Egyptian Stone Vessels Christine Lilyquist, 1995 Stone Vessels in the Levant RachaelThyrza Sparks, 2017-07-05

Examining stone vessels in the Levant during the 2nd millennium BC the author explores the links between material culture and society through a comprehensive study of production and distribution Extensively illustrated with 100 drawings maps and charts this volume includes a full object catalogue This study represents the first comprehensive overview of the stone vessel assemblages of the Levant in this period a time which fed by an increase of wealth and interregional trade saw a growth in the popularity and variety of such vessels Previously our understanding of the varied functions and forms of these diverse vessels has been relatively underdeveloped In this volume the author attempts to address this problem by creating a typological framework through which we can analyse variability and define essential characteristics of local stone vessel workshops Only once this has been achieved is it possible to look at stone vessel production in its wider cultural context Subsequent chapters explore broader themes beginning within the workshops themselves examining the links between craftsmen their sources of raw materials and the authorities that controlled and distributed their output Considerations of the geographical and chronological distribution of such goods are then used to provide a regional perspective for the operation of these workshops connections between them and further insights into the nature of local and international trade Finally the objects themselves can be used to assess the impact of trends such as the growing Egyptianization of the ruling classes of the Levant at this time The Tomb of Three Foreign Wives of Tuthmosis III Christine Lilyquist, 2003 This book results from a collaborative effort to reconstruct the 15th century BC tomb of three foreign wives of Tuthmosis III discovered and robbed by villagers near Luxor in 1916 A general account was published by Herbert Winlock in 1948 The Treasure of Three Egyptian Princesses New York The Metropolitan Museum of Art The present volume differs substantially in the type and extent of documentation provided and in interpretation Verification is provided of tomb provenance for a number of objects for example while other objects previously thought to have come from the tomb are now considered forgeries The text explores and documents the location of the tomb in the southwest valleys at Thebes field work conducted by The Metropolitan Museum of Art at the site in 1988 art market finds alleged to have come from the tomb and the names of the foreign wives and the life they might have led Stone Vessels in the Near East during the Iron Age and the Persian Period Andrea Squitieri, 2017-03-13 This book focuses on the characteristics and the development of the stone vessel industry in the Near East during the Iron Age and the Persian period c 1200 330 BCE Hatshepsut, from Queen to Pharaoh Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2005 A fascinating look at the artistically productive reign of Hatshepsut a female pharaoh in ancient Egypt The Social Context of Technological Change Andrew J. Shortland, 2016-12-16 The technological capabilities of the ancient world have long fascinated scholars and the general public alike though scholarly debate has often seen material culture not as the development of technology but as a tool for defining chronology and delineating the level of interactions of neighboring societies These fourteen papers arising from a conference held in Oxford in September 2000 take the approach that technology plays a vital role in past socioeconomic systems They cover the Near East and associated areas including Greece Crete Cyprus Anatolia the Levant Mesopotamia and Egypt from the end of the Middle Bronze Age to the Late Bronze Age 1650 1150 BC a period when many technological innovations appear for the first time Ancient Perspectives on Egypt Roger Matthews, Cornelia Roemer, 2016-09-16 The allure of Egypt is not exclusive to the modern world Egypt also held a fascination and attraction for people of the past In this book academics from a wide range of disciplines assess the significance of Egypt within the settings of its past The chronological span is from later prehistory through to the earliest literate eras of interaction with Mesopotamia and the Levant the Aegean Greece and Rome Ancient Perspectives on Egypt includes both archaeological and documented evidence which ranges from the earliest writing attested in Egypt and Mesopotamia in the late fourth millennium BC to graffiti from Abydos that demonstrate pilgrimages from all over the Mediterranean world to the views of Roman poets on the nature of Egypt This book presents for the first time in a single volume a multi faceted but coherent collection of images of Egypt from and of the past Tomb Robberies at the End of the New Kingdom Valentina Gasperini, 2018-06-21 At the end of the 19th century W M F Petrie excavated a series of assemblages at the New Kingdom Fayum site of Gurob These deposits known in the Egyptological literature as Burnt Groups were composed of several and varied materials mainly Egyptian and imported pottery faience stone and wood vessels jewellery all deliberately burnt and buried in the harem palace area of the settlement Since their discovery these deposits have been considered peculiar and unparalleled Many scholars were challenged by them and different theories were formulated to explain these enigmatic Burnt Groups The materials excavated from these assemblages are now curated at several Museum collections across England Ashmolean Museum British Museum Manchester Museum and Petrie Museum For the first time since their discovery this book presents these materials all together Gasperini has studied and visually analysed all the items This research sheds new light on the chronology of deposition of these assemblages additionally a new interpretation of their nature primary deposition and function is presented in the conclusive chapter The current study also gives new information on the abandonment of the Gurob settlement and adds new social perspective on a crucial phase of the ancient Egyptian history the transition between the late New Kingdom and the early Third Intermediate Period Beside the traditional archaeological sources literary evidence The Great Tomb Robberies Papyri is taken into account to formulate a new theory on the deposition of these assemblages

