Heimat In Der Fremde:

Culture, Creativity and Environment Fiona Becket, Terry Gifford, 2007 Culture Creativity and Environment New Environmentalist Criticism is a collection of new work which examines the intersection between philosophy literature visual art film and the environment at a time of environmental crisis This book is unusual in the way in which the imaginative creative element is privileged notwithstanding the creativity of rigorous cultural criticism Genuinely interdisciplinary this book aims to be inclusive in its discussions of diverse cultural media different literary genres art forms and film for instance which offer thoughtful and thought provoking critiques of our relationships with the environment Our ability to transcend the ethical and aesthetic categories and discourses that have contributed to our alienation from our environment is dependant upon an enlargement of our imaginative capacities In a modest way this book might contribute to what Ted Hughes speaking of the imagination of each new child described as nature s chance to correct culture s error Phenomenology, Interpretation, and Community Lenore Langsdorf, Stephen H. Watson, E. Marya Bower, 1996-01-01 This collection examines the relationship between phenomenology interpretation and community considering the issues from several viewpoints including German idealism the discourses of the Frankfurt School and post structuralist thought 'Heimat' Friederike Eigler, Jens Kugele, 2012-10-01 The concept of Heimat with its seemingly pre or anti modern connotations of rootedness in a place of origin is central to a critical understanding of German history and culture Over the course of the past fifteen years scholars across a range of disciplines have found new ways to examine the changing notions of Heimat its multifaceted cultural literary and visual history its gendered connotations and its national and ideological appropriations This anthology is the first to examine cultural manifestations of Heimat by giving special consideration to issues of memory and space The contributions to this volume challenge static notions of place often associated with Heimat Instead they explore the social and cultural production of places of belonging as they emerge in literary and visual narratives ranging from 1800 to 2000 and beyond Although the anthology includes historical perspectives on Heimat its overall objective is not to trace its cultural or literary history but to place this complex term into new conceptual contexts Drawing attention to manifestations of Heimat within German literary and cultural studies provides a rich ground for exploring the transformation of locality in trans national contexts , Home in Transition Meike Watzlawik, 2023-10-01 This book presents an integrative perspective on home or Heimat showing that it is much more than the place we were born or where we live This book brings fresh theoretical and empirical perspectives on what home is and can be from different viewpoints The chapters invite the reader to face challenging questions of what we learn about Heimat when it is taken from us threatened left on purpose or when we set out on the journey to find one The chapters are written by psychologists throughout but are expanded in perspective by comments from the groups of people featured in the chapters who are thus given their own voice The book concludes with a suggestion on how to unite all the different perspectives within a general model rooted in cultural psychology All in all the reader of this volume gains an access to the most complex phenomenon of human existence that of home Impossible to define in terms of the scientific lore of psychology intuitively understandable in everyday life and basis for deep desires if the feeling of home is lost This book will be a rewarding read for professionals and students from cultural psychology cultural and psychological anthropology sociology and related disciplines asking the question of what home is and how individuals can be supported in finding it

The Lost German East Andrew Demshuk,2012-04-30 A fifth of West Germany's post 1945 population consisted of ethnic German refugees expelled from Eastern Europe a quarter of whom came from Silesia As the richest territory lost inside Germany's interwar borders Silesia was a leading objective for territorial revisionists many of whom were themselves expellees The Lost German East examines how and why millions of Silesian expellees came to terms with the loss of their homeland Applying theories of memory and nostalgia as well as recent studies on ethnic cleansing Andrew Demshuk shows how over time most expellees came to recognize that the idealized world they mourned no longer existed Revising the traditional view that most of those expelled sought a restoration of prewar borders so they could return to the east Demshuk offers a new answer to the question of why after decades of violent upheaval peace and stability took root in West Germany during the tense early years of the Cold War

The German-Jewish Experience Revisited Steven E. Aschheim,Vivian Liska,2015-09-14 In the past decades the German Jewish phenomenon Derrida has increasingly attracted the attention of scholars from various fields Jewish studies intellectual history philosophy literary and cultural studies critical theory In all its complex dimensions the post enlightenment German Jewish experience is overwhelmingly regarded as the most quintessential and charged meeting of Jews with the project of modernity Perhaps for this reason from the eighteenth century through to our own time it has been the object of intense reflection of clashing interpretations and appropriations In both micro and macro case studies this volume engages the multiple perspectives as advocated by manifold interested actors and analyzes their uses biases and ideological functions over time in different cultural disciplinary and national contexts This volume includes both historical treatments of differing German Jewish understandings of their experience their relations to their Judaism general culture and to other Jews and contemporary reflections and competing interpretations as to how to understand the overall experience of German Jewry

