V 2 rockets the secret weapon developed by German scientists in an attempt to reverse the course of the war under the direction of Wernher von Braun In this dispassionate but powerful account Andr Sellier himself a former prisoner at Dora tells the dramatic story of the camp the tunnel factory and the underground work sites He has utilized all available documents as well as unpublished testimony from several dozen fellow prisoners He recounts the horrors of everyday life at Dora prisoners dying by the hundreds and indescribable suffering and the murderous evacuation of the camp by railroad convoys and death marches which took place in early 1945 and led to the death of thousands of prisoners Illustrated with 20 pages of photographs and drawings and 24 maps

The Unfree French Richard Vinen,2006-01-01 The swift and unexpected defeat of the French Army in 1940 shocked the nation Two million soldiers were taken prisoner six million civilians fled from the German army's advance to join convoys of confused and terrified refugees and only a few managed to escape the country The vast majority of French people were condemned to years of subjugation under Nazi and Vichy rule This compelling book investigates the impact of the occupation on the people of France and dispels any lingering notion that somehow under the collaborating government of Marshal P tain life was quite tolerable for most French citizens Richard Vinen describes the inescapable fear and the moral quandaries that permeated life in German controlled France Focusing on the experiences of the least privileged he shows how chronic shortages desperate compromises fear of displacement racism and sadistic violence defined their lives Virtually all adult males festered in POW camps or were sent to work in the Reich With numerous enthralling anecdotes and a variety of maps and evocative photographs The Unfree French makes it possible for the first time to understand how average people in France really lived from 1940 to 1945 why their experiences differed from region to region and among various groups and why they made the choices they did during the occupation

A Legion Para in Algeria Peter Hoskins, 2022-10-18 Tony Hunter Choat had a long and distinguished career in the British Army including as CO of 23rd SAS Regiment This book tells the story of his formative years as a paratrooper with the elite 1st Foreign Parachute Regiment 1st REP of the French Foreign Legion between 1957 and 1962 before he joined the British Army In March 1957 the 21 years old Tony Hunter Choat took the momentous decision to abandon his architectural studies which he was close to completing and join the Foreign Legion He pawned his few possessions of value and used the proceeds to pay for his passage to Paris to enlist In the training that followed he excelled and was selected for para training before joining the 1st REP considered an elite unit not just in the Foreign Legion but throughout the French Army Thus began an adventure which thrust him into the forefront of perhaps the most savage of post Second World War wars of decolonization and end of the European empires He quickly proved his worth and became the youngest NCO in the Foreign Legion In little more than two and a half years he had been promoted to

Sergeant The period of Tony's service saw him involved in ferocious combat which resulted in three awards of the Croix de la Valeur Militaire the Médaille Militaire and in due course appointment as Commander of the Légion d'Honneur a singular achievement for a Briton Tony served during a turbulent time for France with the return to power of General de Gaulle in the face of the threat of a military coup d'état and the Generals Putsch against de Gaulle in 1961 Tony was heavily involved in the Putsch with his regiment which was disbanded as a consequence of its key role The book is based on Tony's memoir A memoir which is modest but paints a vivid picture of combat in the Algerian War it also gives a most interesting and at times amusing insight into the values of the Legion and the everyday life of a legionnaire As a French general said at Tony's memorial service it was during his life in the Legion that through hardship and comradeship he learnt the hard way to be a man you can rely on loyal faithful terrible to his enemies generous to his friends However to understand Tony's story it needs to be seen within the context of the Algerian War Thus Tony's memoir is woven into an account of the political and military events of the time Also since many of the officers and NCOs with whom Tony served were battle hardened veterans who came to the Algerian War fresh from the disastrous French defeat in Indochina the book summarizes the exploits of the regiment in Indochina Suez and Algeria up until Tony joined it in late 1957

