2. What is the central conflict in the story?
3. How does Faulkner use foreshadowing in the narrative?
4. What role does cultural tradition play in the story?
5. How does the setting influence the events of the story?
6. What is the significance of the title "A Courtship"?

EXPLORING THE DEPTHS:

Rhetorical Strategies and Structures

1. What motivates Ikemotable's actions throughout the courtship process, and how do his motivations reflect broader themes of masculinity and competition?
2. How does the relationship between Ikemotable and his uncle, Kowloblech, shape the narrative? What does this dynamic reveal about familial loyalty and rivalry?
3. In what ways does Faulkner depict the cultural practices of the Native American community in the story, and how do these practices influence the courtship rituals?
4. How does the setting of the Old South contribute to the themes of tradition and change in the story? What does Faulkner suggest about the intersection of indigenous and Southern cultures?
5. What commentary does Faulkner provide on the nature of love and desire through the competition for the woman's affection? How does this competition reflect societal expectations?
6. How does humor play a role in the narrative, and what does it reveal about the characters' perspectives on love and courtship?

7. What symbols are prominent in the story, and how do they enhance the reader's understanding of the characters' emotions and conflict?
8. How does Faulkner use nature and the environment as a backdrop for the courtship, and what significance does this have in the overall narrative?
9. How does the structure of the story, including its pacing and dialogue, contribute to the development of tension between the characters?
10. In what ways does Faulkner's narrative style affect the reader's engagement with the characters and their experiences?

SHARING THE DISCOVERIES:

Discussion and Writing

1. Explore the significance of the Old South setting in "A Courtship." Write a short narrative analyzing how the cultural and historical context of the region influences the themes and events of the story.
2. Analyze the role of the woman in the story. To what extent is she objectified by the male characters, and how does this affect the reader's perception of her? What does this suggest about Faulkner's treatment of gender dynamics?
3. How do the cultural differences between Ikemotable and David Hogganback shape their approaches to courting the woman? What do these differences reveal about their respective values and worldviews?
4. Imagine a scenario where Ikemotable and David's competition takes a more serious turn, leading to a confrontation that challenges the norms of "honorable" competition. Write a scene depicting this conflict and its aftermath.
5. Rewrite the ending of the story, focusing on the character of Leg-in-the-Creek. How might the narrative change if he were to play a more central role in the courtship, challenging the assumptions of the other characters?
