Roberts,1997 This study presents the movement from an oral to a literate culture in the West Indies with the English language as central to this movement The period examined from the start of the first English settlement in the islands up to the time of Emancipation was the period which established the foundations of West Indian society The study relates the movement towards a literate culture to the development of methods of communication in the plantation slave society to general literary and intellectual development and to the expansion of formal education Literacy in English is regarded as a barometer of social development because the English language was sustained internally and externally as the language of those who ruled and contrary to fundamental notions associated with the power of literacy it maintained privilege within certain sectors of the society There is no other study which provides the interdisciplinary approach of this work in accounting for the development of literate culture in the West Indies Yotvata Lily Singer-Avitz,Etan Ayalon,2023-01-03 This book presents the final report of the excavations at Yotvata the largest oasis in the Arabah Valley conducted by the Sonia and Marco Nadler Institute of Archaeology of Tel Aviv University in 1974 1980 under the direction of Dr Ze ev Meshel The report covers two central sites a fortified Iron I site and an Early Islamic settlement The Iron I remains consist of an irregular casemate wall surrounding a courtyard The location of this site suggests that the settlement was established in order to protect the water sources and to overlook and supervise the nearby crossroads Based on the relative proximity of the site to Timna it may be concluded that the oasis formed the main source of water and wood for the population involved in copper production in that region The rich finds uncovered at the Early Islamic settlement including a large courtyard building and a nearby bathhouse among other structures point to habitation from the end of the seventh to the early ninth century CE The proximity of the settlement to a sophisticated irrigation system qanat and the administrative economic ostraca discovered at the site suggest that it served as the center of an agricultural estate owned by an elite Muslim family Among the unique finds is a large assemblage of locally produced handmade pottery which is thoroughly studied here The findings from the excavations at the Yotvata oasis have made a major contribution to the study of Early Islamic settlement and material culture in the greater Arabah region and beyond
