Granta 66 Truth Lies:

The Holocaust Donald Bloxham, Tony Kushner, Antony Robin Jeremy Kushner, 2005-07-15 Despite the massive literature on the Holocaust our understanding of it has traditionally been influenced by rather unsophisticated early perspectives and silence This book summarizes and criticizes the existing scholarship on the subject and suggests new ways by which we can approach its study It addresses the use of victim testimony and asks important questions What function does recording the past serve for the victim What do historians want from it Are these two perspectives incompatible It also examines the perpetrators of the Holocaust and compares them to those responsible for other acts of genocide and ethnic cleansing in the early years of the twentieth century In addition it looks at the bystanders examining the complexity and ambiguity at the heart of contemporary reaction

Sara Paretsky Cynthia S Hamilton, 2024-07-30 Sara Paretsky is known for her influential V I Warshawski series which transformed the masculine hard boiled detective formula into a vehicle for feminist values But Paretsky does more than this Her novels also illustrate the extent to which detective fiction acts as a literature of trauma allowing Paretsky to address the politics of agency in ways that go beyond the personal for trauma always has a social and a political dimension Paretsky's work also exploits the way detective fiction mirrors the writing of history Here Paretsky uses the form to expose the partiality of historical accounts whether they be personal institutional or national that authorise forgetting of a particularly insidious kind Significantly all these issues are explored within the framework of the traditional hard boiled detective novel As a result Paretsky's achievement forces us to acknowledge the deeply subversive potential of detective fiction

Writing and Responsibility Carl Tighe, 2005-07-12 In a world where literary scandals often end up in court the issue of responsibility in writing has never been more important In this groundbreaking study Carl Tighe asks the questions every writer needs to consider What is it that writers do Are they responsible for all the uses to which their writing might be put Or no more responsible than their readers How are a writer's responsibilities compromised or defined by commercial or political pressures or by notions of tradition or originality How does a writer's audience affect their responsibilities Are these the same for writers in all parts of the world under all political and social systems The first part of this book defines responsibility and looks at its relation to ideas such as power accuracy kitsch and political correctness The second part examines how particular writers have dealt with these issues through a series of often controversial case studies including American Psycho Crash and The Tin Drum Writing and Responsibility encourages its readers to interrogate the choices they make as writers A fascinating look at the public consequences of the private act of writing Carl Tighe's book is a must read for everyone who writes or studies writing

Photographing the Holocaust Janina Struk, 2020-09-03 Atrocities committed by the Nazis during the Holocaust were photographed more intensely than any before In the time since the images were taken they have been subjected to a perplexing variety of treatments variously ignored suppressed distorted and above all exploited for propaganda purposes With the use of many photographs including some never before seen this book traces the history of this process and asks whether the images can be true representations of the events they were depicting Yet their provenance Janina Struk argues has been less important than the uses to which a wide range of political interests has put them from the desperate attempts of the war time underground to provide hard evidence of the death camps to the memorial museums of Europe the US and Israel today Writing Celia Hunt, Fiona Sampson, 2018-03-24 Exploring the writing process and its relationship to self this guide synthesizes critical and creative theories of writing for both writers and readers Each chapter links a range of theoretical approaches to one practical aspect of writing using illustrations from fiction poetry and literary non fiction and suggesting practical exercises for pursuing the topic further The book will enable students to develop literary critical and psychodynamic understandings of the creative process and to explore a range of key topics

South African performance and archives of memory Yvette Hutchison, 2015-11-01 This book explores how South Africa is negotiating its past in and through various modes of performance in contemporary theatre public events and memorial spaces It analyses the Truth and Reconciliation Commission as a live event as an archive and in various theatrical engagements with it asking throughout how the TRC has affected the definition of identity and memory in contemporary South Africa including disavowed memories Hutchison then considers how the SA Mali Timbuktu Manuscript Project and the 2010 South African World Cup opening ceremony attempted to restage the nation in their own ways She investigates how the Voortrekker Monument and Freedom Park embody issues related to memory in contemporary South Africa She also analyses current renegotiations of popular repertoires particularly songs and dances related to the Struggle revivals of classic European and South African protest plays new history plays and specific racial and ethnic histories and identities

Mother Jones Magazine , 1999-07 Mother Jones is an award winning national magazine widely respected for its groundbreaking investigative reporting and coverage of sustainability and environmental issues Mother Jones , 1999

The Granta , 1927 Paragraph , 2007 Journal of Dramatic Theory and Criticism , 1999 Architexts of Memory Evelyne Ender, 2005 Offers a powerful model that uses literature to help fathom the nature of remembrance

Writing the Holocaust Zoë Vania Waxman, 2008-06-26 Arguing against the prevailing view that Holocaust survivors encouraged by a new and flourishing culture of witnessing have come forward only recently to tell their stories Writing the Holocaust examines the full history of Holocaust testimony from the first chroniclers confined to Nazi enforced ghettos to today's survivors writing as part of collective memory Zo Waxman shows how the conditions and motivations for bearing witness changed immeasurably She reveals the multiplicity of Holocaust experiences the historically contingent nature of victims responses and the extent to which their identities secular or religious male or female East or West European affected not only what they observed but also how they have written about their experiences In particular she demonstrates that what survivors remember is substantially determined by the context in which they are remembering Pax Variations Carl Tighe, 2000 The Holocaust and the Postmodern Robert Eaglestone, 2004-12-09 Robert Eaglestone argues that postmodernism is a response to the Holocaust He offers a range of new perspectives including new ways of looking at testimony and at and recent Holocaust fiction explores controversies in Holocaust history looks at the importance of the Holocaust for recent philosophy and asks what the Holocaust means for reason ethics and for being human Faith Without Hostages Harriet A. Harris,2002 Harriet Harris takes the themes of Lent and Holy Week and makes them strikingly relevant to our lives today Each chapter begins with a Biblical story from the various readings set for this season and moves on to consider its significance for us today The questions tackled include What makes you fear and tremble Where is God in that struggle Do we need to change how we spend our money how we acquire our money the people we wish to impress the things we aim to do well and Do people ever become better by being excluded or by excluding others The Publishers Weekly ,1999 Journal of Information Ethics ,1999 My Mother's Voice Adrienne Kertzer,2001-12-11 How do children s books represent the Holocaust How do such books negotiate the tension between the desire to protect children and the commitment to tell children the truth about the world If Holocaust representations in children s books respect the narrative conventions of hope and happy endings how do they differ if at all from popular representations intended for adult audiences And where does innocence lie if the children s fable of Roberto Benigni s Life is Beautiful is marketed for adults and far more troubling survivor memoirs such as Anita Lobel s No Pretty Pictures A Child of War are marketed for children How should Holocaust Studies integrate discourse about children s literature into its discussions In approaching these and other questions Kertzer uses the lens of children s literature to problematize the ways in which various adult discourses represent the Holocaust and continually challenges the conventional belief that children s literature is the place for easy answers and optimistic lessons Hierarchies of Communication Hans H. Diebner,2003