Ryholt, Adam Bülow-Jacobsen, 1997 The Second Intermediate Period designates the 250 year period 1800-1550 BC which separates the two glorious periods of the Middle Kingdom and the New Kingdom During the 19th century BC an invasion by Canaanite tribes into the Delta took place Around 1800 BC these people proclaimed their own king and the Delta thus became independent from the rest of Egypt Egypt remained split between the Canaanitic rulers in North and the native Egyptian Kings in the South for the rest of the Second Intermediate Period The division of Egypt brought about an economic decline and the entire period is characterized by a lack of royal monuments This circumstance has greatly hampered any attempts to establish a chronology of the period and as a consequence it has been very difficult to date many sources which are relevant for the social and political situation of the period The Second Intermediate Period has therefore remained one of the most obscure periods of Egypt's ancient history The dissertation is a new attempt to establish a chronology for the Second Intermediate Period and define the different kingdoms their territories and political relations The study consists of four main chapters three appendixes a catalogue of sources bibliography and indices Included is a catalogue of all the historical sources about 1500 known to certify the names of the Egyptian kings of the Second Intermediate Period Each source is described in terms of type origin and present location followed by bibliographical references Egyptian Art in the Age of the Pyramids Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999 The Egyptian Old Kingdom c 2650 2150 BC was an era of extraordinary artistic achievement the period that gave us the Sphinx and the pyramids as well as a rich legacy of private tombs wall paintings reliefs statuary jewelry and decorative arts This book the companion volume to a major traveling exhibition organized by New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Louvre in Paris showcases the most impressive assemblage of Egyptian art and artifacts since the Tutankhamun exhibition of the late 1970s Scholarly essays and 650 illustrations bring to life a remarkable panoply of Old Kingdom objects temple and tomb reliefs striking gold jewelry handsome stone vessels monumental statues stelae and exquisite statuettes Together text and images create a stunning tribute to the world of the Pharaohs Publisher's description

Walls of the Prince: Egyptian Interactions with Southwest Asia in Antiquity Timothy P. Harrison, Edward B. Banning, Stanley Klassen, 2015-09-17 Walls of the Prince offers a series of articles that explore Egyptian interactions with Southwest Asia during the second and first millennium BCE including long distance trade in the Middle Kingdom the itinerary of Thutmose III's great Syrian campaign the Amman Airport structure anthropoid coffins at Tell el Yahudiya Egypt's relations with Israel in the age of Solomon Nile perch and other trade with the southern Levant and Transjordan in the Iron Age Saite strategy at Mezzad Hashavyahu and the concept of resident alien in Late Period Egypt These are complemented by methodological and typological studies of data from the archaeological investigations at Tell el Maskhuta the Wadi Tumilat and Mendes in the eastern Nile delta Together they reflect the diverse range of Professor Holladay's long and distinguished scholarly career

