

An artistic illustration of Helen Keller. She is shown from the chest up, wearing a light-colored, high-collared dress with a large bow at the neck. Her dark hair is pulled back. She is holding a small pink rose in her right hand, bringing it close to her face as if smelling it. Her left hand is resting on an open book that contains Braille text. The background is a soft, warm wash of colors, primarily pinks and yellows, suggesting a gentle, hopeful atmosphere.

Humanitarianism and the Quantification of Human Needs Joël Glasman,2020-01-06 This book provides a historical inquiry into the quantification of needs in humanitarian assistance Needs are increasingly seen as the lowest common denominator of humanity Standard definitions of basic needs however set a minimalist version of humanity both in the sense that they are narrow in what they compare and that they set a low bar for satisfaction The book argues that we cannot understand humanitarian governance if we do not understand how humanitarian agencies made human suffering commensurable across borders in the first place The book identifies four basic elements of needs As a concept as a system of classification and triage as a material apparatus and as a set of standards Drawing on a range of archival sources including the United Nations Refugee Agency UNHCR M decins sans Fronti res MSF and the Sphere Project the book traces the concept of needs from its emergence in the 1960s right through to the present day and United Nations Secretary General Ban Ki moon s call for evidence based humanitarianism Finally the book assesses how the international governmentality of needs has played out in a recent humanitarian crisis drawing on field research on Central African refugees in the Cameroonian borderland in 2014 2016 This important historical inquiry into the universal nature of human suffering will be an important read for humanitarian researchers and practitioners as well as readers with an interest in international history and development

Helen Keller Dorothy Herrmann,1999-12-15 Draws on the archives of Helen Keller s estate and the unpublished memoirs of Keller s teacher Annie Sullivan to trace Keller s transformation from a furious girl to a world renowned figure

The World's Largest Humanitarian Agency D. Shaw,2011-07-19 This book focuses on the transformation of the WFP into the world s largest humanitarian agency providing an in depth account of responses to increasingly large and complex natural and man made disasters It examines food aid and looks to the new modalities that are required to make food more available to those in dire need

Helen Keller Jane Sutcliffe,2002-01-01 Focuses on the early life of a woman who is well known for overcoming her handicaps of being both blind and deaf

The Role and Status of International Humanitarian Volunteers and Organizations Yves Beigbeder,2023-11-27 Since its birth with the creation of the international Red Cross in 1863 international humanitarian assistance has developed considerably since World War II In accordance with the Red Cross principle of humanity it aims at preventing and alleviating human suffering wherever it may be found protecting life and health and ensuring respect for the human being International humanitarian assistance involves a complex network of government agencies intergovernmental and non governmental organizations and individual volunteers it has been labelled a non system While governments and intergovernmental organizations play a dominant and structured role in this field the non governmental organizations and their volunteers have proved to be their necessary operational partners providing material medical and moral relief and care wherever it may be needed beyond borders at the grassroots level Following a brief review of recent humanitarian activities of intergovernmental organizations and an analysis of current trends of voluntarism this book focuses on the role status and attitudes of the major humanitarian non governmental organizations including the Red Cross organizations the British charities Church related agencies medical volunteers such as the French Doctors and U N volunteers Should humanitarian non governmental organizations provide relief assistance with the Red Cross concern for discretion neutrality and impartiality Or should they bear witness and denounce publicly human rights violations at the risk of being expelled from recipient countries and having to stop their assistance The controversial claim of a right to receive and a duty to provide humanitarian assistance beyond borders is also addressed as well as the possible need for a status to be accorded to international volunteers
