French Hospitality Racism And North African Immigrants:

French Hospitality Tahar Ben Jelloun, 1999 A Moroccan who emigrated to France in 1971 Tahar Ben Jelloun draws upon his own encounters with racism along with his insights as a practicing psychologist and gifted novelist to elucidate the racial divisions that plague contemporary society North Africa, Islam and the Mediterranean World Julia Clancy-Smith, 2013-11-05 Long regarded as the preserve of French scholars and Francophone audiences due to its significance to France's colonial empire North Africa is increasingly recognized for its own singular importance as a crossover region Situated where Islamic Mediterranean African and European histories intersect the Maghrib has long acted as a cultural conduit mediator and broker From the medieval era when the oasis of Sijilmasa in the Moroccan wilderness funnelled caravan loads of gold into international networks through the 16th century when two superpowers the Ottomans and the Spanish Hapsburgs battled for mastery of the Mediterranean along the North African frontier and well into the 20th century which witnessed one of Africa's cruellest wars unfold in French Algeria the Maghrib has retained its uniqueness as a place where worlds meet Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature Leslie Barnes, 2014-12-01 Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature explores an aspect of modern French literature that has been consistently overlooked in literary histories the relationship between the colonies their cultures languages and people and formal shifts in French literary production Starting from the premise that neither cultural identity nor cultural production can be pure or homogenous Leslie Barnes initiates a new discourse on the French literary canon by examining the work of three iconic French writers with personal connections to Vietnam Andr Malraux Marguerite Duras and Linda L In a thorough investigation of the authors linguistic metaphysical and textual experiences of colonialism Barnes articulates a new way of reading French literature not as an inward looking homogenous monolingual tradition but rather as a tradition of intersecting and interdependent peoples cultures and experiences One of the few books to focus on Vietnam's position within francophone literary scholarship Barnes challenges traditional concepts of French cultural identity and offers a new perspective on canonicity and the division between French and francophone literature The Riviera, Exposed Stephen L. Harp, 2022-05-15 A sweeping social and environmental history The Riviera Exposed illuminates the profound changes to the physical space that we know as the quintessential European tourist destination Stephen L Harp uncovers the behind the scenes impact of tourism following World War II both on the environment and on the people living and working on the Riviera particularly North African laborers who not only did much of the literal rebuilding of the Riviera but also suffered in that process Outside of Paris the Riviera has been the most visited region in France depending almost exclusively on tourism as its economic lifeline Until recently we knew a great deal about the tourists but much less about the social and environmental impacts of their activities or about the life stories of the North African workers upon whom the Riviera's prosperity rests The technologies embedded in roads airports hotels water lines sewers beaches and marinas all required human intervention and travelers were encouraged to disregard this intervention Harp s sharp analysis explores the impacts of massive construction and public works projects revealing the invisible infrastructure of tourism its environmental effects and the immigrants who built the Riviera The Riviera Exposed unearths a gritty history one of human labor and ecological degradation that forms the true foundation of the glamorous Riviera of tourist mythology The Unsettling of Europe Peter Gatrell,2019-08-27 An acclaimed historian examines postwar migration s fundamental role in shaping modern Europe Migration is perhaps the most pressing issue of our time and it has completely decentered European politics in recent years But as we consider the current refugee crisis acclaimed historian Peter Gatrell reminds us that the history of Europe has always been one of people on the move The end of World War II left Europe in a state of confusion with many Europeans virtually stateless Later as former colonial states gained national independence colonists and their supporters migrated to often unwelcoming metropolises The collapse of communism in 1989 marked another fundamental turning point Gatrell places migration at the center of post war European history and the aspirations of migrants themselves at the center of the story of migration This is an urgent history that will reshape our understanding of modern Europe French Civilization and Its Discontents Tyler Edward Stovall,Georges Van den Abbeele,2003-01-01 French Civilization and Its Discontents Nationalism Colonialism Race explores the ways in which considerations of difference especially colonialism post colonialism and race have shaped French culture and French studies in the modern era Rejecting traditional assimilationist notions of French national identity contributors to this groundbreaking volume demonstrate how literature history and other aspects of what is considered French civilization have been shaped by processes of creolization and differentiation Race and Nation Paul R. Spickard,2005 Race and Nation offers a comparison of the various racial ethnic systems that have developed around the world in locations that include China New Zealand Eritrea Jamaica Race and War in France Richard S. Fogarty,2008-08-15 Reservoirs of men Race and the deployment of troupes indig nes Hierarchies of rank hierarchies of race Race and language in the army Religion and the problem of Islam in the French army Race sex and imperial anxieties Between subjects and citizens Uncivil War James D. Le Sueur,2021-10-19 Uncivil War is a provocative study of the intellectuals who confronted the loss of France s most prized overseas possession colonial Algeria Tracing the intellectual history of one of the most violent and pivotal wars of European decolonization James D Le Sueur illustrates how key figures such as Albert Camus Jean Paul Sartre Simone de Beauvoir Germaine Tillion Jacques Soustelle Raymond Aron Claude L vi Strauss Albert Memmi Frantz Fanon Mouloud Feraoun Jean Amrouche and Pierre Bourdieu agonized over the Algerian question As Le Sueur argues these individuals and others forged new notions of the nation and nationalism giving rise to a politics of identity that continues to influence debate around the world This edition features an important new chapter on the intellectual responses to the recent torture debates in France the civil war in Algeria and terrorism since September 11 The Rise and Fall of Modern Empires, Volume IV Martin Shipway,2016-12-05 The collection of essays in this volume offers an overview of scholarly approaches to the ways in which diverse actors representing the colonised or the colonising nations or indeed the international community reacted to colonialism during the lifetime of the modern colonial empires or in their aftermath. The coverage is broad in terms of geographical scope and historical period with articles on the major colonial empires in Asia and Africa and the imperial centres of Paris, London and Berlin from the conquests of the late nineteenth century to the period of decolonisation. The selection also reflects recent academic trends by focusing on countries whose colonial past and experience of decolonisation have been studied and debated with particular intensity such as Algeria, Kenya and India. The volume draws on previously published articles and book chapters by leading international scholars writing in or translated into English and includes a critical introduction which situates each essay in relation to recent debates in this dynamic and expanding field of study.

