out and caressed the empty cold mat Paul Paul she called out Where are you There was no answer She sat up Her vision scanned the area around her Her pumped up heart skipped a beat It was still dark outside the makeshift tent that had been home to Paul and her for almost three years too dark to be blundering around looking for someone Tears formed in her eyes She fell back down in sheer panic covered her head with the thin blanket and tried to muffle the sound of her heartbreaking sobs and stop the wet tears that cascaded down her frozen cheeks She put her throbbing fist in her mouth so no one would hear her Deep harsh sobs racked her rigid body just before she fell into a weary sleep feeling the rats as they pulled at her blanket Daybreak came Her eyes popped open A silhouette from the sun penetrated her crusty eyes She threw back the blanket stuck her foot out from under the tent grimaced and jerked it back It was still too cold to get up But she had to find Paul She reluctantly sat up crawled out of the tent and stood looking around Once again she called out Paul Paul where are you He wasn't there Her almost perfect vision was blurred by the matter that had seeped into her eyes during the night Her frozen fingers reached up and wiped it away She crawled back inside rolled up her blanket and walked away from her home The only home she had known for some time She was now on a journey to find the love of her life Her search was not in vain She found him right under her nose Then her life started once again for the second time around Or so she thought Inside Hope Krista Sieger, 2013-10 I'm eighteen Eric the Red lies to the Army recruiter at Hope High one spring day A record twenty three students enlist including one foster boy This story documents their experiences in training and in deployment in Afghanistan Eric predicted he would come home in a casket and he does along with twelve other lads from the town How the soldiers deal with the dangers of life in a hostile country how the families in the community of Hope rise above their loss and how the returning soldiers and their loved ones including one soldier who chose to go AWOL cope with their challenges makes for a gripping tale of action that is heartwarming to the end Inside Hope is a novel that could well have occurred in any town in America It bonds the families together in time of war as they reach out to survive their grief The Storybook Adventures of Mary Miller Charity Lovshin, 2022-01-30 It is May 1928 in Renton Washington when Mary Janette Miller enters the world Three years later she is surrounded by friends and her siblings while building magical sandcastle villages and pretending she is a pirate sailing the seas Unfortunately because Mary frequently gets distracted and into trouble she must often escape to her favorite hiding place underneath her bed to avoid her mother's crutches A short time later after her parents decide to leave Renton for Butte Montana Mary embarks on a wild roller coaster ride through childhood as she attempts to navigate through the challenges prompted by the actions of her irresponsible often absent father While growing up and maturing into womanhood amid the building of a famous city in the United States the Great Depression and the Second World War Mary must overcome a variety of obstacles as she learns that having love in her heart leads to true happiness and joy even through adversity and life's greatest trials The Storybook Adventures of Mary Miller is the fictionalized biography of an American girl who sets out on a unique coming of age journey in Butte Montana during the early
