Great British Picture Show From The 90s:

The Great British Picture Show George Perry, 1974 Suchen the daughter of a mapmaker goes on a journey through an enchanted land to find the king's son      Re-Viewing British Cinema, 1900-1992 Wheeler W. Dixon, 1994-01-01 Re-Viewing British Cinema 1900-1992 is a collection of essays on British cinema history and practice It offers both the casual reader and the film scholar a different view of British filmmaking during the past century Arranged in chronological order the book explores those areas of British cinema that have not been fully examined in other works and also offers fresh interpretations of a number of classic films From the work of Frederic Villiers the pioneering British newsreel cameraman who at the turn of the century brought home images of battlefield carnage to essays on the British B film and the long forgotten Independent Frame method of film production to new readings of classics such as The Red Shoes Passport to Pimlico and Peeping Tom the authors offer a look behind the scenes of the British film industry and engage the reader in some of the most compelling interpretational and historical issues of recent film history and critical theory In addition the volume contains a number of interviews with such key directors as Stephen Frears Terence Davies Wendy Toye and Lindsay Anderson and also pays particular attention to the work of early twentieth century British feminist filmmakers whose films have often been ignored by conventional film theory and history It also offers new material on the British film noir the English horror film and the pioneering gay director Brian Desmond Hurst Taken as a whole this book presents an entirely new series of viewpoints on British film practice theory and reception and affords a fresh and vibrant view of the British film medium      European Cinemas, European Societies Pierre Sorlin, 2004-06-19 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company      British Popular Films 1929-1939 Stephen Shafer, 2003-09-02 Shafer's study challenges the conventional historical assumption that British feature films during the Thirties were mostly oriented to the middle class Instead he makes the critical distinction between films intended for West End and international circulation and those intended primarily for domestic working class audiences Far from being alienated by a middle class institution working men and women flocked to see pictures featuring such music hall luminaries as Gracie Fields and George Formby      The British working class in postwar film Philip Gillett, 2019-01-04 An incidental pleasure of watching a film is what it tells us about the society in which it is made Using a sociological model The British working class in postwar film looks at how working class people were portrayed in British feature films in the decade after the Second World War Though some of the films examined are well known others have been forgotten and deserve reassessment Original statistical data is used to assess the popularity of the films with audiences With its interdisciplinary approach and the avoidance of jargon this book seeks to broaden the approach to film studies Students of media and cultural studies are introduced to the skills of other disciplines while sociologists and historians are encouraged to consider the value of film evidence in their own fields This work should appeal to all readers interested in social history and in how cinema and society works      Where the Boys are Murray

Pomerance, Frances K. Gateward, 2005 A provocative contemporary anthology examining the construction of boys identity in modern cinema

Framed Elizabeth Carolyn Miller, 2009-12-21 By introducing us to the New Woman Criminal Framed offers a profoundly different view of the fin de siècle British crime narrative

Adult Themes Anne Etienne, Benjamin Halligan, Christopher Weedman, 2023-08-24 Between the late 1950s and mid 1970s British cinema experienced an explosion of X certificated films In parallel with an era marked by social political and sexual ferment and upheaval British filmmakers and censors pushed and guarded the permissible limits of violence horror revolt and sexuality on screen Adult Themes is the first volume entirely devoted to the exploration of British X certificate films across this transformative period since identified as the long 1960s How did the British Board of Film Censors harried on one side by the censorious and moralistic and beset on the other by demands for greater artistic freedom oversee and manage this provocative body of films How did the freedoms and restrictions of the X certificate hasten determine and reshape post war British cinema into an artistic exploitative and unapologetically adult medium Contributors to this collection consider these central questions as they take us to swinging parties on youthful crime sprees into local council meetings on police raids of cinemas and around Soho strip clubs and introduce us to mass murderers lesbian vampires apoplectic protestors eroticised middle aged women and rebellious working class men Adult Themes examines both the workings and negotiations of British film censorship the limits of artistic expression and a wider culture of X certificate cinema This is an important volume for students and scholars of British Film History and censorship Media Studies the 1960s and Cultural and Sexuality Studies while simultaneously an entertaining read for all connoisseurs of British cinema at its most vivid and scandalous

Powell and Pressburger Andrew Moor, 2005-03-23 The film making partnership of Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger was one of the most remarkable and visionary in cinema They made an extraordinary range of films from The Spy in Black and The Life and Death of Colonel Blimp to A Canterbury Tale and The Red Shoes With champions like Martin Scorsese and Francis Ford Coppola and revived critical interest worldwide they now find new generations of admirers This illuminating new book looks closely at these classic films to explore their complex relationship to national identity and their interest in exile borderlands utopias escapism art and fantasy Moor reveals for example how the visual imagery of the films of the Second World War question current cinematic styles and how post war films like The Red Shoes and The Tales of Hoffman are in their highly expressive use of design music and dance utterly international in character
