Grandpa Was a Deity William Lawrence Lipton, 2011-09-16 What began with a basic curiosity of an adoptee about his biological origins became a genetic exploration into history when he discovered two of his identifying y chromosome markers created a rare but traceable combination which appeared in supporting data of multiple research papers This book explores both his documented ancestry and that revealed by his y DNA Along the way everything in his personal history seems to contribute in some way to the results of his research The most significant element of that personal history is probably his learned inability to allow himself to be defeated by transient intellectual problems or perceived handicap In the process of joining him as he searches for his past you will be exposed to techniques that can assist you in discovering aspect of your own genealogy which you may never have considered You will also as he states in the book be introduced to secret knowledge contained in the Book of Genesis As part of that knowledge you will learn why the patriarchs were given lifespans ranging from several hundred to nearly a thousand years You will learn of a connection between Stonehenge Britains earthwork hedges and the Great Pyramids one that does not involve or invoke alien astronauts Many books have garnered the labeled Groundbreaking but seldom has there been one that is so current as to render the use of any conventional bibliography superfluous Almost weekly there are new findings in the fields of DNA ancestry archaeology and the relatively new field of astro archaeology Amazingly they all seem to reinforce the connections and associations revealed here But you might also discover things about the factual underpinnings of religion which you might not wish to know or think about Not the least of which is why there was time when the wisest people believed their Grandpa was a Deity

Colacurcio,2012-11 The education of grandpa Bobar has proceeded from an early childhood to what I prefer to call a second childhood rather than retirement What went undetected during all these years until now was how excellence was encrypted in my education even beyond the appreciation I have always had for the excellence of my many teachers I hope this anecdotal memoir with a message about excellence gives the reader an opportunity to look more closely into the role excellence has played in their own educational development Thoughts of a Scientist, Citizen, and Grandpa on Climate Change Eric P. How to Live According to Grandpa John Reseck Jr, 2023-10-31 We are presented with several million options during our life that we have to make a choice between The choices we make create the way we see the world and establish how we live in it This environment which we have created for ourselves is called our world Everyone has a world that is unique and personal to them Of course our worlds are based on assumptions that for one reason or another we choose to believe and call facts We are sure that what we believe takes precedence over everyone else s beliefs and that can make our world a bit of a challenge to live in at times I have decided to share my world with the rest of the world Not to convince anyone that my world is better than theirs but to share some of the things that I found helpful for the world at large In my eighty eight years as a well educated wonderer many of my assumed facts have been proven wrong I see that as progress a good thing The challenge is to be able to accept that one of your lifelong facts just isn t true I have only a few things that I learned that have stayed true so far and have been stabilizers in my world I think they can be of use to almost everyone and need sharing I am not writing this book to encourage you to think like me but rather to just think There are things changing all around you So many new things to learn So many new places to visit So many edges out there you haven't walked on yet No matter how intelligent you are your areas of vast ignorance are greater than your areas of knowledge There is so much to learn that when you throw your arms up and say I know nothing it will be true but it is okay Every other human on earth is in the same situation they just don't know it We have robots with Artificial Intelligence AI far beyond any human right now that are working for us What will happen when they decide we are too dumb and of no use to them I believe this could be a far greater threat to human survival than global warming What do you think and why Who Will Save Me from Grandpa? Carrie Williams-Lee, 2018-05-26