Food Practices and Family Lives in Urban China Chen Liu, 2020-11-18. This book explores the emergent relationship between food and family in contemporary China through an empirical case study of Guangzhou, a typical city to understand the texture of everyday life in the new consumerist society. The primary focus of this book is on the family dynamics of middle income households in Guangzhou where everyday food practices including growing, food shopping, storing, cooking, feeding and eating play a pivotal role. The book aims to conduct a comprehensive and integrated analysis of themes such as material and emotional domestic cultures, family relationships and social connections between the domestic and the public based on a discussion of family food practices. These topics will not only offer academic readers a full understanding of the most innovative recent critical engagements with urban Chinese families but also provide more general readers with a broader view of food consumption patterns within the scope of domestic and family issues. This book will be of interest to sociologists, anthropologists and human geographers as well as post graduate students who are interested in food studies and Chinese studies.

The Cultures of Economic Migration Tope Omoniyi, 2016-03-16. This volume explores the processes of economic migration, the social conditions that follow it and the discourses that underlie research into it. Reflecting critically on economic migration and on the process of studying and creating knowledge about it, the contributors address the question of whether recent enquiries into modernity bring a newer and better comprehension of the nature of dislocation and movement or whether these serve simply to replicate familiar modes of placing people and individuals. The book is organized into perspectives in and on specific continents: Europe, Asia and Africa in order to explore notions regarding economic migration within and across regions as well as towards displacing the Eurocentrism of many studies of migration.

