Chinese Economists on Economic Reform - Collected Works of Ma Hong Ma Hong, 2013-12-04 This book is part of a series which makes available to English speaking audiences the work of the individual Chinese economists who were the architects of China's economic reform The series provides an inside view of China's economic reform revealing the thinking of the reformers themselves unlike many other books on China's economic reform which are written by outside observers Ma Hong 1920-2007 was one of the leading advocates for China's market oriented reforms one of the earliest scholars to adopt the concept of a socialist market economy Politically active from the 1930s when he campaigned against the Japanese occupation he held many important posts notably President of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in the 1980s He was particularly influential in the field of industrial economics putting to use his own experiences of managing industrial enterprises and a strong advocate of the need for China's economic development to be stable. The book is published in association with China Development Research Foundation, one of the leading economic and social think tanks in China where many of the theoretical foundations and policy details of economic reform were formulated. World Textile Industry John Singleton, 2013-05-13. This book analyzes the competitive forces which dominate this major sector and traces how the nature of competition has evolved during the last two hundred years. Through an analysis of key factors including demand, related and supporting industries, firm strategy, structure and national rivalry, chance and government policy, the author explains how and why the locus of competitive advantage in textiles and apparel has moved from country to country, particularly in the period since 1945.

Economic Reforms in India and China Dr. R.K. Mishra, Prof. Zhou Shaopeng, 2011-07-21. This book incorporates select papers presented at the two-day seminar titled 'Economic Reforms in India and China'. The China National School of Administration (CNSA) and Institute of Public Enterprise (IPE) jointly organized the two-day seminar. The Chinese papers dealt with prospects of economic development, development approach, similarity between China and India, economic growth and policy, industrialization dilemma and civilization model innovation under resource etc. The Indian papers dealt with economic reforms in agriculture, second generation reforms, performance of public enterprises, political economy in state enterprises, financial sector reforms, social sector reforms etc. These papers have been authored by renowned policy makers, researchers and practitioners from India and China.

Economic Reform Processes in South Asia Philippa S. Dee, 2012. While South Asia's economic reform initiatives of the last two decades were often born in crisis, this alone does not account for their occurrence. This book looks at the processes and institutional arrangements behind these reforms and analyses what lessons can be learnt about how South Asia can improve its policy efficiency. The book develops ideas about how to overcome the political restraints to reform by drawing on recent theories of political economy and policy learning. It tests these ideas against authoritative case studies of actual reform initiatives in South Asia which illustrate processes and institutional arrangements that have helped South Asian governments to sustain reform efforts even in the absence of a strong political base. This offers valuable lessons for the global economy as it moves into a phase of rebalancing with the structural adjustments that this will require. The book goes on to identify weaknesses that could be addressed by South Asian national governments and regional forums. It is an important contribution to studies on South Asian Politics and International Political Economy.

The Political Logic of Economic Reform in China Susan L. Shirk, 2023-04-28. In the past decade, China was able to carry out economic reform without political reform, while the Soviet Union attempted the opposite strategy. How did China succeed at economic market reform without changing communist rule? Susan Shirk shows that Chinese communist political institutions are more flexible and less centralized than their Soviet counterparts were. Shirk pioneers a rational choice institutional approach to analyze policy making in a non-democratic authoritarian country and to explain the history of Chinese market reforms from 1979 to the present. Drawing on extensive interviews with high-level Chinese officials, she pieces together detailed histories of economic reform policy decisions and shows how the political logic of Chinese communist institutions shaped those decisions Combining theoretical ambition with the flavor of on the ground policy making in Beijing this book is a major contribution to the study of reform in China and other communist countries This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1994 In the past decade China was able to carry out economic reform without political reform while the Soviet Union attempted the opposite strategy How did China succeed at economic market reform without changing communist rule Susan Shirk shows that China

Networks of Privilege in the Middle East: The Politics of Economic Reform Revisited S.

