Graphic Unconscious In Early Modern French Writing:

The Graphic Unconscious in Early Modern French Writing Tom Conley, 1992-10-08 This book studies the importance of typographic shapes in French Renaissance literature in the context of psychoanalysis and of the history of printed writing Focusing on the poetry of Clement Marot Rabelais's Gargantua Ronsard's sonnets and the Essais of Montaigne it argues that printed characters can either supplement or betray what they appear to articulate They often reveal compositional patterns that do not appear to be under authorial control and open political and subjective dimensions through the interaction of verbal and visual materials This unconscious proto Freudian writing has complex historical relations with practices found in the media of the twentieth century The Poetics of Literary Transfer in Early Modern France and England Hassan Melehy, 2016-02-24 Examining both familiar and underappreciated texts Hassan Melehy foregrounds the relationships that early modern French and English writers conceived with both their classical predecessors and authors from flourishing literary traditions in neighboring countries In order to present their own avowedly national literatures as successfully surpassing others they engaged in a paradoxical strategy of presenting other traditions as both inspiring and dead Each of the book's four sections focuses on one early modern author Joachim Du Bellay Edmund Spenser Michel de Montaigne and William Shakespeare Melehy details the elaborate strategies that each author uses to rewrite and overcome the work of predecessors His book touches on issues highly pertinent to current early modern studies among these are translation the relationship between classicism and writing in the vernacular the role of literature in the consolidation of the state attitudes toward colonial expansion and the New World and definitions of modernity and the past Early Modern Eyes Walter Simon Melion, Lee Palmer Wandel, 2010 Drawing on optic theory ethnography and the visual cultures of Christianity this volume explores various discourses of vision in early modern Europe and the colonial Americas

Non-Representational Theory Nigel Thrift, 2008-03-25 Written by a pioneer of non representational theories this astonishing book promises to question the whole direction of social sciences methodology and makes essential reading for social sciences and humanities researchers and postgraduates System and Writing in the Philosophy of Jacques Derrida Christopher Johnson, 1993-04-15 This is an important new critical analysis of Derrida's theory of writing based on close readings of key texts It reveals a dimension of Derrida's thinking that has been neglected in favor of those deconstructionist clichés favored by much recent literary criticism Christopher Johnson highlights the special character of Derrida's philosophy that comes from his contact with contemporary natural science and with systems theory This study casts new light on an exacting set of intellectual issues facing philosophy and critical theory today Women Readers and the Ideology of Gender in Old French Verse Romance Roberta L. Krueger, 2005-02-17 This study challenges the view that all courtly literature promoted the social status of women Unlike previous books which focused on knights it starts from the perspective of the woman reader listener Using reader response theory feminist criticism and recent historical studies it suggests that romances taught gender roles often inviting readers to criticise and resist them

Reading Images from the Past Walter S. Melion, Christoph Pieper, Paul J. Smith, Anita Traninger, 2025-01-27 Reading Images from the Past is conceived as a Festschrift for Karl Enenkel. The contributors include art historians, literary scholars and historians and the topics cover a wide range of periods, countries and cultural contexts. They explore the complex relation between word and image, consider the rhetorical and hermeneutic functions of various types of image making and examine theories and practices of knowledge production across various media. They also reflect on the multi-faceted uses of the past in early modern European culture within debates on art, antiquarian studies, book culture, literature and historiography. Throughout the volume, special attention is paid to the interaction amongst visual and textual forms and materials. Contributors: Barbara Baert, Susanna de Beer, Frans Blom, Wietse de Boer, Stijn Bussels, Arjan van Dijk, Jan van Dijkhuizen, Anna Dlabáková, Reindert Falkenburg, Christine G. Ttler, Harald Hendrix, Jan L. de Jong, Marc Laureys, Coen Maas, Walter S. Melion, Alicia C. Montoya, Colette Nativel, Konrad Ottenheim, Christian Peters, Christoph Pieper, Lukas Reddemann, Bernd Renner, David Rijser, Bernd Roling, Sophie van Romburgh, Robert Seidel, Paul J. Smith, John Thompson, Anita Traninger, Geert Warnar, Claus Zittel and Cornel Zwielerlein

Narration and Description in the French Realist Novel James H. Reid, 2006-11-02 This book demonstrates instead the writers' use of irony and allegory in struggling against the deceitfulness of their own texts