Field Marshal Von Manstein Marcel Stein, 2007-02 Most military historians are in agreement that Feldmarschall Erich von Manstein was the most outstanding German high commander of the Second World War Many view him as the foremost exponent of large scale mobile operations in any of the Second World War armies Surprisingly no biography of him has yet been written To this day his family refuses to release the papers of his estate to the German military archives at Freiburg Furthermore the contradictions in the personality of von Manstein make it difficult to generate a synthesis On one side there is an extraordinary military talent on the other many political and moral aspects His military achievements stand in sharp contrast to his inhumane policy of occupation in Russia his active participation in the slaughter of Jews in Southern Ukraine and the Crimea and his ambivalent attitude to the military resistance movement These contradictions have led the author to describe Manstein as the Janushead the term chosen for the title of the book He has not written a traditional biography but a portrait A complete account of all phases of Manstein's career is given in one chapter seven more chapters deal extensively with milestones in Manstein's career his successful plan for the battle of France which led to the defeat of the French Army in less than one month his dereliction of duty during the battle for Stalingrad his hubris which led to the disaster of the battle for Kursk his refusal to take part in the military resistance movement his compliance with the Commissar order and his involvement in the Holocaust he author has widened the subject well beyond the personality of its central figure It shows how the Nazi system step by step succeeded in perverting the centuries old traditions of the Prussian and German officer corps Fracture David Longridge,2022-01-28 It is 1961 and General de Gaulle has returned to lead France as the war in Algeria reaches its climax

The Americanization of France Barnett Singer,2013-04-18 This engaging knowledgeable book traces the American path France has followed since resolving its searing Algerian conflict in 1962 Barnett Singer convincingly demolishes two pervasive clichés about modern France first that the country never has been fit to fight wars including wars on terror and second that the French have always been and remain overwhelmingly anti American Drawing on a wealth of archival sources Barnett Singer clearly demonstrates that a serious and organized France fought strongly until its own divisions international pressures and the actions of de Gaulle ended the conflict with tragic consequences The outcome led to an important sea change clearing the way for France to embrace American culture especially rock n roll and more generally an American style emphasis on personal happiness The author argues that today's France wounded by the loss of traditions and stability is increasingly pro American clinging to trends from across the Atlantic as to a lifeline The Angel of Dien Bien Phu Genevieve de Heaulme,2010-10-15 Genevieve de Galard was a flight nurse for the French Air Force who received the name of the Angel of Dien Bien Phu during the French war in Indochina She volunteered for French Indochina and arrived there in May 1953 in the middle of the war between French forces and the Vietminh Galard was stationed in Hanoi and flew on casualty evacuation flights from Pleiku After January 1954 she was on the flights that evacuated casualties from the Battle of Dien Bien Phu Her first patients were mainly soldiers who suffered from diseases but after mid March most of them were battle casualties Sometimes Red Cross planes had to land in the midst of Vietminh artillery barrages On March 27 1954 when a Red Cross C 47 with Galard aboard tried to land at night on the short runway of Dien Bien Phu the landing overshot and the plane's left engine was seriously damaged The mechanics could not repair the plane in the field so the plane was stranded At daylight Vietminh artillery destroyed the C 47 and damaged the runway beyond repair Galard went to a field hospital under command of doctor Paul Grauwin and volunteered her services as a nurse Although the men of the medical staff were initially apprehensive she was the only woman in the base they eventually made accommodations for her They also arranged a semblance of uniform camouflage overalls trousers basketball shoes and a t shirt Galard did her best in very unsanitary conditions comforting those about to die and trying to keep up morale in the face of the mounting casualties Many of the men later complimented her efforts On the 29th of April 1954 Genevieve de Galard was awarded the Knight's Cross of the Legion d'Honneur and the Croix de Guerre It was presented to her by the commander of Dien Bien Phu General de Castries The following day during the celebration of the French Foreign Legion's annual Camerone de Galard was made an honorary Legionnaire de 1 re classe alongside Lieutenant Colonel Marcel Bigeard the commander of the 6th Colonial Parachute Battalion French troops at Dien Bien Phu finally capitulated on May 7 However the Vietminh allowed Galard and the medical staff continue to care for their wounded Galard still refused any kind of cooperation When some of the Vietminh begun to hoard medical supplies for their own use she hid some of them under her stretcher bed On May 24 Genevieve de Galard was evacuated to French held Hanoi partially against her will The American press gave her the name Angel of Dien Bien Phu She was given a tickertape parade up Broadway a standing ovation in Congress On 29 July 1954 President Eisenhower awarded her the Presidential Medal of Freedom during a ceremony in the White House Rose Garden She currently lives in Paris with her husband