Heydemann,2004-08-20 This volume explores the role of informal networks in the politics of Middle Eastern economic reform The editor s introduction demonstrates how network based models overcome limitations in existing approaches to the politics of economic reform The following chapters show how business state networks in Egypt Morocco Tunisia Syria Lebanon and Jordan have affected privatization programs and the reform of fiscal policies They help us understand patterns and variation in the organization and outcome of economic reform programs including the opportunities that economic reforms offered for reorganizing networks of economic privilege across the Middle East

Government-Business Relations and Regional Development in Post-Reform Mexico Theodore Kahn,2018-10-14 This book explores the political economy of subnational development in Mexico Like much of Latin America Mexico underwent market reforms and democratization in the late 20th century In addition to transforming national institutions these changes led to sharp political and economic divergence among Mexican states The author offers a novel explanation for these uneven results showing how relations between local governments and organized business gave rise to distinct subnational institutions for managing the economy The argument is developed through a paired comparison of two states in central Mexico Puebla and Quer taro This work will be of interest to students of Latin American and Mexican politics regional development and government business relations Marginalisation in China Bin Wu,Richard Sanders,2016-05-13 Economic transition in China has witnessed re centralization of resources from the margin to the core in economic social and political senses This book employs a marginalization lens to reveal delineate and better understand the processes patterns trends multiple dimensions and dynamics of the phenomenon and the consequences and implications for development and well being in the country Bringing together a wide range of domestic and international experts and disciplinary perspectives the book combines empirical research and conceptual analysis to provide an insightful overview of China s recent development It contributes to the debate over marginalization and its interactions with globalization and transition in China and has significance for various domestic and international policy arenas in respect of tackling marginalization poverty and social exclusion effectively while striving for the achievement of the UN Millennium Development Goals in China and beyond China in the World Market Thomas Geoffrey Moore,2002-03-18 This book will be provocative reading for anyone concerned with China and the world economy China's 40 Years of Economic Reform and Development Xinli Zheng,2018-10-12 This book aims to explain the secret to China s rapid growth over the last 40 years from the viewpoint of a firsthand witness Zheng Xinli was enrolled as a graduate student of economics 40 years ago at a time when very few Chinese people could enroll in higher level education let alone graduate school Since 1978 he has been engaged in the study of macroeconomic theory and economic policy He has worked with the economic group of the Research Section of the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China the State Information Center and the Policy Research Office of the State Planning Commission as well as other organizations His work serves to help Chinese leaders in making economic decisions In 2013 Zheng Xinli appeared on the list of China s Top Ten Economists With the addition of several up to date articles this book is mainly a condensed version of a 16 volume collection of essays selected from among the more than 500 articles published by Zheng between 1981 and 2016 Addressing some of the major issues in China namely Reform and Development Development Patterns Macro Regulation Balanced Urban and Rural Development Innovation and Industry Revitalization the book as Zheng himself puts it visualizes the birth process of different policies and measures which have catered to the different stages of reform As an insider and also partly as a designer and architect Zheng Xinli provides readers with a view of China s reform from the top Skill Formation Regimes in South Asia Markus Maurer,2011 In the face of accelerated economic globalisation many of the industries in economically less developed countries have become more technology intensive Skill formation processes both inside and outside firms are therefore changing This study scrutinises such transformations by comparing from the perspective of historical institutionalism the skill formation regimes of the garment industries in Sri Lanka and Bangladesh It sheds light on the differences between the trajectories of the in firm skill formation regimes of the two countries and reveals the important part that varying paths of educational development in both countries have played in shaping these trajectories At the same time the study shows how in both countries state led skill formation regimes have been transformed not only by market forces and the growing importance of corporate business interests but also by the social demand for educational credentials

Money, Incentives and Efficiency in the Hungarian Economic Reform Joseph C. Brada,Istvan Dobozi,2019-07-04 The essays in this volume document the serious shortcomings of the Hungarian economic reform which in two decades has brought deteriorating economic performance declining real wages a fiscal deficit and severe inflationary pressures It has proved unexpectedly difficult to substitute a regulated market economy for a centrally planned one The authors of these essays argue that the problems stem from the incompleteness of the reforms and their compromise character Today as the Hungarians prepare to implement more radical measures constraining the Communist party and rolling back state ownership they do so under economically difficult conditions
