Re-thinking Europe Nele Bemong, Mirjam Truwant, Pieter Vermeulen, 2008 Re Thinking Europe sets out to investigate the place of the idea of Europe in literature and comparative literary studies The essays in this collection turn to the past in which Europe became synonymous with a tradition of peace and tolerance beyond national borders and enter into a critical dialogue with the present in which Europe has increasingly become associated with a history of oppression and violence The different essays together demonstrate how the idea of Europe cannot be thought apart from the tension between the regional and the global between nationalism and pluralism and can therefore be re thought as an opportunity for an identity beyond national or ethnic borders Engaging contemporary discourses on hybrid postcolonial and transnational identity this volume shows how literature can function as both a vital tool to forge new identities and a power subversive of such attempts at identity formation Like Europe it is always marked by the tension between integration and resistance The book will be of interest to students and scholars of modern literature comparative literature and European studies as well as people concerned with cultural memory and the relation between literature and cultural identity Paths to Contemporary

French Literature John Taylor, 2017-07-05 The first volume of Paths to Contemporary French Literature offered a critical panorama of over fifty French writers and poets With this second volume John Taylor an American writer and critic who has lived in France for the past thirty years continues this ambitious and critically acclaimed project Praised for his independence curiosity intimate knowledge of European literature and his sharp reader's eye John Taylor is a writer critic who is naturally skeptical of literary fashions overnight reputations and readymade academic categories Charting the paths that have led to the most serious and stimulating contemporary French writing he casts light on several neglected postwar French authors all the while highlighting genuine mentors and invigorating newcomers Some names Patrick Chamoiseau Pascal Quignard Jean Philippe Toussaint Jean Rouaud Francis Ponge Aime Cesaire Marguerite Yourcenar J M G Le Clezio may be familiar to the discriminating and inquisitive American reader but their work is incisively re-evaluated here The book also includes a moving remembrance of Nathalie Sarraute and an evocation of the author's meetings with Julien Gracq Other writers in this second volume are equally deserving authors whose work is highly respected by their peers in France yet little known in English speaking countries Taylor's pioneering elucidations in this respect are particularly valuable This second volume also examines a number of non-French originally non-French speaking writers such as Gherasim Luca Petr Kral Armen Lubin Venus Ghoura Khata Piotr Rawicz as well as Samuel Beckett who chose French as their literary idiom Taylor is in a perfect position to understand their motivations struggles and goals In a day and age when so little is known in English speaking countries about foreign literature and when so little is translated the two volumes of Paths to Contemporary French Literature are a must-read The Westminster Review, 1824 Book Buyer, 1910 The Atlantic Monthly, 1862 The ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty-first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism empathy reparation testimony commemoration existential renewal and ethical or political connectivity Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses Gefen models a much needed style of criticism interdisciplinary pragmatic relational that comes to grips with their importance Rita Felski the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia USA In an era where self help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher s lists in France it s tempting some fifty years after post structuralism s heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative reparative act In the best instances authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society from health and social workers to skilled laborers journalists and educators it s a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real Harnessing sources in affect theory trauma studies ethics and cognitive science Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own reminding us that the notion of literature as autonomous object was itself a historical construct in short an ideology Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others and it s upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism Derek Schilling Professor of French Director of the Centre Louis Marin Department of Modern Languages and Literatures Johns Hopkins University USA Alexandre Gefen s wide ranging thought provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature s effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre s post war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature's mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano's Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen's reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre's political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK

Love and Saint Augustine Hannah Arendt, 2014-12-10 The brilliant thinker who taught us about the banality of evil explores another brilliant thinker and his concept of love Hannah Arendt the author of The Origins of Totalitarianism and The Human Condition began her scholarly career with an exploration of Saint Augustine's concept of caritas or neighborly love written under the direction of Karl Jaspers and the influence of Martin Heidegger After her German academic life came to a halt in 1933 Arendt carried her dissertation into exile in France and years later took the same battered and stained copy to New York During the late 1950s and early 1960s as she was completing or reworking her most influential studies of political life Arendt was simultaneously annotating and revising her dissertation on Augustine amplifying its argument with terms and concepts she was using in her political works of the same period The dissertation became a bridge over which Arendt traveled back and forth between 1929 Heidelberg and 1960s New York carrying with her Augustine's question about the possibility of social life in an age of rapid political and moral change In Love and Saint Augustine political science professor Joanna Vecchiarelli Scott and philosophy professor Judith Chelius Stark make this important early work accessible for the first time Here is a completely corrected and revised English translation that incorporates Arendt's own substantial revisions and provides additional notes based on letters contracts and other documents as well as the recollections of Arendt's friends and colleagues during her later years Both the dissertation and the accompanying essay are accessible to informed lay readers Scott and Stark's conclusions about the cohesive evolution of Arendt's thought are compelling but leave room for continuing discussion Library Journal A revelation Kirkus Reviews
