HOLTS AUCTIONEERS. DALLAS, 2018-10-25 In the nineteenth century there were thousands of British gunmakers plying their trade the length and breadth of the land building all qualities of gun and rifle Gunmakers have dwindled to a very small number today but the nature of the trade has changed from volume production to exclusive best guns only British gunmakers have embraced the new technology on offer and by using a combination of CNC machining and new steels allied to traditional gunmaking skills they are building superb quality guns and rifles to the highest standards Unlike their competitors British guns are not entirely built by machine and there is a large element of hand craftsmanship in every example built Not content to rest on their historical laurels they have introduced new designs and brought their creations right up to date for twenty first century requirements Guns and rifles are all built to the exact specifications of the customer and no two are alike Each gun is individually made yet designed to embrace modern requirements such as high pheasants steel shot and so on This book shows the great variety of guns and rifles on offer entirely built in Great Britain today and how British gunmakers still continue to lead the world in best quality guns and rifles

Forsyth & Co: Patent Gunmakers, 1806-1852 David Henry Lempriere Black, 1995 British Gunmakers: Historical data on the Birmingham, Scottish and Regional gun trade in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Nigel Brown, 2004 One of the most important aspects of the British Gunmakers series of books has been the compilation of the past and existing records of the many gunmaking firms and the setting down of the historical facts known about them before they get lost in the mists of time No such collection just like a cartridge collection can ever be complete but this volume in conjunction with the first two is undoubtedly the best printed source of such historical record information available anywhere in the world British Gunmakers William Keith Neal, David Henry Lempriere Black, 1980-01-01 The Gun Makers of Birmingham, 1660-1960 Joseph McKenna, 2021-03-08 Tracing the history and development of gun making in Birmingham England for many years a center of the world's firearms industry this book covers innovations in design and manufacture of both military and sporting arms from 1660 through 1960 The city is perhaps best known for mass producing some of the most battle tested weapons in history including the Brown Bess musket the Webley revolver and the Lee Enfield rifle Yet Birmingham's gun makers have carried on a centuries long tradition of crafting high quality hand made sporting guns British Gunmakers Nigel Brown, 2009-10-30 Final installment of the series Best source for history of British gunmakers New records of gunmaking firms from throughout the south of England and Scotland The final volume of the British Gunmakers series compiles the records of old and new gunmakers and expands the factual information highlighted in the first two volumes It is illustrated throughout and offers new research on records of an additional 190 Scottish and English
