Mr. Smith Goes to Prison Jeff Smith, 2015-09-01 A senator's account of imprisonment that is partly funny partly urgent and wholly unnerving a mashup of House of Cards and Orange Is the New Black New York Post The fall from politico to prisoner isn't necessarily long but the landing as Missouri State Senator Jeff Smith learned is a hard one In 2009 Smith pleaded guilty to a seemingly minor charge of campaign malfeasance and earned himself a year and one day in Kentucky's FCI Manchester Mr Smith Goes to Prison is the fish out of water story of his time in the big house of the people he met there and the things he learned how to escape the attentions of fellow inmate Cornbread and his friends in the Aryan Brotherhood what constitutes a prison car and who's allowed to ride in yours how to bend and break the rules whether you're a prisoner or an officer And throughout his sentence the young Senator tracked the greatest crime of all the deliberate waste of untapped human potential Smith saw the power of millions of inmates harnessed as a source of renewable energy for America's prison industrial complex a system that aims to build better criminals instead of better citizens In Mr Smith Goes to Prison he traces the cracks in America's prison walls exposing the shortcomings of a racially based cycle of poverty and crime that sets inmates up to fail Speaking from inside experience he offers practical solutions to jailbreak the nation from the financially crushing grip of its own prisons and to jumpstart the rehabilitation of the millions living behind bars Hilarious insightful and disturbing all at once Daily Kos

Abraham's Children Heather Stroud, 2013 The Unintended Monica Huerta, 2023-06-06 Through close attention to the centrality of involuntarity in pivotal nineteenth century American court cases that created new property relations with photographs this book offers a historically situated theory of photography in terms of expression and an archivally supported theory of whiteness as an aesthetics of racial capitalism Inspiration Robert Davis, 2012-05-22 Robert lives in Hermiston Oregon with his wife and two dogs While driving truck for a local farming company many thoughts would stream through his mind until he decided to write them down Using his cellphone he texted hundreds of poems with sunrise and local scenery pictures to his wife and friends The practice continued until it was suggested he put them into a book The cell phone camera proved unreliable to reproduction but the poems became a lifeline to many as he was impressed to write the simply events of daily living in a small farming community

The Eye Test Chris Jones, 2022-01-11 In a world increasingly ruled by numbers and algorithms award winning journalist Chris Jones makes a compelling case for a more personal approach to analytical thinking THE EYE TEST is a necessary course correction a call for a more balanced personal approach to problem solving Award winning journalist Chris Jones makes the case for the human element for what smart practiced devoted people can bring to situations that have proved resistant to analytics Jones shares what he s learned from an army of extraordinary talents including some of the best doctors executives athletes meteorologists magicians designers astrophysicists and detectives in the world There are lessons in their mastery Of course there is a place for numbers in decision making No

baseball player should be judged by his jawline But the analytics revolution sparked by Michael Lewis's Moneyball now threatens to replace one kind of absurdity with another We have developed a blind faith in the machine the way a driver overly reliant on his GPS might be led off the edge of a cliff Not all statistical analysis is sound Algorithms aren't infallible and spreadsheets aren't testaments Trust in them too much and they risk becoming instruments of destruction rather than understanding Worse data's supremacy in our daily lives has led to a dangerous strain of anti expertise the belief that every problem is a math problem and anyone given access to the right information will find the right answer That taste doesn't matter experience doesn't matter creativity doesn't matter That we can't believe our eyes no matter how much they've seen THE EYE TEST serves as a reminder that if beauty is less of a virtue in the age of analytics a good eye still is This book is a celebration of our greatest beholders and an absorbing inspiring guide for how you might become one too Interrogator

Raymond F. Toliver,1997-12-01 The story of Hanns Scharff Nazi Germany's master interrogator who questioned American POWs with subtle startlingly effective tactics During World War II German Intelligence Officer Hanns Scharff gained the reputation as the man who could magically get all the answers he needed from a prisoner of war In most cases the POWs being interrogated never realized that their words small talk or otherwise were important pieces of the mosaic Scharff was constructing He was so effective that the USAF invited him to speak about his methods to military audiences in the United States after World War II In the words of one former POW What did Scharff get from me Nothing yet there is no doubt he got something If you talked about the weather or anything else he no doubt got some information or confirmation from it His technique was psychic not physical Another POW commented Hanns Scharff could probably get a confession of infidelity from a Nun To this day ex POWs fret over what they said or even might have implied during their interrogations and over what use Scharff may have made of their slip ups This book delves into the question What magic formula did Scharff use to draw information out of servicemen trained to remain silent Cauc/asian Neetha Kunaratnam,2023-05-15 In this collection

Neetha Kunaratnam interrogates his experience of being Asian in a Caucasian context and that of his children growing up with dual Cauc asian heritage There are poems here that consider the links between colonialism plunder and ecological collapse while others ponder the ethics of killing a mosquito or the status of a B Q Buddha all as attentive to the world's minutiae as to the global challenges we face Dreamwalkers Sooz Parnam-Harris,2009-07-23 Have you ever wondered what happens in your dreams after you wake up For some of us the journey begins when we close our eyes Shaping the City Rodolphe El-Khoury,Edwards Robbins,2015-06-23 Taking on the key issues in urban design Shaping the City examines the critical ideas that have driven these themes and debates through a study of particular cities at important periods in their development As well as retaining crucial discussions about cities such as Los Angeles Atlanta Chicago Detroit Philadelphia and Brasilia at particular moments in their history that exemplified the problems and themes at hand like the mega city the post colonial city and New Urbanism in this new edition the editors have introduced new case studies critical to any study of