Muslim Citizens in the West Samina Yasmeen, Nina Markovic, 2016-04-29. Drawing upon original case studies spanning North America, Europe and Australia, Muslim Citizens in the West explores how Muslims have been both the excluded and the excluders within the wider societies in which they live. The book extends debates on the inclusion and exclusion of Muslim minorities beyond ideas of marginalisation to show that while there have undoubtedly been increased incidences of Islamophobia since September 2001, some Muslim groups have played their own part in separating themselves from the wider society The cases examined show how these tendencies span geographical ethnic and gender divides and can be encouraged by a combination of international and national developments prompting some groups to identify wider society as the other Muslim and non Muslim scholars and practitioners in political science social work history and law also highlight positive outcomes in terms of Muslim activism with relationship to their respective countries and suggest ways in which increasing tensions felt perceived or assumed can be eased and greater emphasis given to the role Muslims can play in shaping their place in the wider communities where they live The Punishment Tahar Ben Jelloun,2020-04-14 An innocent man s gripping personal account of terrifying confinement by the Moroccan military during the reign of a formidable twentieth century despot In 1967 Tahar Ben Jelloun a peaceful young political protestor was one of nearly a hundred other hapless men taken into punitive custody by the Moroccan army It was a time of dangerous importance in Moroccan history and they were treated with a chilling brutality that not all of them survived This powerful portrait of the author s traumatic experience written with a memoirist s immediacy reveals both his helpless terror and his desperate hope to survive by drawing strength from his love of literature Shaken to the core by his disillusionment with a brutal regime unsure of surviving his ordeal he stole some paper and began to secretly write with the admittedly romantic idea of leaving some testament behind a veiled denunciation of the evils of his time His first poem was published after he was unexpectedly released and his vocation was born The Preparation of the Novel Roland Barthes,2011 Completed just weeks before his death the lectures in this volume mark a critical juncture in the career of Roland Barthes in which he declared the intention deeply felt to write a novel Unfolding over the course of two years Barthes engaged in a unique pedagogical experiment he combined teaching and writing to simulate the trial of novel writing exploring every step of the creative process along the way Barthes s lectures move from the desire to write to the actual decision making planning and material act of producing a novel He meets the difficulty of transitioning from short concise notations exemplified by his favorite literary form haiku to longer uninterrupted flows of narrative and he encounters a number of setbacks Barthes takes solace in a diverse group of writers including Dante whose La Vita Nuova was similarly inspired by the death of a loved one and he turns to classical philosophy Taoism and the works of Francois Ren Chateaubriand Gustave Flaubert Franz Kafka and Marcel Proust This book uniquely includes eight elliptical plans for Barthes s unwritten novel which he titled Vita Nova and lecture notes that sketch the critic s views on photography Following on The Neutral Lecture Course at the Coll ge de France 1977 1978 and a third forthcoming collection of Barthes lectures this volume provides an intensely personal account of the labor and love of writing The Resistance in Western Europe, 1940-1945 Olivier Wieviorka,2019-09-03 In just three months in 1940 Denmark Norway Belgium the Netherlands Luxembourg and France fell to the Nazis The German occupation of Western Europe had begun but a brave few rose up in defiance National resistance has long been celebrated in remembrances of World War II depicted as making significant contributions to the defeat of Nazi Germany However the so called army of shadows drew heavily on the support of London and Washington a fact often forgotten in postwar Europe The Resistance in Western Europe 1940 1945 is a sweeping analytical history of the underground anti Nazi forces during World War II Examining clandestine organizations in Norway Denmark the Netherlands Belgium France and Italy Olivier Wieviorka sheds new light on the factors that shaped the resistance and its place in the grand scheme of Anglo American military strategy While national actors played a leading role in fomenting resistance British and American intelligence services and propaganda as well as financial material and logistical support were crucial to its activities and growth Wieviorka illuminates the policies of governments in exile and resistance actors regarding cooperation with the British and Americans pointing to the persistence of national self interest and long standing historical tensions Drawing on a wide range of archival sources and bringing together the political diplomatic and military dimensions of the conflict this book is the first account of the resistance on a continental scale and from a trans European perspective Passions of Our Time Julia

