The Habitant and Other French-Canadian Poems William Henry Drummond, 2024-02-27 The Habitant and Other French Canadian Poems is a collection of poetry written by William Henry Drummond a Canadian poet born in Ireland Published in 1897 this collection is notable for its exploration of French Canadian culture and dialect Drummond's poems in this collection often portray the life language and traditions of the habitants the French Canadian rural inhabitants He captures the essence of their daily lives struggles and joys in a distinctive blend of English and French dialects showcasing his efforts to preserve the cultural and linguistic heritage of the French Canadian community One of Drummond's well known poems from this collection is The Wreck of the Julie Plante which humorously narrates the misadventures of a French Canadian man during a steamboat journey The Habitant and Other French Canadian Poems is considered a pioneering work in Canadian literature as it brings attention to the multicultural and multilingual aspects of Canadian identity Drummond's ability to capture the unique character of French Canadian life contributed to the broader recognition and appreciation of Canadian literature during the late 19th century French Canadian Society Marcel Rioux, Yves Martin, 1964-01-01 The French-Canadian Heritage in New England Gerard J. Brault, 1986 In this book Gerard J Brault offers an introduction to Franco American culture covering the group's history ideology language and literature architecture art folklore and music demography education politics religion and sociology Back cover of book Our Tangled French Canadian Roots Jan Gregoire Coombs, 2009 Comparing Grief in French, British and Canadian Great War Fiction (1977-2014) Anna Branach-Kallas, Piotr Sadkowski, 2018-09-24 Comparing Grief in French British and Canadian Great War Fiction 1977 2014 offers a comparative analysis of twenty three First World War novels Engaging with such themes as war trauma facial disfigurement women's war identities communal bonds as well as the concepts of mourning and post memory Anna Branach Kallas and Piotr Sadkowski identify the dominant trends in recent French British and Canadian fiction about the Great War Referring to historical sociological philosophical and literary sources they show how by both consolidating and contesting national myths fiction continues to construct the 1914 1918 conflict as a cultural trauma illuminating at the same time some of our most recent ethical concerns A Sourcebook of Canadian Media Law Robert Martin, Gordon Stuart Adam, 1994 This edition examines the Canadian Constitution and its effect on the principle of freedom of expression The balance of the book directs attention to the laws that have been enacted that limit such freedom Backwoodsmen as Ecocritical Motif in French Canadian Literature Anne Rehill, 2016-08-30 In New France and early Canada young men who ventured into the forest to hunt and trade with Amerindians coureurs de bois runners of the woods later traveling in big teams of canoes voyageurs were known for their independence Often described as half wild themselves they linked the European and Indian societies eventually helping to form a new culture with elements of both From an ecocritical perspective they represent both negative and positive aspects of the human historical trajectory because in addition to participating in the environmentally abusive fur trade they also symbolize the way forward through intercultural connections and business relationships The four novels analyzed here Joseph Charles Tach's Forestiers et voyageurs Moeurs et lendes canadiennes 1863 Louis H. Mon's Maria Chapdelaine 1916 L. o. Paul Desrosiers Les Engagés du Grand Portage 1938 and Antonine Maillet's Plagie la Charrette 1979 portray the backwoodsmen operating in a collaborative mode within the realistic context of the need to make money They entered folklore through the 19th century literary efforts of Tach and others to construct a distinct French Canadian national identity then in an unstable and continually disrupted process of formation Their entry into literature necessarily brought their Amerindian business and personal partners thus making intercultural connections a foundation of the national identity that Tach and others strove to construct and also mirror As figures in literature they embody changing ideas of the self and of the cultures and ethnicities that they connect both physically and in an abstract sense Because constructions of self identity result in behavior studying this dynamic contributes to ecocritical efforts to better understand human behavior toward both ourselves and our environment The woodsmen and their Amerindian partners occupy the intriguing position of contributing to both damage and greater acceptance of the cultural Other the latter of which holds the promise of collaboration and joint searches for sustainable solutions Thus coureurs de bois and voyageurs far from perfect models can continue to serve as guides today

The French-Canadian Idea of Confederation, 1864-1900 A.I. Silver, 1997-12-15 At Confederation most French Canadians felt their homeland was Quebec they supported the new arrangement because it separated Quebec from Ontario creating an autonomous French Canadian province loosely associated with the others Unaware of other French Canadian groups in British North America Quebecers were not concerned with minority rights but only with the French character and autonomy of their own province However political and economic circumstances necessitated the granting of wide linguistic and educational rights to Quebec's Anglo Protestant minority Growing bitterness over the prominence of this minority in what was expected to be a French province was amplified by the discovery that French Catholic minorities were losing their rights in other parts of Canada Resentment at the fact that Quebec had to grant minority rights while other provinces did not intensified French Quebec nationalism At the same time French Quebecers felt sympathy for their co religionists and co nationalists in other provinces and tried to defend them against assimilating pressures Fighting for the rights of Acadians Franco Ontarians or western M'tis eventually led Quebecers to a new concern for the French fact in other provinces Professor Silver concludes that by 1900 Quebecers had become thoroughly committed to French Canadian rights not just in Quebec but throughout Canada and had become convinced that the very existence of Confederation was based on such rights Originally published in 1982 this new edition includes a new preface and conclusion that reflect upon Quebec's continuing struggle to define its place within Canada and the world
