Poems and Lyrics of Nature Edith Wingate Rinder,1894 Synonyms and Antonyms: Or, Kindred Words and Their Opposites Charles John Smith,1895 The Lincoln Library of Essential Information ,1924 Twentieth Century Poetry Katharine O'Neill Maynard,1916 The Chronology of American Literature Daniel S. Burt,2004 If you are looking to brush up on your literary knowledge check a favorite author's work or see a year's bestsellers at a glance The Chronology of American Literature is the perfect resource At once an authoritative reference and an ideal browser's guide this book outlines the indispensable information in America's rich literary past from major publications to lesser known gems while also identifying larger trends along the literary timeline Who wrote the first published book in America When did Edgar Allan Poe achieve notoriety as a mystery writer What was Hemingway's breakout title With more than 8 000 works by 5 000 authors The Chronology makes it easy to find answers to these questions and more Authors and their works are grouped within each year by category fiction and nonfiction poems drama literary criticism and publishing events Short concise entries describe an author's major works for a particular year while placing them within the larger context of that writer's career The result is a fascinating glimpse into the evolution of some of America's most prominent writers Perhaps most important The Chronology offers an invaluable line through our literary past tying literature to the American experience war and peace boom and bust and reaction to social change You'll find everything here from Benjamin Franklin's Experiments and Observations on Electricity to Davy Crockett's first memoir from Thoreau's Civil Disobedience to Edith Wharton's Ethan Frome from meditations by James Weldon Johnson and James Agee to poetry by Elizabeth Bishop Also included here are seminal works by authors such as Rachel Carson Toni Morrison John Updike and Arthur Schlesinger Jr Lavishly illustrated and rounded out with handy bestseller lists throughout the twentieth century lists of literary awards and prizes and authors birth and death dates The Chronology of American Literature belongs on the shelf of every bibliophile and literary enthusiast It is the essential link to our literary past and present

Flame and Shadow Sara Teasdale, 2019-11-22 In her poignant collection Flame and Shadow Sara Teasdale explores the dualities of human experience passion and despair light and darkness through a lyrical style that marries emotional intensity with masterful craftsmanship Published in 1920 this work is a testament to the modernist movement drawing on rich imagery and musicality to delve into themes of love loss and existential reflection Teasdale's use of succinct verses and evocative language creates a tapestry of sentiments that resonates deeply speaking to the complexities of the human condition in a post war context Sara Teasdale an eminent figure in early 20th century American poetry was deeply influenced by her personal experiences of love and inner turmoil Her journey as a poet was marked by a search for meaning in an era rife with change and upheaval including her struggles with relationships and her battle with depression These elements are inseparable from her work lending authenticity and profundity to her exploration of flame as a symbol of passion and shadow as a metaphor for sorrow Flame and Shadow is a compelling choice for readers seeking to understand the softer nuances of emotional landscapes Teasdale's ability to encapsulate complex feelings in concise stanzas makes this collection a timeless reflection on the human experience I recommend it to anyone drawn to the depths of poetry that resonates with beauty and the bittersweet realities of life

Modern Archaics Shengqing Wu, 2020-10-26 After the collapse of the Qing dynasty in 1911 and the rise of a vernacular language movement most scholars and writers declared the classical Chinese poetic tradition to be dead But how could a longstanding high poetic form simply grind to a halt even in the face of tumultuous social change In this groundbreaking book Shengqing Wu explores the transformation of Chinese classical style poetry in the early twentieth century Drawing on extensive archival research into the poetry collections and literary journals of two generations of poets and critics Wu discusses the continuing significance of the classical form with its densely allusive and intricately wrought style She combines close readings of poems with a depiction of the cultural practices their authors participated in including poetry gatherings the use of mass media international travel and translation to show how the lyrical tradition was a dynamic force fully capable of engaging with modernity By examining the works and activities of previously neglected poets who maintained their commitment to traditional aesthetic ideals Modern Archaics illuminates the splendor of Chinese lyricism and highlights the mutually transformative power of the modern and the archaic Catalogue of the
