French Canadians In Massachusetts Politics 1885-1915 Ethnicity And Political Pragmatism:

French Canadians in Massachusetts Politics, 1885-1915 Ronald Arthur Petrin, 1990 Emigrating from Quebec to New England in large numbers after the Civil War French Canadians became by 1900 the largest non English speaking ethnic group in Massachusetts This study reevaluates the political behavior of French Canadians in Massachusetts from 1885 to 1915 and analyzes the complex relationship between ethnicity and politics

The Revolution of '28 Robert Chiles, 2018-03-15 The Revolution of 28 explores the career of New York governor and 1928 Democratic presidential nominee Alfred E Smith Robert Chiles peers into Smith s work and uncovers a distinctive strain of American progressivism that resonated among urban ethnic working class Americans in the early twentieth century The book charts the rise of that idiomatic progressivism during Smith s early years as a state legislator through his time as governor of the Empire State in the 1920s before proceeding to a revisionist narrative of the 1928 presidential campaign exploring the ways in which Smith s gubernatorial progressivism was presented to a national audience As Chiles points out new stock voters responded enthusiastically to Smith s candidacy on both economic and cultural levels Chiles offers a historical argument that describes the impact of this coalition on the new liberal formation that was to come with Franklin Delano Roosevelt s New Deal demonstrating the broad practical consequences of Smith s political career In particular Chiles notes how Smith s progressive agenda became Democratic partisan dogma and a rallying point for policy formation and electoral success at the state and national levels Chiles sets the record straight in The Revolution of 28 by paying close attention to how Smith identified and activated his emergent coalition and put it to use in his campaign of 1928 before quickly losing control over it after his failed presidential bid examining the notions of regional identity and its transformation between 1865 and 1900 Manufacturing Catastrophe Shaun S. Nichols, 2024-01-12 American economic history has traditionally been told as a narrative of industrialization and affluence collapsing into globalization and industrial decay Offering a reappraisal of this pattern Manufacturing Catastrophe traces the successive rise and fall of the whaling textile garment electronics and high tech industries in Massachusetts over the past two hundred years It shows how business labor and political leaders repeatedly mobilized the lure of crisis cheap labor low taxes and generous manufacturing subsidies to pull and push both capital and workers across the continents repeatedly remaking the pioneering industrial cities of Fall River and New Bedford Workers ranging from migrating Azorean seamen to British weavers to Quebecois farmers and capitalists including mobile manufacturers globetrotting whalers and multinational conglomerators participated in the creation of regional growth and with it American industrial ascendancy Exploring the paradoxical and recurring coexistence of high unemployment and labor shortages in these cities this book explains why recovery and growth have not necessarily translated into long term prosperity In doing so it illuminates how economic catastrophe was ironically a critical ingredient in the making of America's industrial hegemony Catholics across Borders Mark Paul Richard, 2024-02-01 Catholics across Borders examines the evolution of a French speaking population in Plattsburgh over a century Contrasting with New England's francophone textile mill centers Plattsburgh featured interethnic cooperation instead of conflict The book explores how international events affected French Catholic identity at the local level drawing from French language newspapers and Catholic archives Transnational Catholic migrants from Canada and France played a significant role in shaping local regional national and international history in Plattsburgh and beyond contributing to the larger narrative of the U.S. immigrant experience This study provides a historic perspective for understanding the present Constant Turmoil Mary H. Miller provides a comprehensive and compelling portrait of the 126 priest chaplains who served during the Civil War and reflects on the importance of religion and faith in nineteenth century America As a culture of death and horror raged around them Catholic priest chaplains met the needs of soldiers and officers alike providing years of faithful and dedicated service in hospitals prisons battlefields and camps Whether ministering to Union or Confederate soldiers or both in eastern or western theaters in battle or camp these priests risked their lives to bring faith and hope to one of the darkest and most devastating periods of American history