Resettlers and Survivors Gaëlle Fisher,2020-04-09 Located on the border of present day Romania and Ukraine the historical region of Bukovina was the site of widespread displacement and violence as it passed from Romanian to Soviet hands and back again during World War II This study focuses on two groups of Bukovinians ethnic Germans and German speaking Jews as they navigated dramatically changed political and social circumstances in and after 1945 Through comparisons of the narratives and self conceptions of these groups Resettlers and Survivors gives a nuanced account of how they dealt with the difficult legacies of World War II while exploring Bukovina's significance for them as both a geographical location and a place of memory

Heidegger and Homecoming Robert Mugerauer,2008-10-21 Martin Heidegger's philosophical works devoted themselves to challenging previously held ontological notions of what constitutes being and much of his work focused on how beings interact within particular spatial locations. Frequently Heidegger used the motifs of homelessness and homecoming in order to express such spatial interactions and despite early and continued recognition of the importance of homelessness and homecoming this is the first sustained study of these motifs in his later works. Utilizing both literary and philosophical analysis Heidegger and Homecoming reveals the deep figural unity of the German philosopher's writings by exploring not only these homecoming and homelessness motifs but also the six distinctive voices that structure the apparent disorder of his works. In this illuminating and comprehensive study Robert Mugerauer argues that these motifs and Heidegger's many voices are required to overcome and replace conventional and linear methods of logic and representation. Making use of material that has been both neglected and yet to be translated into English Heidegger and Homecoming explains the elaborate means with which Heidegger proposed that humans are able to open themselves to others while at the same time preserve their self identity.

Phantoms of War in Contemporary German Literature, Films and Discourse A. Fuchs, 2008-01-09 Phantoms of War in Contemporary German Literature, Films and Discourse offers an up to date and comprehensive analysis of fundamental shifts in German cultural memory. Focusing on the resurgence of family stories in fiction, autobiography and in film, this study challenges the institutional boundaries of Germany's memory culture that have guided and arguably limited German identity debates. Essays on contemporary German literature are complemented by explorations of heritage films and museum discourse. Together these essays put forward a compelling theory of family narratives and a critical evaluation of generational discourse.

Palimpsests in Ethnic and Postcolonial Literature and Culture Yiorgos D. Kalogeras, Johanna C. Kardux, Monika Mueller, Jopi Nyman, 2021-01-28 This volume explores ways in which the literary trope of the palimpsest can be applied to ethnic and postcolonial literary and cultural studies. Based on contemporary theories of the palimpsest, the innovative chapters reveal hidden histories and uncover relationships across disciplines and seemingly unconnected texts. The contributors focus on diverse forms of the palimpsest: the incarceration of Native Americans in military forts and their response to the elimination of their cultures; mnemonic novels that rework the politics and poetics of the Black Atlantic; the urban palimpsests of Rio de Janeiro, Marseille, Johannesburg and Los Angeles that reveal layers of humanity with disparities in origin, class, religion and chronology; and the palimpsestic configurations of mythologies and religions that resist strict cultural distinctions and argue against cultural relativism.

Rebirth of a Culture Hillary Hope Herzog, Todd Herzog, Benjamin Lapp, 2008-08-01 After 1945 Jewish writing in German was almost unimaginable and then only in reference to the Shoah. Only in the 1980s, after a period of mourning, silence and processing of the trauma, did a new Jewish literature evolve in Germany and Austria. This volume focuses on the re-emergence of a lively Jewish cultural scene in the German speaking countries and the various cultural forms of expression that have developed around it. Topics include current debates such as the emergence of a post-Waldheim Jewish discourse in Austria and Jewish responses to German unification and the Gulf wars Other significant themes addressed are the memorialization of the Holocaust in Berlin and Vienna the uses of Kafka in contemporary German literature and the German and American Jewish dialogue as representative of both the history of exile and the globalization of postmodern civilization The volume is enhanced by contributions from some of the most significant representatives of German Jewish writing today such as Esther Dischereit Barbara Honigmann Jeanette Lander and Doron Rabinovici The result is a lively dialogue between European and North American scholars and writers that captures the complexity and dynamism of Jewish culture in Germany and Austria at the turn of the twenty first century

