

A scenic landscape photograph of a mountain valley. In the foreground, a traditional wooden structure with a multi-tiered, dark roof sits on a rocky outcrop. The structure has a small, dark, conical object on top of its highest tier. The background features rolling green hills and a distant, snow-capped mountain peak under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. The overall tone is peaceful and naturalistic.

Perspectives in Life Cycle Impact Assessment Patrick Hofstetter, 2012-12-06 Perspectives in Life Cycle Impact Assessment A Structured Approach to Combine Models of the Technosphere Ecosphere and Valuesphere describes the relationship between subjective and objective elements in Life Cycle Impact Assessment It suggests a new framework which will allow people to master two of the major problems associated with LCA the difficulty of separating subjective from objective elements and the tendency for impact assessment to record phantoms rather than actual damages Perspectives in Life Cycle Impact Assessment A Structured Approach to Combine Models of the Technosphere Ecosphere and Valuesphere presents a proposal for a second generation framework and method for Life Cycle Impact Assessment Many of the suggested elements are either based on other tools for environmental analysis e g risk assessment or fit in well with tools and concepts such as industrial ecology technology assessment or environmental impact assessment The research presented in this book goes beyond the scope of presently used methods for Life Cycle Assessment and may stimulate new developments in a variety of areas The book will appeal to persons from a wide range of scientific disciplines who are interested in learning more about Life Cycle Assessment It will be especially valuable to members of SETAC and to students and researchers in the fields of environmental impact assessment risk assessment and industrial ecology Nature in Indian Philosophy and Cultural Traditions Meera Baindur,2015-05-19 Working within a framework of environmental philosophy and environmental ethics this book describes and postulates alternative understandings of nature in Indian traditions of thought particularly philosophy The interest in alternative conceptualizations of nature has gained significance after many thinkers pointed out that attitudes to the environment are determined to a large extent by our presuppositions of nature This book is particularly timely from that perspective It begins with a brief description of the concept of nature and a history of the idea of nature in Western thought This provides readers with a context to the issues around the concept of nature in environmental philosophy setting a foundation for further discussion about alternate conceptualizations of nature and their significance In particular the work covers a wide array of textual and non textual sources to link and understand nature from classical Indian philosophical perspectives as well as popular understandings in Indian literary texts and cultural practices Popular issues in environmental philosophy are discussed in detail such as What is nature in Indian philosophy How do people perceive nature through landscape and mythological and cultural narratives In what ways is nature sacred in India To make the discussion relevant to contemporary readers the book includes a section on the ecological and ethical implications of some philosophical concepts and critical perspectives on alternate conceptualizations of nature Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. Research Dr. Mallika Tosha, Dr. Shubh Narayan Singh & Prof Ram Kumar, Religion, Consumerism and Sustainability L. Thomas, 2010-12-14 To varying degrees classic religions are associated with critique of materialistic values. Onto this opposition of the market and the temple other binaries have been grafted so that North and the West are portrayed as secular and materialistic South and East either as tigers pursuing western style affluence and economic growth or locked into retrospective fundamentalisms. These characterisations are called into question in a context of diversity and global movements of peoples and goods. In this collection this complexity is addressed in an analysis of the interconnections between religious and consumption practices and cultures and the ways in which both are responding to the ecological threat posed by continuous economic growth. International in scope the book combines empirical and theoretical work in its attempt to interrogate the traditional opposition of spiritual and materialistic values and to explore the interplay of religious and consuming passions in contemporary cultures. This analysis leads to a consideration of the ways in which religions and secular spiritualities can contribute to a new ecological consciousness and to the adoption of less destructive and rapacious ways of life.
