Feeling the Future at Christian End-Time Performances Jill C. Stevenson,2022-02-01 The End is always near The Apocalypse has sparked imaginations for millennia while in more recent times highly publicized predictions have thrust End Time theology briefly into the spotlight In the 21st century fictional depictions of various apocalyptic scenarios are found in an endless stream of films TV shows and novels while real world media coverage of global issues including climate change and the migrant crisis often features an apocalyptic tone Feeling the Future at Christian End Time Performances explores this prevalent human desire to envision the End by analyzing how various live End Time performances allow people to live in and through future time The book s main focus is contemporary Christian End Time performances and how they theatrically construct encounters with future time not just images or ideas of a future but viscerally and immediately real experiences of future time Author Jill Stevenson s examples are Hell Houses and Judgement Houses Rapture House a similarly styled walk through drama in North Carolina Hell s Gates an outdoor reality drama in Dawsonville Georgia Ark Encounter a full size recreation of Noah s Ark and Tribulation Trail an immersive thirteen scene drama ministry based on the Book of Revelation The book s coda considers similarities between these Christian performances and secular survivalist prepper events especially with respect to constructions of and language about time In doing so the author situates these performances within a larger tradition that challenges traditional secular sacred distinctions and illuminates how the End Times has been employed in our current social and political moment

Marie Griffith,Melani McAlister,2008-06-09 This collection of essays from a special issue of American Quarterly explores the complex and sometimes contradictory ways that religion matters in contemporary public life Religion and Politics in the Contemporary United States offers a groundbreaking cross disciplinary conversation between scholars in American studies and religious studies The contributors explore numerous modes through

Jackson, 2009-03-15

This book explores the history of evangelical culture that began during the Great Awakening revealing its profound impact on the development of media in America Richard Matheson's Monsters June M. Pulliam, Anthony J. Fonseca, 2016-02-02

Richard Matheson was one of the leading writers of science fiction fantasy and horror in the twentieth century Matheson's most famous early works the novels I Am Legend 1954 and The Shrinking Man 1956 both depict traditionally masculine figures thrust into extraordinary situations Other thought provoking novels including Hell House 1971 Bid Time Return 1975 and What Dreams May Come 1978 as well as short stories and screenplays convey the ambiguous status of masculinity how men should behave vis vis women and what role they should occupy in the family dynamic and in society at large In Richard Matheson's Monsters: Gender in the Stories, Scripts, Novels, and Twilight Zone Episodes June M Pulliam and Anthony J Fonseca examine how this groundbreaking author's writings shed light on society's ever shifting attitudes on masculinity and domesticity In this first full length critical study of Matheson's entire literary output the authors discuss how I Am Legend The Shrinking Man and other works question traditional male roles The authors examine how Matheson's scripts for The Twilight Zone represented changing expectations in male behavior with the onset of the sexual and feminist revolutions industrialization and globalization and other issues In a society where gender roles are questioned every day Matheson's work is more relevant than ever Richard Matheson's Monsters will be of interest to scholars of literature film and television as well those interested in gender and masculinity studies Vanguard Performance: Beyond Left and Right Kimberly

