Fashioning Vienna Adolf Loos Cultural Criticism:

Fashioning Vienna Janet Stewart, 2013-06-17 This book seeks to extend our understanding of Adolf Loos and his role in the struggle to define the nature of modernity in Vienna at the turn of the nineteenth century "Textiles, Fashion, and Design Reform in Austria-Hungary Before the First World War" Rebecca Houze, 2017-07-05 Filling a critical gap in Vienna 1900 studies this book offers a new reading of fin de siècle culture in the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy by looking at the unusual and widespread preoccupation with embroidery fabrics clothing and fashion both literally and metaphorically The author resurrects lesser known critics practitioners and curators from obscurity while also discussing the textile interests of better known figures notably Gottfried Semper and Alois Riegl Spanning the 50 year life of the Dual Monarchy this study uncovers new territory in the history of art history insists on the crucial place of women within modernism and broadens the cultural history of Habsburg Central Europe by revealing the complex relationships among art history women and Austria-Hungary Rebecca Houze surveys a wide range of materials from craft and folk art to industrial design and includes overlooked sources from fashion magazines to World's Fair maps from exhibition catalogues to museum lectures from feminist journals to ethnographic collections Restoring women to their place at the intersection of intellectual and artistic debates of the time this book weaves together discourses of the academic scientific and commercial design communities with middle class life as expressed through popular culture The Viennese Café and Fin-de-Siècle Culture Charlotte Ashby, Tag Gronberg, Simon Shaw-Miller, 2013-01-01 The Viennese café was a key site of urban modernity around 1900 In the rapidly growing city it functioned simultaneously as home and workplace affording opportunities for both leisure and intellectual exchange This volume explores the nature and function of the coffeehouse in the social cultural and political world of fin de siècle Vienna Just as the café served as a creative meeting place within the city so this volume initiates conversations between different disciplines focusing on Vienna at the beginning of the twentieth century Contributions are drawn from the fields of social and cultural history literary studies Jewish studies and art and architectural and design history A fresh perspective is also provided by a selection of comparative articles exploring coffeehouse culture elsewhere in Eastern Europe The City and the Senses Dr Alexander Cowan, Dr Jill Steward, 2013-06-28 How do we experience a city in terms of the senses What are the interrelations between human experience and behaviour in urban space This volume examines these questions in the context of European urban culture between the fifteenth and twentieth centuries exploring the institutions and ideologies relating to the range of sensual experience and its interpretation Spanning pre-industrial and modern cities in Britain France Germany and the United States it enables the reader to establish major contrasts and continuities in what is still an evolving urban experience Divided into sections corresponding to the five senses noise vision taste touch and smell each section allows for comparisons which act as reminders that the experience of the city was a multi-sensual one and that these experiences were as much intellectual as physical in their nature Journeys Into Madness Gemma Blackshaw, Sabine Wieber, 2012 At the turn of the century Sigmund Freud's investigation of the mind represented a particular journey into mental illness but it was not the only exploration of this territory in the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Sanatoriums were the new tourism destinations; psychiatrists were collecting art works produced by patients and writers were developing innovative literary techniques to convey a character's interior life. This collection of essays uses the framework of journeys in order to highlight the diverse artistic, cultural, and medical responses to a peculiarly Viennese anxiety about the madness of modern times. The travellers of these journeys vary from patients to doctors, artists to writers, architects to composers, and royalty to tourists, in engaging with their histories the contributors reveal the different ways in which madness was experienced and represented in Vienna 1900.

Gender and Modernity in Central Europe Agatha Schwartz, 2010-10-27 At the end of the nineteenth century Austro-Hungarian society was undergoing a significant re-evaluation of gender roles and identities. Debates on these issues revealed deep anxieties within the multi-ethnic empire that did not resolve themselves with its dissolution in 1918. Concepts of gender and modernity as defined by the Habsburg Monarchy were modified by the conservative, liberal, radical right-wing, and Communist regimes that ruled the empire's successor states in the twentieth century. While these values have taken on new dimensions again in the post-Communist period, the Habsburg Monarchy's influence on gender and modernity in Central Europe is still palpable. With a truly interdisciplinary approach drawing on the fields of women's studies, gender studies, sociology, history, literature, art, and psychoanalysis that touches on a variety of subjects: gender roles, sexual identities, misogyny, painting, writing, minorities, this volume explores the lasting impact of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in contemporary Central Europe which is fraught with gender conflict and tension between modernist and anti-modernist forces. The Austro-Hungarian Empire was a fascinating multi-ethnic society. Its experience and understanding of gender and modernity provides important, relevant lessons for today's world as it becomes increasingly intercultural and as issues of identity become more and more complex. Published in English.

The Emergence of the Interior Charles Rice, 2006-11-22 Taking a radical position counter to many previous histories and theories of the interior, domesticity, and the home, The Emergence of the Interior considers how the concept and experience of the domestic interior have been formed from the beginning of the nineteenth century. It considers the interior's emergence in relation to the thinking of Walter Benjamin and Sigmund Freud and through case studies in architecture's trajectories toward modernism. The book argues that the interior emerged with a sense of doubleness, being understood and experienced as both a spatial and an image-based condition. Incorporating perspectives from architecture, critical history, and theory, and psychoanalysis, The Emergence of the Interior will be of interest to academics and students of the history and theory of architecture and design, social history, and cultural studies.