Kristeva,2019-07-30 Julia Kristeva is a true polymath an intellectual of astonishingly wide range whose erudition and insight have been brought to bear on psychoanalysis literary criticism gender and sex and cultural critique Passions of Our Time showcases recent essays of Kristeva s that demonstrate the scope of her capacious intellect her gifts as a stylist and the profound contribution of her thought to the challenges of the present The collection begins with vivid recollection of celebrating as a child in Bulgaria Alphabet Day the holiday honoring the Cyrillic letters which proceeds outward into a contemplation of the writer as translator Kristeva considers literature with Barthes freedom through Rousseau Teresa of Avila and mystical experience Simone de Beauvoir s dream life and Antigone and the psychic life of women A group of essays drawing on her psychoanalytic work delve into Freud Lacan maternal eroticism and the continued importance of psychoanalysis today In a series of striking investigations she thinks through disability and normativity monotheism and secularization the need to believe and the desire to know Calling for the courage to renew and reinvent humanism she outlines the principles of a stance founded on the importance of respecting human life Finally Kristeva discusses French culture and diversity rethinking universalism and interrogating the potential for Islam and psychoanalysis to meet and pays homage to Beauvoir by rephrasing her dictum into the provocative One is born woman but I become one Moved by the Past Eelco Runia,2014-05-06

Historians go to great lengths to avoid confronting discontinuity searching for explanations as to why such events as the fall of the Berlin Wall George W Bush s invasion of Iraq and the introduction of the euro logically develop from what came before Moved by the Past radically breaks with this tradition of predating the past incites us to fully acknowledge the discontinuous nature of discontinuities and proposes to use the fact that history is propelled by unforeseeable leaps and bounds as a starting point for a truly evolutionary conception of history Integrating research from a variety of disciplines Eelco Runia identifies two modes of being moved by the past regressive and revolutionary In the regressive mode the past may either overwhelm us as in nostalgia or provoke us to act out what we believe to be solidly dead

When we are moved by the past in a revolutionary sense we may be said to embody history we burn our bridges behind us and create accomplished facts we have no choice but to live up to In the final thesis of Moved by the Past humans energize their own evolution by habitually creating situations catastrophes or sublime historical events that put a premium on mutations This book therefore illuminates how every now and then we chase ourselves away from what we were and force ourselves to become what we are Proposing a simple yet radical change in perspective Runia profoundly reorients how we think and theorize about history

We Are All Cannibals Claude Lévi-Strauss, 2016-03-15 On Christmas Eve 1951 Santa Claus was hanged and then publicly burned outside of the Cathedral of Dijon in France That same decade ethnologists began to study the indigenous cultures of central New Guinea and found men and women affectionately consuming the flesh of the ones they loved Everyone calls what is not their own custom barbarism said Montaigne In these essays Claude Lévi Strauss shows us behavior that is bizarre shocking and even revolting to outsiders but consistent with a people's culture and context These essays relate meat eating to cannibalism female circumcision to medically assisted reproduction and mythic thought to scientific thought They explore practices of incest and patriarchy nature worship versus man made material obsessions the perceived threat of art in various cultures and the innovations and limitations of secular thought Lévi Strauss measures the short distance between complex and primitive societies and finds a shared madness in the ways we enact myth ritual and custom Yet he also locates a pure and persistent ethics that connects the center of Western civilization to far flung societies and forces a reckoning with outmoded ideas of morality and reason

Everyone Dies Young Marc Augé, 2016-05-24 We are awash in time savoring a few moments of it we project ourselves into it reinvent it play with it we take our time or let it slip away it is the raw material of our imagination Age on the other hand is the detailed account of the days that pass the one way view of the years whose total sum when set forth can stupefy us Age wedges each of us between a date of birth that at least in the West we know for certain and an expiration date that as a general rule we would like to defer Time is a freedom age a constraint Marc Augé remembers his beloved childhood cat who seemed to grow wise with age though her essential nature remained unchanged He considers our belief that objects mature when it is our perception of them that evolves over time He wonders why public demonstrations of affection between the elderly make the young so uncomfortable and why we torture ourselves with regret at what might have been Time can be liberating he finds it is a resource we can squander or relish Yet age is a burden bound by our personal and cultural neuroses With an ethnologist's understanding of construct and practice Augé isolates age from the development of consciousness desire and representations of the self In bold eye opening strokes he casts age as a physical marker and treats one's youthful approach to the world as the true measure of life's value
