Heimat North America English And German:

Heimat North America Bert Lachner,1997 German Monuments in the Americas Hans A. Pohlsander,2010 This book looks at the many transatlantic bonds which have linked and still link Germany and the United States German immigrants to the Americas brought with them a good deal of cultural baggage They cultivated their German heritage in their schools churches and clubs They expressed pride in this heritage by erecting monuments to Goethe or Schiller Beethoven or Wagner Alexander von Humboldt or Turnvater Jahn They claimed Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben Carl Schurz Gustave Koerner and John A Roebling as their own But German born or German trained sculptors did not limit themselves to German subjects They also paid tribute to America by creating sculptures of Benjamin Franklin George Washington Thomas Jefferson Abraham Lincoln and others who occupy a place of honor in American history While a few German monuments can be found in Canada and in Latin America the number of German monuments in the United States is surprisingly large These monuments illustrate the contribution often overlooked or ignored of the German American community to American society and American cultural life Vernacular Modernism Maiken Umbach,Bernd-Rüdiger Hüppauf,2005 Vernacular Modernism advocates a rethinking of the importance of the vernacular as part of the modernist discourse of place from art to literature from architectural to social practice Homes and Homecomings K. H. Adler,Carrie Hamilton,2011-07-12 In Homes and Homecomings an international group of scholars provide inspiring new historical perspectives on the politics of homes and homecomings Using innovative methodological and theoretical approaches the book examines case studies from Africa Asia the Americas and Europe Provides inspiring new historical perspectives on the politics of homes and homecomings Takes an historical approach to a subject area that is surprisingly little historicised Features original research from a group of international scholars The book has an international approach that focuses on Africa Asia the Americas and East and West Europe Contains original illustrations of homes in a variety of historical contexts German Ecocriticism in the Anthropocene Caroline Schaumann,Heather I. Sullivan,2017-04-18 This book offers essays on both canonical and non canonical German language texts and films advancing ecocritical models for German Studies and introducing environmental issues in German literature and film to a broader audience This volume contextualizes the broad ranging topics and authors in terms of the Anthropocene beginning with Goethe and the Romantics and extending into twenty first century literature and film Addressing the growing need for environmental awareness in an international humanities curriculum this book complements ecocritical analyses emerging from North American and British studies with a specifically German Studies perspective opening the door to a transnational understanding of how the environment plays an integral role in cultural political and economic issues The Nation as a Local Metaphor Alon Confino,2000-11-09 All nations make themselves up as they go along but not all make themselves up in the same way In this study Alon Confino explores how Germans turned national and argues that they imagined the nation as an extension of their local place In 1871 the work of political unification had been completed but Germany remained a patchwork of regions with different histories and traditions Germans had to construct a national memory to reconcile the peculiarities of the region and the totality of the nation This identity project examined by Confino as it evolved in the southwestern state of Württemberg oscillated between failure and success The national holiday of Sedan Day failed in the 1870s and 1880s to symbolically commingle localness and nationhood Later the idea of the Heimat or homeland did prove capable of representing interchangeably the locality the region and the nation in a distinct national narrative and in visual images The German nationhood project was successful argues Confino because Germans made the nation into an everyday local experience through a variety of cultural forms including museums school textbooks popular poems travel guides posters and postcards But it was not unique Confino situates German nationhood within the larger context of modernity and in doing so he raises broader questions about how people in the modern world use the past in the construction of identity

