Brendon, 2020-07-30 The author of Children of the Raj and Prep School Children examines the historical lives of eight children who grew up out on the oceans Children at sea faced even more drastic separations from loved ones than those sent home from India or those packed off to English boarding schools at the age of seven the subjects of Vyvyen Brendon's previous books Captured slaves child migrants and transported convicts faced an ocean passage leading nearly always to lifelong exile in distant lands Boys apprenticed as merchant seamen or enlisted as powder monkeys or signed on as midshipmen usually progressed to a nautical career fraught with danger and broken only by fleeting periods of home leave Solitary among numbers as Admiral Collingwood described himself they could be not just physically at risk but psychologically adrift at sea in more ways than one Rather than abandoning sea borne children as they approached adulthood therefore Vyvyen follows whole lives shaped by the waves She focusses on eight central characters a slave captured in Africa a convict girl transported to Australia a Barnardo's lass sent as a migrant to Canada a foundling brought up in Coram's Hospital who ran away to sea and four youths from contrasting backgrounds dispatched to serve as midshipmen Their social origins as well as their maritime ventures are revealed through a rich variety of original source material discovered in scattered archives These brine encrusted lives are resurrected both for their intrinsic interest and because they speak for thousands of children cast off alone to face storms and calms excitement and monotony fellowship and loneliness kindness and abuse seasickness and ozone breezes loss and hope This book recounts stories that might otherwise have sunk without trace like so much juvenile flotsam They are sometimes inspiring sometimes heart rending and always compelling Children at Sea embarks on a fresh voyage and explores a world of new experience Granta 61 Ian

Hill,2004-12-01 From the beginning the beautiful promontory of Queenscliff played a unique role in colonial history Its local legend of William Buckley the wild white man who lived with the Wathaurong people for 32 years is a seminal story of first contact between Aborigines and Europeans White settlement in Queenscliff was essential to the navigation of the treacherous heads of Port Phillip Bay In 1838 the first pilots operated in whale boats from Queenscliff and by the time gold was discovered in the 1850s they were joined by a Health Officer and Customs Officer By 1863 this maritime settlement was proudly respectable municipality and soon afterwards a resort declared to be the Queen of the Watering Places to which large steam ferries transported hundreds of people to the town s grand hotels As a seaside resort Queenscliff was the compliment to the Marvellous Melbourne of the booming 1880s It also boasted of Fort Queenscliff as a key to colonial defences And it had a vigorous fishing community that were the ballast of the town This first official history vividly weaves these threads It breaks new ground on William Buckley as a go between Queenscliff s aristocracies of pilots lifeboat men and First World War soldiers the rise and fall of the fishing industry and the untold troubles of early Fort Queenscliff Most of all it essays with Barry Hill s touch as a poet upon the resonance of Queenscliff as a place It concludes with a challenging account of how the community of Queenscliff successfully campaigned in 1993 to remain an autonomous municipality a political state of affairs that makes its historical identity a living issue Annotating Modernism Amanda Golden,2020-05-04 Making extensive use of archival materials by Sylvia Plath John Berryman and Anne Sexton Amanda Golden reframes the relationship between modernism and midcentury poetry While Golden situates her book among other materialist histories of modernism she moves beyond the examination of published works to address poets annotations in their personal copies of modernist texts A consideration of the dynamics of literary influence Annotating Modernism analyzes the teaching strategies of midcentury poets and the ways they read modernists like T S Eliot James Joyce Ezra Pound Virginia Woolf and W B Yeats Situated within a larger rethinking of modernism Golden s study illustrates the role of midcentury poets in shaping modernist as Plath's comedy the development of her poetic voice and her relation to poetic traditions The serious reader whatever his or her initial opinion of Sylvia Plath is sure to find that opinion challenged changed or deepened These essays offer insights into a violently interesting poet one who despite or perhaps because of her suicide at age thirty continues to fascinate and trouble us

Striding Both Worlds Melissa Kennedy, 2011-01-01 Striding Both Worlds illuminates European influences in the fiction of Witi Ihimaera Aotearoa New Zealand's foremost M ori writer in order to question the common interpretation of M ori writing as displaying a distinctive M ori world view and literary style Far from being discrete endogenous units all cultures and literatures arise out of constant interaction engagement and even friction Thus M ori culture since the 1970s has been shaped by a long history of interaction with colonial British Pakeha and other postcolonial and indigenous cultures M ori sovereignty and renaissance movements have harnessed the structures of European modernity nation building and more recently Western global capitalism transculturation and diaspora contexts which contest New Zealand bicultural identity encouraging M ori to express their difference and self sufficiency Ihimaera's fiction has been largely viewed as embodying the specific values of M ori renaissance and biculturalism However Ihimaera in his techniques modes and themes is indebted to a wider range of literary influences than national literary critique accounts for In taking an international literary perspective this book draws critical attention to little known or disregarded aspects such as Ihimaera's love of opera the extravagance of his baroque lyricism his exploration of fantasy and his increasing interest in taking M ori into the global arena In revealing a broad range of cultural and aesthetic influences and inter references commonly seen as irrelevant to contemporary M ori literature Striding Both Worlds argues for a hitherto frequently overlooked and undervalued depth and complexity to Ihimaera's imaginary The present study argues that an emphasis on difference tends to lose sight of fiction's capacity to appreciate originality and individuality in the polyphony of its very form and function In effect literary negotiation of M ori sovereign space takes place in its forms rather than in its content the uniqueness of M ori literature is found in the way it uses the common tools of literary fiction including language imagery the text's relationship to reality and the function of characterization By interpreting aspects of Ihimaera's oeuvre for what they share with other literatures in English Striding Both Worlds aims to present an additional complementary approach to M ori New Zealand and postcolonial literary analysis
