Ecology And Human Need:

Ecology and Human Need Thomas Sieger Derr, 1975

The Greening of Protestant Thought Robert Booth

Fowler, 2000-11-09 The Greening of Protestant Thought traces the increasing influence of environmentalism on American Protestantism since the first Earth Day which took place in 1970 Robert Booth Fowler explores the extent to which ecological concerns permeate Protestant thought and examines contemporary controversies within and between mainline and fundamentalist Protestantism over the Bible's teachings about the environment Fowler explores the historical roots of environmentalism in Protestant thought including debates over God's relationship to nature and the significance of the current environmental crisis for the history of Christianity Although he argues that mainline Protestantism is becoming increasingly green he also examines the theological basis for many fundamentalists hostility toward the environmental movement In addition Fowler considers Protestantism's policy agendas for environmental change as well as the impact on mainline Protestant thinking of modern eco theologies process and creation theologies and ecofeminism A Theory of Human Need Len Doyal, Ian Gough, 1991-08-23 Rejecting fashionable subjectivist and cultural relativist approaches this important book argues that human beings have universal and objective needs for health and autonomy and a right to their optimal satisfaction The authors develop a system of social indicators to show what such optimization would mean in practice and assess the records of a wide range of developed and underdeveloped economies in meeting their citizens needs

Heat, Greed and Human Need Ian Gough, 2017-10-27 This book builds an essential bridge between climate change and social policy Combining ethics and human need theory with political economy and climate science it offers a long term interdisciplinary analysis of the prospects for sustainable development and social justice Beyond green growth which assumes an unprecedented rise in the emissions efficiency of production it envisages two further policy stages vital for rich countries a progressive recomposition of consumption and a post growth ceiling on demand An essential resource for scholars and policymakers Rethinking Work and Learning Peter Willis, Stephen Mckenzie, Roger Harris, 2008-11-02

Rethinking a Sustainable Society Alan Mayne The world has already passed the midway point for achieving by 2015 the eight Millennium Development Goals for a more peaceful prosperous and just world that were set by the United Nations in the wake of its inspirational Millennium Declaration in 2000 These goals range from combating poverty hunger and disease to empowering women and ensuring environmental sustainability However Ban Ki Moon the United Nations Secretary General conceded in 2007 that progress to date has been mixed During 2008 the head of the United Nations World Food Programme cautioned that because of the surge in world commodity prices the program had insufficient money to stave off global malnutrition and the World Health Organization warned of a global crisis in water and sanitation Depressing news accounts accumulate about opportunities missed to achieve a fairer world order and ecological sustainability the manipulation of election results in Africa human rights abuses in China 4000 Americans dead and another nation torn apart by a senseless and protracted war in Iraq and weasel words by the world's political leadership in the lead up to negotiations for a climate change deal in 2009 that is supposed to stabilize global carbon dioxide emissions. It is clear that the parameters of the debates that drive progressive policy change urgently require repositioning and energizing. As is shown by the contributors to Rethinking work and learning experts in the humanities and social sciences HASS could have an important role to play in this process. Made in God's Image Regis A. Duffy, Angelus Gambatese, 1999. Congress. House. Committee on Agriculture, 1994. Ecosystem Management and Sustainability Robin Kundis Craig, John Copeland Nagle, Bruce Pardy, Oswald J. Schmitz, William K. Smith, Norman L. Christensen Jr, Janet Neuman, 2012-02-27

Ecosystem Management and Sustainability analyzes myriad human-initiated processes and tools developed to foster sustainable natural resource use, preservation, and restoration. It also examines how humans interact with plant, marine, and animal life in both natural and human-altered environments. Experts explain the complex ecosystem relationships that result from invasive species roads fencing and even our homes by addressing topics such as fire and groundwater management disturbance and ecosystem resilience Because most people in the 21st century live in urban environments the volume pays special attention to the ecology of cities with detailed coverage on topics ranging from urban agriculture to landscape architecture The volume focuses on how ecosystems across the world can be restored maintained and used productively and sustainably

Preservation Versus the People? Mathew Humphrey, 2002-08-15 The philosophy of nature preservation has focused on whether arguments for nature preservation should be centred on the value of nature itself ecocentrism or derived human benefits anthropocentrism This book argues that this way of thinking has been counter productive for environmental ethics

