Freehold And Other Poems:

Freehold, and Other Poems John Harold Hewitt, 1986 The Cambridge Companion to Irish Poets Gerald Dawe, 2018 A fresh accessible and authoritative study that conveys the richness and diversity of Irish poets their lives and times Louis MacNeice and the Irish Poetry of His Time Tom Walker, 2015 Louis MacNeice and the Irish Poetry of his Time draws on new archival research to suggest ways in which MacNeice's poetry is closely linked to contemporaneous developments in Irish literature and culture Northman: John Hewitt (1907-87) W. J. McCormack, 2015-09-10 This the first ever biography of John Hewitt is based on archival material both personal and literary In many ways it is also a biography of his wife Roberta nee Black whose manuscript journal is also in the public domain To establish Hewitt's late arrival as a poet the book opens with a chapter recounting his negotiations with a London publisher over a long period and the eventual appearance of No Rebel Word 1949 Successive chapters trace his education courtship literary apprenticeship first employment as a junior gallery curator in Belfast the political conflicts of the 1930s and then the War Years his rejection for the post of director in Belfast's Civic Museum and Gallery and his utopian commitment to regionalism Appointment to the Herbert Gallery in Coventry in 1956 brought recognition and confidence His leanings towards socialist realism came to accommodate abstract art and he defended the sculptor Barbara Hepworth against the penny pinching ratepayers Throughout this two part career Hewitt maintained his output as poet culminating in the Collected Poems 1968 His Irish political commitments never wavered though he became cautious about forms of nationalism which proclaimed themselves left wing Roberta Hewitt's work for the Coventry Labour Party provided an outlet for her energies and her domestic frustrations Throughout these forty years the poetry is kept constantly in view sometime by reference to individual pieces and their origins and some by means of longer breaks for text where more detailed criticism is practised In 1972 the Hewitts returned to Belfast when the Troubles reached an ugly peak Committed to anti sectarianism Hewitt withheld support from all parties though he took an interest in trade union activity Publishing perhaps too much poetry in his last decade and a half he died very much in harness A Dictionary of Hiberno-English Terence Patrick Dolan, 2020-09-11 The Dictionary of Hiberno English is the leading reference book on Hiberno English the form of English commonly spoken in Ireland It connects the spoken and the written language and is a unique national dictionary that bears witness to Irish history struggles and the creative identities found in Ireland Reflecting the social political religious and financial changes of people's ever evolving lives it contains words and expressions not usually seen in a dictionary such as kibosh smitherreens Peggy's Leg hames yoke blaa banjax and lub n It is a celebration of an irrepressible gift for the creative expressive and reckless manipulation of the English language Inventing the Myth Connal Parr, 2017-07-21 This book approaches Ulster Protestantism through its theatrical and cultural intersection with politics re-establishing a forgotten history and engaging with contemporary debates Anchored by the perspectives of ten writers some of whom have been notably active in political life it uniquely examines tensions going on within Through its exploration of class division and drama from the early twentieth century to the present the book restores the progressive and Labour credentials of the community's recent past along with its literary repercussions both of which appear in recent decades to have diminished Drawing on over sixty interviews unpublished scripts as well as rarely consulted archival material it shows contrary to a good deal of clichéd polemic and safe scholarly assessment that Ulster Protestants have historically and continually demonstrated a vigorous creative pulse as well as a tendency towards Left wing and class politics St John Ervine Thomas Carnduff John Hewitt Sam Thompson Stewart Parker Graham Reid Ron Hutchinson Marie Jones Christina Reid and Gary Mitchell profoundly challenge as well as reflect their communities Illuminating a diverse and conflicted culture stretching beyond Orange Order parades the weaving together of the lives and work of each of the writers highlights mutual themes and insights on their identity as if part of some grander tapestry of alternative twentieth century Protestant culture Ulster Protestantism's consistent delivery of such dissenting voices counters its monolithic and reactionary reputation

Matthews, 1997-04-12 The award of the 1995 Nobel Prize for Literature to Seamus Heaney recognized not only the aesthetic achievement of his work but also its political urgency Here Steven Matthews presents a genealogy of Irish poetry which centres upon Heaney s recent preoccupation with the relations between poetry politics and history Writing from the perspective of Irish critical responses to the poetry he discusses a wide range of work from John Hewitt through Heaney himself to Paul Muldoon All of these poets have been inspired directly or indirectly by the situation in the North of Ireland Placing the poems in their historical context the author also analyses how these poets have reacted to the influence of W B Yeats This important book offers a new approach to Irish poetry linking it for the first time to the crucial political and historical events which lie at its centre