Less Rightly Said Antonia Szabari, 2009-10-23 Well-known scholars and poets living in sixteenth-century France including Erasmus, Ronsard, Calvin and Rabelais promoted elite satire that corrected vices but spared the person; yet this period, torn apart by religious differences, also saw the rise of a much cruder personal satire that aimed at converting readers to its ideological, religious and increasingly political ideas. By focusing on popular pamphlets along with more canonical works, Less Rightly Said shows that the satirists did not simply renounce the moral ideal of elite humanist scholarship but rather transmitted and manipulated that scholarship according to their ideological needs. Szabari identifies the emergence of a political genre that provides us with a more thorough understanding of the culture of printing and reading, of the political function of invectives and of the general role of dissensus in early modern French society

The World Upside Down in 16th-Century French Literature and Visual Culture Vincent Robert-Nicoud, 2018-09-11 In The World Upside Down in 16th-Century French Literature and Visual Culture, Vincent Robert-Nicoud offers an interdisciplinary account of the topos of the world upside down in early modern France. To call something topsy-turvy in the sixteenth century is to label it as abnormal. The topos of the world upside down evokes a world in which everything is inside out and out of bounds: fish live in trees, children rule over their parents and rivers flow back to their source. The world upside down proves to be key in understanding how the social, political and religious turmoil of sixteenth-century France was represented and conceptualised and allows us to explore the dark side of the Renaissance by unpacking one of its most prevalent metaphors

The Fabulous Imagination Lawrence

D. Kritzman, 2009-06-29 This is one of the few books on Montaigne that fuses analytical skill with humane awareness of why Montaigne matters Harold Bloom Sterling Professor of Humanities Yale University In this exhilarating and learned book on Montaigne's essays Lawrence D Kritzman contemporizes the great writer Reading him from today's deconstructive America Kritzman discovers Montaigne always already deep into a dialogue with Jacques Derrida and psychoanalysis One cannot but admire this fabulous act of translation H l ne Cixous Throughout his career Lawrence D Kritzman has demonstrated an intimate knowledge of Montaigne's essays and an engagement with French philosophy and critical theory The Fabulous Imagination sheds precious new light on one of the founders of modern individualism and on his crucial quest for self knowledge Jean Starobinski professor emeritus of French literature University of Geneva Michel de Montaigne's 1533 1592 Essais was a profound study of human subjectivity More than three hundred years before the advent of psychoanalysis Montaigne embarked on a remarkable quest to see and imagine the self from a variety of vantages Through the questions How shall I live How can I know myself he explored the significance of monsters nightmares and traumatic memories the fear of impotence the fragility of gender and the act of anticipating and coping with death In this book Lawrence D Kritzman traces Montaigne's development of the Western concept of the self For Montaigne imagination lies at the core of an internal universe that influences both the body and the mind Imagination is essential to human experience Although Montaigne recognized that the imagination can confuse the individual the fabulous imagination can be curative enabling the mind's I to sustain itself in the face of hardship Kritzman begins with Montaigne's study of the fragility of gender and its relationship to the peripatetic movement of a fabulous imagination He then follows with the essayist's examination of the act of mourning and the power of the imagination to overcome the fear of death Kritzman concludes with Montaigne's views on philosophy experience and the connection between self portraiture ethics and oblivion His reading demonstrates that the mind's I as Montaigne envisioned it sees by imagining that which is not visible thus offering an alternative to the logical positivism of our age

Rethinking the Baroque Helen Hills, 2017-07-05 Rethinking the Baroque explores a tension In recent years the idea of baroque or the baroque has been seized upon by scholars from a range of disciplines and the term baroque has consequently been much in evidence in writings on contemporary culture especially architecture and entertainment Most of the scholars concerned have little knowledge of the art literature and history of the period usually associated with the baroque A gulf has arisen On the one hand there are scholars who are deeply immersed in historical period who shy away from abstraction and who have remained often oblivious to the convulsions surrounding the term baroque on the other there are theorists and scholars of contemporary theory who have largely ignored baroque art and architecture This book explores what happens when these worlds mesh In this book scholars from a range of disciplines retrieve the term baroque from the margins of art history where it has been sidelined as anachronistic to reconsider the usefulness of the term baroque while avoiding simply rehearsing familiar policing of periodization stylistic boundaries categories or essence Baroque emerges as a vital and productive way to rethink problems in art history visual culture and architectural theory Rather than attempting to provide a survey of baroque as a chronological or geographical conception the essays here attempt critical re engagement with the term baroque its promise its limits and its overlooked potential in relation to the visual arts Thus the book is posited on the idea that tension is not only inevitable but even desirable since it not only encapsulates intellectual divergence which is always as useful as much as it is feared but helps to push scholars and therefore readers outside their usual runnels