PETER DER GROSSE UND SEIN SOHN ALEREI Dmitry Sergeyevich Merezhkovsky, 1918 Heimat Goes Mobile Gabriele Eichmanns, Yvonne Franke, 2013-07-26 Heimat has been a crucial concept for the construction of identity in the German speaking world Seemingly impossible to translate Heimat has served to describe feelings of comfort and belonging that are traditionally tied to a specific location be it one's place of birth or childhood home Yet in a world characterized by ever increasing global influences and a fast paced lifestyle the notion of Heimat as a static inflexible and rather exclusionary idea is becoming more and more obsolete and is giving way to new hybrid Heimat forms that encompass traditional as well as foreign elements Thus Heimat can no longer be perceived as a solely German concept but is rapidly merging binary opposites shaping Germans understandings of home in new and unexpected ways The nine essays in this anthology explore these hybrid forms of Heimat in our globalized world from multiple angles Some take a look at traditional genres of Heimat like the Heimatfilm or Heimatroman and examine how contemporary filmmakers Tom Tykwer Fatih Akın and authors Hans Ulrich Treichel Hugo Loetscher have appropriated those genres to arrive at an updated version of Heimat in the 21st century Other articles focus on gendered readings of Heimat and show how Mo Asumang's Roots Germania and Ula Stckl's Das alte Lied emancipate the term from its nurturing motherly qualities and instead provide women including women of color with powerful agency Finally contributors explore Heimat in the regional and historical contexts of East and West Germany Switzerland and Romania In the process this anthology inscribes itself into the ongoing discourse on Heimat and enriches it by showing how the current notion of Heimat transcends traditional boundaries of nation culture and race Wilhelm Raabe Dirk Göttsche, Florian Krobb, 2009 Wilhelm Raabe 1831-1910 is one of the major figures of 19th century German Realist writing acknowledged as an innovator both stylistically and thematically But until now there has been little concentration on the international and postcolonial dimensions of Raabe's work his literary critique of colonialism his engagement with modernization and globalization his involvement in 19th century German discourses about America Africa and Asia and the links between international and national issues in his writing In Raabe International contributions from many eminent critics address Raabe both as a writer on world affairs and as a subject himself for translation and comment outside of Germany Beyond epic simplicity : the intersection of literature, philosophy and science in Musil's man without qualities Todd Curtis Kontje, German Migrant Historians in North America Karen Hagemann, Konrad H.

Jaraus,2024-11-01 The migration experiences career paths and scholarship of historians born in Germany who started emigrating to North America in the 1950s have had a unique impact on the transatlantic practice of Central European History German Migrant Historians in North America analyzes the experiences of this postwar group of scholars and asks what informed their education and career choices and what motivated them to emigrate to North America The contributors reflect on how these migration experiences informed their own research and teaching and particularly discuss the more general development of the transatlantic exchange between German and American historians in the scholarship on Modern Central European History Wanderer in 19th-century German Literature Andrew Cusack,2008 Using a method based on New Historicism but with added emphasis on literature as cultural commentary Andrew Cusack s study traces the motif s intertextual connections how it receives meaning from non literary discourses and how it transmits meaning into the social sphere by molding individual and collective self conceptions The study draws on a corpus of ten prose narratives that reflect the vast scope of the motif and show how its function changes The study pays scrupulous attention to the historical specificity of each work and to its relationship to contemporary aesthetic and philosophical currents revealing the wanderer motif to be a significant vehicle of cultural memory that sustained the ideas of the Enlightenment and of Romanticism into the latter part of the century BOOK JACKET Die ahnen Gustav Freytag,1909 Migration and Organized Civil Society Dirk Halm,Zeynep Sezgin,2013-05-07 Migrant organizations are of vital importance for countries of residence and countries of origin but the empirical and theoretical knowledge of the cross border character of migrant organizations remains incomplete It is clear that migrant transnationalism challenges the governance of nation states on the local and national levels This book the outcome of an ECPR joint session systematically and empirically analyzes the differing roles that transnational migrant organizations play in their countries of residence and origin Drawing on research conducted in Belgium England Germany Holland Poland and Portugal it focuses on the relations between migrant organizations and the state Offering an opportunity for comparative analysis it also examines why migrants and their organizations engage in different forms of border crossing activities and how various political systems influence and are influenced by these forms of engagement Migration and Organized Civil Society will be of strong interest to students and researchers of political science political sociology migration studies transnationalism and Diaspora studies
