Better Readers! Linda Hart-Hewins,Jan Wells,1999 Grade level 1 2 3 k p e t The Primary English Encyclopedia Margaret Mallett,2008-03-25 A comprehensive user friendly and interesting reference book that explains key concepts ideas and current requirements in primary English Includes over 600 entries short definitions of key concepts e g parts of speech succinct explanations of current UK requirements extended entries on major topics such as speaking and listening reading writing drama bilingualism and children s literature up to date information and discussion of important issues key references and accounts of recent research findings a Who s Who of Primary English Promoting Reading for Pleasure in the Primary School Michael Lockwood,2008-06-24 Winner of the UKLA Author Award 2009

Lockwood has written a useful supportive book which will help teachers and librarians. He describes the background and summarises the research and then proposes thoroughly practical programmes. Carousal Michael Lockwood has produced an excellent practical overview and analysis of what works in the primary school to promote reading for pleasure. Lockwood's work is grounded and valuable to those who need it most: teachers in the classroom working hard to engender a love of reading. English Drama Media This book is first class. It puts the matter very clearly and succinctly and presents a great deal of evidence to support the argument that pleasure is not a frivolous extra but the very heart and essence of what reading is about. It also gives readers plenty of ideas for carrying the principle into the classroom and for justifying it. This is an excellent piece of work which I hope will find a place on every staffroom bookshelf. Philip Pullman English primary school children are less likely to read for pleasure than their counterparts in many other countries. This practical and focused book discusses the background to this situation and looks at how government initiatives have tried to address it. Drawing on the author's own research project in order to identify good practice in promoting reading for enjoyment, the book presents specific activities which teachers can use to develop their own whole school and classroom practice enabling them to put the fun back into reading. Each chapter features case study material and provides examples of planning from schools that have successfully created thriving reading cultures through schemes such as reading assemblies, book clubs, library loyalty cards, school book evenings and quizzes. There is also an extensive annotated list of print and internet based resources. Topics covered include: Becoming a reading for pleasure school; Promoting a love of reading in the early years; Developing reading enjoyment in the later primary years; Getting boys reading; Promoting Reading for Pleasure in the Primary School. It is written for all those involved in education who would like to see as many children as possible develop a love of reading. It will be particularly relevant for primary teachers, teaching assistants, trainee teachers, advisers and consultants as well as teacher educators and researchers.

Models for Writing Chris Buckton, 2000. The Models for Writing books provide a complete programme to teach the writing process through shared, guided and extended work. Based on the National Literacy Strategy requirements, the books feature sentence level focus, lively activities and an easy to use solution for differentiation.

Companion to Contemporary Black British Culture Alison Donnell, 2002-09-11 The Companion to Contemporary Black British Culture is the first comprehensive reference book to provide multidisciplinary coverage of the field of black cultural production in Britain The publication is of particular value because despite attracting growing academic interest in recent years this field is still often subject to critical and institutional neglect For the purpose of the Companion the term black is used to signify African Caribbean and South Asian ethnicities while at the same time addressing the debates concerning notions of black Britishness and cultural identity This single volume Companion covers seven intersecting areas of black British cultural production since 1970 writing music visual and plastic arts performance works film and cinema fashion and design and intellectual life With entries on distinguished practitioners key intellectuals seminal organizations and concepts as well as popular cultural forms and local activities the Companion is packed with information and suggestions for further reading as well as offering a wide lens on the events and issues that have shaped the cultural interactions and productions of black Britain over the last thirty years With a range of specialist advisors and contributors this work promises to be an invaluable sourcebook for students researchers and academics interested in exploring the diverse complex and exciting field of black cultural forms in postcolonial Britain

Historical Dictionary of Children's Literature Emer O'Sullivan, 2023-04-24 History is constantly evolving and the history of children's literature is no exception. Since the original publication of Emer O'Sullivan's Historical Dictionary of Children's Literature in 2010 much has happened in the field of children's literature. New authors have come into print, new books have won awards and new ideas have entered the discourse within children's literature studies. Historical Dictionary of Children's Literature Second Edition contains a chronology, an introduction and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has more than 700 cross-referenced entries. This book will be an excellent resource for students, scholars, researchers and anyone interested in the field of children's literature studies.

Coordinating English at Key Stage 2 Tony Martin, Mick Waters, 2003-09-02. Specifically designed for busy teachers who have responsibility for co-ordinating English within their primary school, this concise and practical volume provides a wealth of tips, case studies and photocopiable materials.

Total Comprehension: Year 4, 2002-09-27. The Total Comprehension series aims to teach the main skills necessary for comprehension: literal, deductive, inferential and evaluative, and encourages an analytical approach as well as offering practice. The Pupil Book teaches and reinforces skills with repetition and evaluative questions.

Children's Literature as Communication Roger D. Sell, 2002-10-10. In this book members of the ChiLPA Project explore the children's literature of several different cultures ranging from ancient India, nineteenth century Russia and the Soviet Union to twentieth century Britain, America, Australia, Sweden and Finland. The research covers not only the form and content of books for children but also their potential social functions, especially within education. These two perspectives are brought together within a theory of children's literature as one among other forms of communication, an approach that sees the role of literary scholars, critics and teachers as one of mediation. Part I deals with the way children's writers and picturebook makers draw on a culture's available resources of orality, literacy, intertextuality and image. Part II examines their negotiation of major issues such as the child/adult distinction, gender, politics and the Holocaust. Part III discusses children's books as used within language education programmes with particular attention to young readers' pragmatic processing of differences between the context of writing and their own context of reading.