Book and Text in France, 1400-1600 Malcolm Quainton, 2016-12-05 In recent years literary scholars have come increasingly to acknowledge that an adequate understanding of texts requires the study of books the material objects through which the meanings of texts are constructed Focusing on French poetry in the period 1400 1600 contributors to this volume analyze layout illustration graphology paratext typography anthologization and other such elements in works by a variety of writers among them Charles d Orl ans Jean Bouchet Pierre de Ronsard and Louise Lab They demonstrate how those elements play a crucial role in shaping the relationships between authors texts contexts and readers and how these relationships change as the nature of the book evolves An introduction to the volume outlines the methodological implications of studying the materiality of literature in this period situates the various papers in relation to each other and to the field as a whole and indicates possible future directions of research in the field By engaging with issues of major current methodological concern this volume appeals to all scholars interested in the materiality of the literary text including the burgeoning field of text image studies not only in French but also in other national literatures In addition it enables fruitful connections to be made between late medieval and Renaissance literature areas still often studied in isolation from each other

Illustrated Religious Texts in the North of Europe, 1500-1800 Prof Dr Els Stronks, Dr Adam Morton, Asst Prof Feike Dietz, Professor Marc Van Vaecck, Ms Lien Roggen, 2014-07-28 Illustrated Religious Texts in the North of Europe 1500 1800 provides a new perspective on the role of visual imagery in the Reformation period by focusing on international forms of collaboration and makes a significant contribution to ongoing debates concerning the history of the book by focusing on the ideological as well as practical side of international contacts

Directed by Allen Smithee Jeremy Braddock, Stephen Hock, 2001 Allen Smithee specializes in the mediocre He is versatile He is prolific And he doesn t exist From 1969 until 1999 Allen Smithee was the pseudonym adopted by Hollywood directors when they wished not to be associated with films ostensibly of their making Encompassing over fifty films of various stripes B movies sequels music videos made for TV movies Smithee s three decades of work affords the authors of this volume a unique opportunity to reassess the claims of auteurism both in its traditional guise and in the more commodified form it currently assumes Sometimes treating Smithee as an auteur in much the same way critics and scholars have treated directors as diverse as Douglas Sirk Abbas Kiarostami and Quentin Tarantino the contributors reclaim new possibilities for auteurist filmmaking and film studies even as they show what an empty display it has recently become In accounting for this change the essays in this volume employ innovative theories of authorship to recapture the subversive effect that auteurism once enjoyed Thus the Smithee name becomes part of a larger discussion of the economics and history of pseudonyms in filmmaking notably in the blacklist of the 1950s as well as an opportunity to employ Jacques Derrida's theory of the signature to recover obscured economic and historic contexts within Smithee's films Unique in its focus innovative in its approach Directed by Allen Smithee argues that it is precisely through throwaway films such as Smithee's that recent Hollywood cinema can best be studied Writers in Conflict in Sixteenth-century France Malcolm Quainton, 2008 Text in English with some contributions in French

Urban Poetics in the French Renaissance Elisabeth Hodges, 2016-12-05 The city view forms the jumping off point for this innovative study which explores how the concept of the city relates to the idea of the self in early modern French narratives At a time when print culture cartography and literature emerged and developed together the city view a picture or topographic image of a city became one of the most distinctive and popular products of the early modern period Through a construct she calls urban poetics Elisabeth Hodges draws out the relationship between the city and the self showing the impact of the city in cultural production to be so profound that it cannot be extricated from what we know by the name of subjectivity Each chapter of the book brings focus to a crucial text that features descriptions of the self in the city by the writers Villon Corrozet Scève and Montaigne and investigate how representations of urban experience prepared the way for the emergence of the autonomous subject Charting a course between cartography literary studies and cultural history this study opens new vistas on some of the period's defining problems the book the subject the city

Animal Acts Jennifer Ham, Matthew Senior, 2014-04-08 Animal Acts records the history of the fluctuating boundary between animals and humans as expressed in literary philosophical and scientific texts as well as visual arts and historical practices such as dissection circus acts the hunt and zoos The essays document a persistent return of animality a becoming animal that has always existed within and at the margins of Western Culture from the Middle Ages to the present