Jewish Women in Alison Rose, 2008-10-01 Despite much study of Viennese culture and Judaism between 1890 and 1914, little research has been done to examine the role of Jewish women in this milieu. Rescuing a lost legacy: Jewish Women in Fin de Siècle Vienna explores the myriad ways in which Jewish women contributed to the development of Viennese culture and participated widely in politics and cultural spheres Areas of exploration include the education and family lives of Viennese Jewish girls and varying degrees of involvement of Jewish women in philanthropy and prayer university life Zionism psychoanalysis and medicine literature and culture Incorporating general studies of Austrian women during this period Alison Rose also presents significant findings regarding stereotypes of Jewish gender and sexuality and the politics of anti-Semitism as well as the impact of German culture feminist dialogues and bourgeois self images As members of two minority groups Viennese Jewish women nonetheless used their involvement in various movements to come to terms with their dual identity during this period of profound social turmoil Breaking new ground in the study of perceptions and realities within a pivotal segment of the Viennese population Jewish Women in Fin de Si cle Vienna applies the lens of gender in important new ways

Machines for Living Victoria Rosner,2020-02-04 Changes in the routines of domestic life were among the most striking social phenomena of the period between the two World Wars when the home came into focus as a problem to be solved re imagined streamlined electrified and generally cleaned up Modernist writers understood themselves to be living in an epochal moment when the design and meaning of home life were reconceived Moving among literature architecture design science and technology Machines for Living shows how the modernization of the home led to profound changes in domestic life and relied on a set of emergent concepts including standardization scientific method functionalism efficiency science and others that form the basis of literary modernism and stand at the confluence of modernism and modernity Even as modernist writers criticized the expanding reach of modernization into the home they drew on its conceptual vocabulary to develop both the thematic and formal commitments of literary modernism Rosner s work develops a new methodology for interdisciplinary modernist studies and shows how the reinvention of domestic life is central to modernist literature

The Sociology of Art David Inglis,John Hughson,2017-09-16 What can Sociology add to our understanding of art This volume brings together a range of respected scholars in the field who demonstrate the many ways in which sociology can add to our understanding of artistic issues Covering all the major schools of thought and dealing with many different art forms the book offers the reader a comprehensive and accessible guide to an often complex area It will be an invaluable resource for students seeking to understand sociology s contributions to the study of artistic and aesthetic issues

Recasting German Identity Stuart Taberner, Frank Finlay,2002 A collection of essays offering a nuanced understanding of the complex question of identity in today s Germany This collection of fifteen essays by scholars from the UK the US Germany and Scandinavia revisits the question of German identity Unlike previous books on this topic however the focus is not exclusively on national identity in the aftermath of Hitler Instead the concentration is upon the plurality of ethnic sexual political geographical and cultural identities in modern Germany and on their often fragmentary nature as the country struggles with the challenges of unification and international developments such as globalization multiculturalism and postmodernism The multifaceted nature of German identity demands a variety of approaches thus the essays are interdisciplinary drawing upon historical sociological and literary sources They are organized with reference to three distinct sections Berlin Political Formations and Difference yet at the same time they illuminate one another across the volume offering a nuanced understanding of the complex question of identity in today's Germany Topics include the new self understanding of the Berlin Republic Berlin as a public showcase the Berlin architecture debate the Walser Bubis debate fictions of German history and the end of the GDR the impact of the German student movement on the FRG Prime Minister Biedenkopf and the myth of Saxon identity women in post 1989 Germany trains as symbols and the function of the foreign in post 1989 fiction identity construction among Turks in Germany and Turkish self representation in post 1989 fiction the state of German literature today Contributors Frank Brunssen Ulrike Zitzlsperger Janet Stewart Kathrin Sch del Karen Leeder Ingo Cornils Peter Thompson Chris Szejnmann Sabine Lang Simon Ward Roswitha Skare Eva Kolinsky Margaret Littler Katharina Gerstenberger and Stuart Parkes Stuart Taberner is Lecturer in German and Frank Finlay is Professor of German and Head of the Department of German both at the University of Leeds UK

Diva Angela Dalle Vacche, 2008-03-15 Animated by a luminous goddess at its center the diva film provided a forum for denouncing social evils and exploring new models of behavior among the sexes Dalle Vacche offers the first authoritative study of this important film genre of the cinema that preceded the First World War Contrasting the Italian diva with the Hollywood vamp Theda Bara and the famous Danish star Asta Nielsen Dalle Vacche shows how the diva oscillates between articulating Henri Bergson's vibrant life force and representing the suffering figure of the Catholic mater dolorosa Cover

Modernist Aesthetics in Transition Deborah Ascher Barnstone, Donna West Brett, 2025-01-23 How did German aesthetic values change during the Weimar Republic and after its immediate collapse at the beginning of the National Socialist period Contrary to conventional narratives that depict modernist aesthetics as static shaping principles of modern art and design this volume argues for their complexity and ever shifting nature Illuminating the vital exchanges that occurred across multiple art forms during a period of unmatched cultural activity this multi disciplinary volume explores the cultural transition between Weimar and National Socialist era Germany and offers a fresh perspective on the fate of modernism during a time of censorship and social stigma Featuring essays on architecture painting photography film sculpture cabaret typography and commercial design the volume explores competing and comparable themes across German art from 1919 1945 and addresses how modern approaches like New Vision coexisted with more traditional and established artistic modes Such visual complexity is evident from the volume's eclectic coverage these include sexology and eroticism visual grammar in typography and architecture the reception of Weimar art in the National Socialist period and the formation and transformation of queer and Jewish identities The volume encompasses subjects as different as shadow in the animated films of Lotte Reininger filmic adaptations of Heinrich Zille's social commentary in the 1920s the photography of L szl Moholy Nagy and depictions of female sexuality in Magnus Hirschfeld's oeuvre By bridging multiple artistic fields this highly interdisciplinary work provides a fresh perspective on the ever changing art and aesthetic principles of early 20th century