Jannarone, 2015-11-06 Vanguard Performance: Beyond Left and Right challenges assumptions regarding radical and experimental performance that have long dominated thinking about the avant garde The book brings to light vanguard performances rarely discussed those that support totalitarian regimes promote conservative values or have been effectively snapped up by right wing regimes the performances intended to oppose In so doing the volume explores a central paradox how innovative performances that challenge oppressive power structures can also be deployed in deliberate passionate support of oppressive power Essays by leading international scholars pose engaging questions about the historical avant garde vanguard acts and the complex role of artistic innovation and live performance in global politics Focusing on performances that work against progressive and democratic ideas including scripted drama staged suicide choral dance terrorism rallies and espionage the book demonstrates how many compelling performance ideals unification exaltation immersion are in themselves neither moral nor immoral they are only emotional and aesthetic urges that can be powerfully channeled into a variety of social and political outlets Performance, Cognitive Theory, and Devotional Culture J. Stevenson,2010-05-24 In Performance Cognitive Theory and Devotional Culture Jill Stevenson uses cognitive theory to explore the layperson s physical encounter with live religious performances and to argue that laypeople s interactions with other devotional media such as books and art objects may also have functioned like performance events By revealing the remarkable resonance between cognitive science and medieval visual theories Stevenson demonstrates how understanding medieval culture can enrich the study of performance generally She concludes by applying her theories of medieval performance culture to contemporary religious forms including creationist museums Hell Houses and megachurches The Advocate ,2002-07-23 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States Men with stakes Julia Wright,2016-01-01 Moves beyond a focus on gothic machinery and adaptations of literary gothic to consider television gothic in light of recent scholarship on the mode itself Ghosts in Popular Culture and Legend June Michele Pulliam,Anthony J. Fonseca,2016-09-26 With entries that range from specific works to authors folklore and popular culture including music film television urban legend and gaming this book provides a single volume resource on all things ghostly in the United States and in other countries The concept of ghosts has been an ongoing and universal element in human culture as far back as recorded history can document In more modern popular culture and entertainment ghosts are a popular mainstay from A Christmas Carol and Casper the Friendly Ghost to The Amityville Horror Ghostbusters Poltergeist The Sixth Sense and Ghost Whisperer This book comprehensively examines ghost and spirit phenomena in all its incarnations to provide readers with a holistic perspective on the subject It presents insightful information about the contribution of a specific work or author to establish or further the evolution of ghost lore rather than concentrating solely on the film literature music or folklore itself The book focuses on ghosts in western culture but also provides information about spirit phenomena and lore in international settings as many of the trends in popular culture dealing with ghosts and spirits are informed by authors and filmmakers from Germany Japan Korea and the United Kingdom The writers and editors are experts and scholars in the field and enthusiastic fans of ghost lore ghost films ghost hunting and urban legends resulting in entries that are informative and engaging and make this the most complete and current resource on ghost and spirit lore available Preaching to Convert John Fletcher,2013-11-13 Preaching to Convert offers an intriguing new perspective on the outreach strategies of U S evangelicals framing them as examples of activist performance broadly defined as acts performed before an audience in the hopes of changing hearts and minds Most writing about activist performance has focused on left progressive causes events and actors Preaching to Convert argues against such a constricted view of activism and for a more nuanced understanding of U S evangelicalism as a movement defined by its desire to win converts and spread the gospel The book positions evangelicals as a diverse complicated group confronting the loss of conservative Christianity s default status in 21st century U S culture In the face of an increasingly secular age evangelicals have been reassessing models of outreach In acts like handing out Bible tracts to strangers on the street or going door to door with a Bible in hand in elaborately staged horror themed morality plays or multimillion dollar creationist discovery centers in megachurch services beamed to dozens of satellite campuses and in controversial ex gay ministries striving to return gays and lesbians to the straight and narrow evangelicals are redefining what it means to be deeply committed in a pluralist world The book s engaging style and careful argumentation make it accessible and appealing to scholars and students across a range of fields

Performance in Popular Culture Sharon Mazer,2023-08-31 Performance in Popular Culture reveals the intricate relationship between performance and popular culture by exploring how theatrical conventions and dramaturgical tropes have informed the way the social is constructed for popular consumption Staged as a series of case studies this book considers the diverse ways the social is imagined and produced in live and mediated performances in images and texts in interactive experiences and in cultural institutions By looking at performance in popular culture the world we live in becomes more visible open to investigation and perhaps to change Performance in Popular Culture engages a wide range of disciplines and theoretical frameworks performance theatre and cultural studies comparative literature and media studies gender and sexuality critical race and post colonial theories Designed for accessibility at an undergraduate level the case studies make use of visual materials moving images and texts that are readily available to lecturers and students to scholars and to the general public Theatre and the Macabre

Theatre and the Macabre Meredith Conti,Kevin J. Wetmore, Jr.,2022-03-01 The macabre as a process and product has been haunting the theatre and more broadly performance for thousands of years In its embodied meditations on death and dying its thematic and aesthetic grotesquerie and its sensory rich environments macabre theatre invites artists and audiences to trace the stranger darker contours of human existence In this volume numerous scholars explore the morbid and gruesome onstage from freak shows to the French Grand Guignol from Hell Houses to German Trauerspiel from immersive theatre to dark tourism stopping along the way to look at phantoms severed heads dark rides haunted mothers and haunting children dances of death and dismembered bodies From Japan to Australia to England to the United States the global macabre is framed and juxtaposed to understand how the theatre brings us face to face with the deathly and the horrific U.S. Militarism and the Terrain of

Memory John Bechtold,2024-08-01 This book analyzes how the Iraqi city of Fallujah became registered as a setting for military heroics in American memory In 2004 the U S military conducted two disastrous assaults in Fallujah Iraq More than 1 000 citizens were killed and according to the military's own estimate upwards of 200 000 people were displaced because of the violence. Yet despite this human catastrophe the kind of information that emerged in the public domain during the battle foregrounded the soldier's experience in war while effacing the destruction of Iraqi bodies. This tendency to foreground the soldier body is a direct result of the military's intervention in what they conceptualize as the information environment. This book draws from the second assault in Fallujah as a case study to explicate the military's investment in this perspectival space which is a consequence both of the mediatization of contemporary war and of the need to influence knowledge considered unfavorable to military operations. In short the military enlists the media in their targeting process to produce information that is then deployed as persuasive force to modify the beliefs of specific target populations. When the cultural texts produced by the media are remediated in the public domain after war they can be thought of as martial constructs because they originated during war through the military's systemized attempt to influence knowledge. That is these texts trace to a specific battlefield objective. This book reframes the notion of propaganda as a generalized public relations strategy into a more acute and coordinated attempt to decontextualize specific knowledge in the information environment. This book will be of much interest to students of media and communication studies, war studies, memory studies and international relations.
