Farvel Other Stories:

The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re-reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years. This is an opportunity for stock-taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered, reclaimed and republished. There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms, genres and movements, all printed in a single alphabetical sequence. The earliest written documents in medieval English, the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe, are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day. The book reflects the spread of literacy, the history of colonisation and the development of post-colonial cultures, using and changing the English language. The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered. The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality, wealth and diversity of women's writing.

"For was I Not Born Here?" Anne Holden Rønning, 2010 As Lauris Edmond writes, du Fresne's work is a tapestry of the past and present, storying immigrant life. Flitting in and out of the past is shown to be one way of coming to terms with the present and of understanding the importance of home, as is evident in The Book of Ester and Frederique, both centering on the manifold, complex European cultural traditions that were often overlooked in settler countries. Another is to be an inquisitive spy on the land, like the child narrator Astrid Westergaard in du Fresne's magnificent stories, many of them originally radio broadcasts which depict life in a small Danish community in the Manawatu in the 1930s, often in a humorous and ironic manner.

Talking Past Each Other Patricia Kinloch, Joan Metge, 2014-04-01 Where numbers of different cultural groups come together, misunderstandings and tensions can arise, even where there is the greatest goodwill on both sides. Sometimes even those involved are unable to explain why. In this book, the authors set out to explore the situations and contexts in which cross-cultural misunderstandings can occur. Talking Past Each Other was first published in 1978 and has been read widely and reprinted regularly.

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post-colonial literatures in English, together with English and American literature, and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories. In more than 1,600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars, it explores the effect of the colonial and post-colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide.

A Small Price to Pay Ann Beaglehole, 2015-12-16 For European refugees arriving in the 1930s, New Zealand was in many ways a haven. It wasn't all easy; they came from a continent rich in culture and history to a small, isolated country with little social diversity. The immigrants found prejudice and suspicion, as well as a place they could one day call their own. But the difficulties were a small price to pay for freedom and survival. A Small Price to Pay tells the story of the refugees' flight to New Zealand and what they found here. Based on interviews with thirty-two former refugees, this book is the first to document in detail their experiences.

50 More Stories and Songs James D. Wood, 2019-02-07 50 More Stories and Songs is a continuation of Rev James D Wood's delightful memoir

This Is My Story This Is My Song Remembering other forgotten events in his life Reverend Wood writes about them and concludes each story with resonating words from a hymn Readers will find these additional stories to be charming and engaging Reverend Wood has served nine congregations during his fifty years with the United Methodist Church Previously he served in the US Navy and with the Port District of San Diego as a civil engineering draftsman In ministry though Reverend Wood discovered life to be even more meaningful and adventurous than he ever imagined He is married to Martha herself the author of Out of My Mind has three children seven grandchildren and three great granddaughters They have lived in Arizona for the past forty four years and currently reside in Sun Lakes Arizona The Auckland University Press

Anthology of New Zealand Literature Jane Stafford, Mark Williams, 2013-11-01 From the earliest records of exploration and encounter to the globalized multicultural present this compilation features New Zealand's major writing from Polynesian mythology to the Yates Garden Guide from Allen Curnow to Alice Tawhai and from Wiremu Te Rangikaheke's letters to Katherine Mansfield's notebooks Including fiction nonfiction letters speeches novels stories comics and songs this imaginative selection provides new paths into New Zealand writing and culture Women's Literature Claire Buck, 1994

The first reference guide to the extraordinary riches of women's writing through the ages and throughout the world Over 5 000 A Z entries covering individuals works and movements The Bloomsbury Guide to Women's Literature Claire Buck, 1992 Provides biographies novel synopses poems plays and essays by or about women and discusses feminist literature

Young Hunters in Porto Rico Edward Stratemeyer, Ralph Bonehill, 1900 New Zealand Books in Print, 1998

Children's Books from Other Countries Carl M. Tomlinson, United States Board on Books for Young People, 1998 Every child is entranced by the magic of story regardless of national boundaries Many of the most memorable childhood stories have their origins in other countries Exposing children to this multi national body of literature introduces them to the great diversity of people and cultures that populate the world at a young age enabling them to become more thoughtful and generous individuals Children's Books from Other Countries is a complete and current guide to international children's literature The concept of a bibliography of international children's literature is not new In the past many books have accomplished this task The last two decades however have not yet produced a current reference source devoted to international children's books Children's Books from Other Countries wonderfully rectifies this lack of attention An introductory essay provides an overview of the field including a discussion on the rationale of sharing international books with children a brief history of the children's literature movement related books and awards and basic information about the International Board on Books for Young People IBBY and its American branch the United States Board on Books for Young People USBY An annotated bibliography contains over 700 titles from 29 different countries printed between 1950 and 1996 All titles are available in English many have been translated and others have originated in other English speaking countries The titles are organized by genre and have been selected for their high quality They are primarily targeted for children ages 0 14 although a few outstanding young adult titles are included Winners of the Mildred Batchelder Award and the Hans Christian Andersen Medal are listed in the appendix Indexes include Author Title Index Country of Origin Index and Subject Index Affordable and readable this timely resource is certainly a must for librarians and teachers and other professionals working with children Sponsored by the United State     Index to New Zealand Periodicals ,1982     Twayne's World Authors Series ,1983     International Books in Print ,1986     Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1981

Dania Polyglotta ,1978     Women's Studies Journal ,1986     The New Zealand Short Story Collection Marion McLeod,Bill Manhire,1997 Combines outstanding contemporary New Zealand fiction with some of the best from the past The New Zealand of these stories is not the country presented in glossy brochures but a real place that can only be described with accuracy and vision by the imagination     Catalogue of Title Entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, at Washington, D.C. Library of Congress.