Beyond the Nile Sara E. Cole, 2018-04-17 From about 2000 BCE onward Egypt served as an important nexus for cultural exchange in the eastern Mediterranean importing and exporting not just wares but also new artistic techniques and styles Egyptian Greek and Roman craftsmen imitated one another's work creating cultural and artistic hybrids that transcended a single tradition Yet in spite of the remarkable artistic production that resulted from these interchanges the complex vicissitudes of exchange between Egypt and the Classical world over the course of nearly 2500 years have not been comprehensively explored in a major exhibition or publication in the United States It is precisely this aspect of Egypt's history however that Beyond the Nile uncovers Renowned scholars have come together to provide compelling analyses of the constantly evolving dynamics of cultural exchange first between Egyptians and Greeks during the Bronze Age then the Archaic and Classical periods of Greece and finally Ptolemaic Egypt and later when Egypt passed to Roman rule with the defeat of Cleopatra Beyond the Nile a milestone publication issued on the occasion of a major international exhibition will become an indispensable contribution to the field With gorgeous photographs of more than two hundred rare objects including frescoes statues obelisks jewelry papyri pottery and coins this volume offers an essential and interdisciplinary approach to the rich world of artistic cross pollination during antiquity

Art,2012-10-09 The present volume Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1964 2005 is a successor to a volume published by the Museum in 1965 entitled Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1870 1964 These two bibliographic volumes endeavor to list all the known books pamphlets and serial publications bearing the Museum s imprint and issued by the institution during the first 135 years of its existence through June 2005 The first volume was compiled by Albert TenEyck Gardner at the time an Associate Curator of American Paintings and Sculpture and the present volume has been compiled from the Annual Reports issued by the Museum during the relevant years Together the two volumes testify to the tremendous contributions made to knowledge by the curators and conservators of the Metropolitan and by the many other experts who have contributed to the Museum s exhibition catalogues Various issues of the Bulletin emphasize the great sweep of the Museum s acquisitions during these years and the exhibition catalogues a number of them Alfred H Barr Jr Award or the George Wittenborn Award testify to the continuity of the institution s dedicated program to enrich people s lives through knowledge of art This title was originally published in 2006 Cultures in Contact Joan Aruz,Sarah B. Graff,Yelena Rakic,2013 The exhibition Beyond Babylon Art Trade and Diplomacy in the Second Millennium B C held in 2008 2009 at The Metropolitan Museum of Art demonstrated the cultural enrichment that emerged from the intensive interaction of civilizations from western Asia to Egypt and the Aegean in the Middle and Late Bronze Ages During this critical period in human history powerful kingdoms and large territorial states were formed Rising social elites created a demand for copper and tin as well as for precious gold and silver and exotic materials such as lapis lazuli and ivory to create elite objects fashioned in styles that reflected contacts with foreign lands This quest for metals along with the desire for foreign textiles was the driving force that led to the establishment of merchant colonies and a vast trading network throughout central Anatolia during the early second millennium B C Texts from palaces at sites from Hattusa modern Bogazk y in Hittite Anatolia to Amarna in Egypt attest to the volume and variety of interactions that took place some centuries later creating the impetus for the circulation of precious goods stimulating the exchange of ideas and inspiring artistic creativity Perhaps the most dramatic evidence for these far flung connections emerges out of tragedy the wreckage of the oldest known seagoing ship discovered in a treacherous stretch off the southern coast of Turkey near the promontory known as Uluburun Among its extraordinary cargo of copper glass and exotic raw materials and luxury goods is a gilded bronze statuette of a goddess perhaps the patron deity on board who failed in her mission to protect the ship To explore the themes of the exhibition art trade and diplomacy viewed from an international perspective a two day symposium and related scholarly events allowed colleagues to explore many facets of the multicultural societies that developed in the second millennium B C Their insights which dramatically illustrate the incipient phases of our intensely interactive world are presented largely in symposium order beginning with broad regional overviews and examination of particular archeological contexts and then drawing attention to specific artists and literary evidence for interconnections In this introduction however their contributions are viewed from a somewhat more synthetic perspective one that focuses attention on the ways in which ideas in this volume intersect to enrich the ongoing discourse on the themes elucidated in the exhibition