A Human Security Doctrine for Europe Marlies Glasius, Mary Kaldor, 2006-01-16 A Human Security Doctrine for Europe explores the actual needs of individual people in conflict areas rather than using a conventional institutional or geo political perspectives This new volume proposes that Europe should develop a new kind of human security capability that involves the military the police and civilians all working together to enforce law rather than to fight wars It argues that threats such as weapons of mass destruction or terrorism can only be countered if we address the insecurity of people in all parts of the world Many people in the world lead intolerably insecure lives In large parts of Africa the Balkans Central Asia and the Middle East men and women live in daily fear of violent attacks kidnapping rape extortion robbery or trafficking The existence of large military apparatuses does not create security indeed as in Iraq the use of regular military forces may only make things worse This stimulating study includes two chapters setting out the changed global context and proposing new approaches to security five regional studies on the Balkans the Great Lakes Region the Middle East the South Caucasus and West Africa four studies on different aspects of EU security policy including the legal setting the role of women operational principles and the role of the new member states four operational studies on capabilities resources and institutional embedding Written by a diverse team of international experts this book will be of strong interest to students and researchers of security studies peace studies human rights and international relations

The Promise of Green Politics Douglas Torgerson, 1999 An exploration of the relationship between the means and the ends in green politics

The Ecological Transition John W. Bennett, 2017-09-29 Written during the height of the ecology movement The Ecological Transition is a stunning interdisciplinary work It combines anthropology ecology and sociology to formulate an understanding of cultural environmental relationships While anthropologists have been studying relationships between humans and the physical environment for a very long time only in the last thirty years have questions inherent in these relationships broadened beyond description and classification For example the concept of environment has been extended beyond the physical into the social Although anthropologists have adopted many of the concepts that Bennett develops in the book he also feels that the central issues have never been addressed either by anthropologists or by people in related disciplines The most important of these in Bennett's opinion is the failure to incorporate a respect for the environmental in contemporary culture which would allow making exceptions in certain human practices in order to protect the environment His point in The Ecological Transition is that a basic cultural change in modern civilization is necessary to achieve this end Both a theoretical and a practical work The Ecological Transition emphasizes the relationships between human culture the physical environment technology and social policy The Ecological Transition is a challenging volume that makes us face the consequences of human behavior in the modern world its effect on pollution natural resources agriculture the economy and population to name just a few areas The book remains a significant contribution to the discourse on social economic and environmental problems While the book was first published in 1976 it still reads as a contemporary tract

Global Changes Luca Valera, Juan Carlos Castilla, 2019-11-01 This book offers an authoritative analysis of the challenges that have arisen as a result of modern technologies It covers several environmental problems such as climate change overexploitation of natural resources loss of natural habitats pollution and human population growth and discusses practical scenarios for sustainable human dwelling of our planet Adopting an interdisciplinary approach the first part introduces global changes describing how they are happening in reality and the challenges arising from them The second part introduces methodological approaches borrowed from various disciplines such as engineering management science philosophy and theology which can help deal with the contemporary challenges resulting from global changes Lastly the third part discusses some of the themes presented in the light of novel concepts such as the Anthropocene and includes interesting proposals and ideas about how human beings could dwell the Earth in this new age Offering a comprehensive theoretical reflection on the relation between technology environment and human beings it also provides a practice oriented guide for researchers and decision makers working on a new ethical paradigm of acting in the Anthropocene Religion in the Anthropocene Celia

Deane-Drummond, Sigurd Bergmann, Markus Vogt, 2018-01-01 Religion in the Anthropocene charts a new direction in humanities scholarship through serious engagement with the geopolitical concept of the Anthropocene Drawing on religious studies theology social science history philosophy and what can be broadly termed as environmental humanities this collection represents a groundbreaking critical analysis of diverse narratives on the Anthropocene The contributors to this volume recognize that the Anthropocene began as a geological concept the age of the humans but that its implications are much wider than this Does the Anthropocene idea challenge the possibility of a sacred Nature or is it a secularized theological anthropology more properly dealt with through traditional concepts from Roman Catholic social teaching on human ecology Not all contributors to this volume agree about the answers to these and many more different questions Readers will be challenged provoked and stimulated by this book Bulletin of the American Meteorological Society American Meteorological Society, 1920 List of members in v 1 8 Real Geography and Its Place in the Schools Harold Wellman Fairbanks, 1927
