Understanding Steven Millhauser Earl G. Ingersoll, 2014-02-19 An exploration of the thematic interests and narrative strategies of a contemporary American master of fiction Earl Ingersoll introduces the fiction of Steven Millhauser whose distinguished career of more than four decades includes eight books of short fiction and four novels the latest being the Pulitzer Prize winning Martin Dressler 1996 In Understanding Steven Millhauser Ingersoll explores Millhauser's twelve books chronologically revealing the development of a major contemporary American writer and a master of fiction who cares as deeply about his craft as the modernists did earlier in the past century While most examinations of an author's work begin with at least a biographical sketch Ingersoll has faced distinct challenges because Millhauser has resisted efforts to read his fiction through the lens of his biography Responding to an interviewer's request for a brief biography Millhauser provided the succinct 1943 Part of such resistance Ingersoll argues arises from Millhauser's belief that if readers have too many questions about an author's work the author has failed and no amount of response can redress that failure Millhauser's central characters such as August Eschenburg and J Franklin Payne are often themselves artists or technicians who are overreachers and Ingersoll shows that Millhauser's early expressions of literary realism have given way to interest in departures from the real For Millhauser stories like conjuring tricks are invented because history is inadequate to our dreams Millhauser's strength is the ability to sustain obsessions because works of fiction succeed insofar as they are able to supplant reality As a master fabulist Ingersoll argues Millhauser is preoccupied with extravagance both in the subject matter of his fiction and in his style Whether it involves Martin Dressler doing himself in by designing and constructing increasingly complex hotels or the miniaturists in the short story Cathay pushing their impulse to extremes past the eye's ability to see their art objects Millhauser's fiction is full of such an impulse which can produce prolific artists as well as compulsive lunatics The triumph of Millhauser's craft Ingersoll shows is that it merges a fascination with the relationship between imagination and experience with a precise and allusive prose to produce works seamlessly joining the everyday with the radical and fantastic in forms ranging from travelogues of the imagination to works merging the waking world with the world of dreams

Literary Alchemist Steve Paul, 2021-10-29 Winner 2022 Society of Midland Authors award for Biography Memoir Evan S Connell 1924-2013 emerged from the American Midwest determined to become a writer He eventually made his mark with attention getting fiction and deep explorations into history His linked novels Mrs Bridge 1959 and Mr Bridge 1969 paint a devastating portrait of the lives of a prosperous suburban family not unlike his own that more than a half century later continue to haunt readers with their minimalist elegance and muted satire As an essayist and historian Connell produced a wide range of work including a sumptuous body of travel writing a bestselling epic account of Custer at the Little Bighorn and a singular series of meditations on history and the human tragedy. This first portrait and appraisal of an under recognized American writer is based on personal accounts by friends, relatives, writers and others who knew him; extensive correspondence in library archives and insightful literary and cultural analysis of Connell's work and its context. It also illuminates aspects of American publishing, Hollywood, male anxieties and the power of place. Encyclopedia of American Literature Manly, Inc., 2013-06 Susan Clair Imbarrato, Carol Berkin, Brett Barney, Lisa Paddock, Matthew J. Bruccoli, George Parker Anderson, Judith S. Waiting for the End Earl G. Ingersoll, 2007. Waiting for the End examines two dozen contemporary novels within the context of a half century of theorizing about the function of ending in narrative. That theorizing about ending generated a powerful dynamic a quarter century ago with the advent of feminist criticism of masculinist readings of the role played by ending in fiction. Feminists such as Theresa de Lauretis in 1984 and more famously Susan Winnett in her 1991 PMLA essay "Coming Unstrung" were leading voices in a swelling chorus of theorists pointing out the masculinist bias of ending in narrative. With the entry of feminist readings of ending, it became inevitable that criticism of fiction would become gendered through the recognition of difference transcending a simple binary of female/male to establish a spectrum of masculine to feminine endings regardless of the sex of the writer. Accordingly, Waiting for the End examines pairs of novels, one pair by Margaret Atwood and one by Ian McEwan, to demonstrate how a writer can offer endings at either end of the gender spectrum. Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress, Copyright Office, 1972. The record of each copyright registration listed in the Catalog includes a description of the work, copyrighted and data relating to the copyright claim, the name of the copyright claimant as given in the application for registration, the copyright date, the copyright registration number, etc. The Wizard of West Orange Steven Millhauser, 2015-05-02. A Vintage Shorts Short Story Month Selection. The Wizard, the greatest inventor in history, can make anything. His machines capture light, motion, and sound. So what's going on in The Box, the most secret, most mysterious room in the Wizard's bustling labs? When the staff librarian decides to find out, he stumbles upon a new realm of invention and sensation that will leave the world irreparably changed. The Wizard of West Orange is Pulitzer Prize winner Steven Millhauser's incantatory reimagining of Thomas Edison's work from the dazzling collection Dangerous Laughter. An eBook short. Biography, 1987. Postmodern Fiction Larry McCaffery, 1986-09-23. The scope of the work is broad, with European and Latin American influences well represented. Recommended for collections that emphasize fiction of the past two decades. Library Journal. Catalogue of Title-entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Under the Copyright Law ...
