Pallikunnil, 2018-06-15 As an ancient Christian community the Mar Thoma Church with its vibrant life of mission and sacraments has a pride of place in the Christendom The evangelization process and constant migration made this church a global Church which has encountered multi cultural and multi ethnic atmosphere and assimilated various cultural practices and faced faith confrontation in its own geographical regions This confrontation has caused a renewed view of nature identity and mission of the Church in a positive manner Mission is in fact the lifeblood of the Church Through its mission work and revised liturgy the Mar Thoma Church took a pioneer role in the formation and nurturing of new Christian communities in India and different parts of the world Hence this book reflects on the role of liturgy and its influence on the missionary undertakings of the MTC It elucidates how the revised liturgy functions as a basis for mission and recounts how liturgy and mission are connected Further the diverse mission centres of the Church and its cultural specialties an integration of liturgy and evangelism importance of liturgical orientation and training are also dealt with in detail Added to this the various challenges of the Church in its mission fields and diaspora regions are studied in the framework of the liturgy The scope of liturgical renewal is looked into where the liturgical adaptation and possibilities of contextual liturgies in the Church are studied This study concludes with some of the pertinent liturgical proposals for the furtherance to sustain the life and mission of the Church With a living experience and profound theological understanding this ancient but reformed Church has something unique to offer to the whole Christendom Word and Sacrament Paul Galbreath, 2024-09-10 In this critical work liturgical scholar Paul Galbreath brings together key theological insights and historical analysis to offer a theological roadmap of where the Reformed tradition has traveled in order to propose directions for where it is heading From the time of John Calvin until today Reformed theology and worship have acknowledged Word and sacrament as central to its Christian identity Yet the ways in which Scripture is read and used in worship and the ways in which baptism and the Lord's Supper are experienced have varied and developed throughout the history of the Reformed church By exploring key liturgies confessions directories for worship and theological movements this book examines common theological themes and commitments that have undergirded worship as well as ways that our understandings and practices have developed in light of new contexts and challenges Historical insights from the Reformed tradition provide a basis for exploring patterns of worship that maintain the commitment to Word and sacrament while proposing new ways in which Scripture baptism and the Lord's Supper can be experienced in the postmodern context. The study of how theological insights have prompted liturgical change provides a roadmap for how worship can adapt to address significant concerns that we face in our communities, congregations, and personal lives, such as caring for the earth and responding to the needs of the poor. Altogether, Word and Sacrament offers constructive and practical directions that will lead to congregational renewal. Martha Moore Keish writes in her foreword: Shaped by his years of serving as a pastor, theologian, and seminary professor deeply engaged in liturgical and sacramental renewal, Galbreath argues that our theological presuppositions shape liturgical development. This was true for Calvin in the sixteenth century, for Barth in the early twentieth century, for the formation of the Worshipbook and the Book of Common Worship in the late twentieth century, and it remains true today. Given this reality, he argues, we need to make conscious theological choices for the language and images that we use in worship.
