The Indignant Generation Lawrence P. Jackson, 2021-10-12 Recovering the lost history of a crucial era in African American literature The Indignant Generation is the first narrative history of the neglected but essential period of African American literature between the Harlem Renaissance and the civil rights era The years between these two indispensable epochs saw the communal rise of Richard Wright Gwendolyn Brooks Ralph Ellison Lorraine Hansberry James Baldwin and many other influential black writers While these individuals have been duly celebrated little attention has been paid to the political and artistic milieu in which they produced their greatest works With this commanding study Lawrence Jackson recalls the lost history of a crucial era Looking at the tumultuous decades surrounding World War II Jackson restores the indignant quality to a generation of African American writers shaped by Jim Crow segregation the Great Depression the growth of American communism and an international wave of decolonization He also reveals how artistic collectives in New York Chicago and Washington fostered a sense of destiny and belonging among diverse and disenchanted peoples As Jackson shows through contemporary documents the years that brought us Their Eyes Were Watching God Native Son and Invisible Man also saw the rise of African American literary criticism by both black and white critics Fully exploring the cadre of key African American writers who triumphed in spite of segregation The Indignant Generation paints a vivid portrait of American intellectual and artistic life in the mid twentieth century 100 Greatest African Americans Molefi Kete Asante, 2010-06-28 Since 1619 when Africans first came ashore in the swampy Chesapeake region of Virginia there have been many individuals whose achievements or strength of character in the face of monumental hardships have called attention to the genius of the African American people This book attempts to distill from many wonderful possibilities the 100 most outstanding examples of greatness Pioneering scholar of African American Studies Molefi Kete Asante has used four criteria in his selection the individual's significance in the general progress of African Americans toward full equality in the American social and political system self sacrifice and the demonstration of risk for the collective good unusual will and determination in the face of the greatest danger or against the most stubborn odds and personal achievement that reveals the best qualities of the African American people In adopting these criteria Professor Asante has sought to steer away from the usual standards of popular culture which often elevates the most popular the wealthiest or the most photogenic to the cult of celebrity The individuals in this book examples of lasting greatness as opposed to the ephemeral glare of celebrity fame come from four centuries of African American history Each entry includes brief biographical information relevant dates an assessment of the individual's place in African American history with particular reference to a historical timeline and a discussion of his or her unique impact on American society Numerous pictures and illustrations will accompany the articles This superb reference work will complement any library and be of special interest to students and scholars of American and African American history 35

Fear of a Black Nation David Austin, 2023-04-18 In the 1960s Montreal was a hotbed of radical politics that attracted Black and Caribbean figures such as C L R James Walter Rodney Mariam Makeba Stokely Carmichael Rocky Jones and douard Glissant It was also a place where the ideas of Frantz Fanon Aim C saire and Malcolm X circulated alongside those of Karl Marx Jean Paul Sartre and Simone de Beauvoir During this period of global upheaval and heightened Canadian and Quebec nationalism Montreal became a central site of Black and Caribbean radical politics Situating Canada within the Black radical tradition and its Caribbean radical counterpart Fear of a Black Nation paints a history of Montreal and the Black activists who lived sojourned in or visited the city and agitated for change Drawing on Saidiya Hartman s conception of slavery s afterlife and what David Austin describes as biosexuality a deeply embedded fear of Black self organization and interracial solidarity Fear of a Black Nation argues that the policing and surveillance of Black lives today is tied to the racial including sexual codes and practices and the discipline and punishment associated with slavery As meditation on Black radical politics and state security surveillance and repression Fear of a Black Nation combines theoretical and philosophical inquiry with literary oral and archival sources to reflect on Black political organizing In reflecting on Black self organization and historic events such as the Congress of Black Writers and the Sir George Williams Affair the book ultimately poses the question what can past freedom struggles teach us about the struggle for freedom today Featuring two new interviews with the author and a new preface this expanded second edition enriches the political and theoretical conversation on Black organising and movement building in Canada and internationally As the Black Lives Matter and abolition movements today popularize calls to disarm and defund the police and to abolish prisons Fear of a Black Nation provides an invaluable reflection on the policing of Black activism and a compelling political analysis of social movements and freedom struggles that is more relevant now than ever Great Black Writers Ernest Jones,Victoria Scott,1996-01-01