Debating German Cultural Identity Since 1989 Kathleen

James-Chakraborty, Linda Shortt, 2011 Interdisciplinary views of the debates over and transformation of German cultural identity since unification The events of 1989 and German unification were seismic historical moments Although 1989 appeared to signify a healing of the war torn history of the twentieth century unification posed the question of German cultural identity afresh Politicians historians writers filmmakers architects and the wider public engaged in memory contests over such questions as the legitimacy of alternative biographies West German hegemony and the normalization of German history This dynamic contested and still ongoing transformation of German cultural identity is the topic of this volume of new essays by scholars from the United Kingdom Germany the United States and Ireland It explores German cultural identity by way of a range of disciplines including history film studies architectural history literary criticism memory studies and anthropology avoiding a homogenized interpretation Charting the complex and often contradictory processes of cultural identity formation the volume reveals the varied responses that continue to accompany the project of unification Contributors Pertti Ahonen Aleida Assmann Elizabeth Boa Peter Fritzsche Anne Fuchs Deniz Gökçek Kathleen James Chakraborty Anja K. Raising Germans in the Age of Empire Jeff Bowersox, 2013-05-09 Raising Germans in the Age of Empire is a cultural history of the German colonial imagination around the turn of the twentieth century Looking beyond the colonialist movement it focuses on young Germans who grew up during this era and the various commercial and educational media through which they daily encountered the wider world Using their imaginary colonial encounters Jeff Bowersox explores how Germans young and old came to terms with a globalizing world Chapters on toys school instruction popular literature and the Boy Scouts or Pfadfinder reveal how Germans through mass consumer culture and mass education built a definitive association between colonial hierarchies and Germany's place in the modern age By 1914 this colonial sensibility had been accepted as common sense but it always remained flexible and vague It could be adapted to serve competing and contradictory purposes ranging from profit and pedagogical reform to nationalist mobilization and international socialist solidarity Thus as young Germans used images of imperialism to construct their own fantastical adventures adults tried to use those same images to ward off the worst excesses of industrial modernity and to mold young people into capable and productive citizens The result was a chaotic multitude of imagined empires vying for space in the public arena as Germans debated how best to raise the next generation of children Raising Germans in the Age of Empire explains how colonial visions not only shaped Germans engagement with globalization but also determined how they understood themselves as a modern nation

Injurious Vistas: The Control of Outdoor Advertising, Governance and the Shaping of Urban Experience in Britain, 1817-1962 James Greenhalgh, 2021-09-08 This book is a history of outdoor advertising control in Britain between the early nineteenth century and the beginning of the 1960s It considers the development of primarily legislative and governmental approaches to controlling commercial signage billboards posters and hoardings in rural and urban areas This study of how the proliferation of outdoor advertising was dramatically curtailed serves as a means to examine how the understanding and governance of lived spaces developed over a century and a half In the early nineteenth century outdoor advertising was just another material nuisance to regimes of improvement by the turn of the century it was reframed as a threat to architecture rural beauty and codes of moral self governance In the twentieth century it disrupted visual amenity and destabilized the civilizing influence of modern planning More than merely a history of a radical and largely overlooked change in the visual environment this is the story of how the modern state saw and regulated the lived spaces of Britain Indianthusiasm Hartmut Lutz, Florentine Strzelczyk, Renae Watchman, 2020-01-07 Indianthusiasm refers to the European fascination with and fantasies about Indigenous peoples of North America and has its roots in nineteenth century German colonial imagination Often manifested in romanticized representations of the past Indianthusiasm has developed into a veritable industry in Germany and other European nations there are Western and so called Indian theme parks and a German hobbyist scene that attract people of all social backgrounds and ages to join camps and clubs that practise beading powwow dancing and Indigenous lifestyles Containing interviews with twelve Indigenous authors artists and scholars who comment on the German fascination with North American Indigenous Peoples Indianthusiasm is the first collection to present Indigenous critiques and assessments of this phenomenon The volume connects two disciplines and strands of scholarship German Studies and Indigenous Studies focusing on how Indianthusiam has created both barriers and opportunities for Indigenous peoples with Germans and in Germany The Directory of Museums & Living Displays Kenneth Hudson, Ann Nicholls, 1985-06-18 The Zoological Record, 1997 Citizens in a Strange Land Hermann Wellenreuther, 2013-08-05 In Citizens in a Strange Land Hermann Wellenreuther examines the broadsides printed single sheets produced by the Pennsylvania German community These broadsides covered topics ranging from local controversies and politics to devotional poems and hymns Each one is a product of and reaction to a particular historical setting To understand them fully Wellenreuther systematically reconstructs Pennsylvania's print culture the material conditions of life the problems German settlers faced the demands their communities made on the individual settlers the complications to be overcome and the needs to be satisfied He shows how these broadsides provided advice projections and comment on phases of life from cradle to grave Home and Homeland in Asian Diaspora Kyunghee Pyun, Jean Amato, 2024-07-21 While many of us may strive to locate a sense of identity and belonging expressed via a home or ancestral homeland today however this connection is no longer if it ever was a straightforward identification This collection aims at mapping narratives or artwork of home homeland that present shared private multifaceted and often contested experiences of place especially in the context of today's migrations and upheavals along with alarming degrees of increased nativism racism and anti Asian violence This volume includes papers by artists filmmakers and comparative scholars from diverse disciplines of literature cinema art history cultural studies and gender studies Our goal is to help literary and art historian scholars in Asian diaspora studies better decolonize and open up traditional research methodologies curricula and pedagogies The Open Court, a Monthly Magazine Paul Carus, 1899 The Open Court Paul Carus, 1899 vols 46 47 have special title New Orient Society monograph
