French Jewry and the Church-State Dilemma Zvi Jonathan Kaplan, 2025-09-16 This book analyzes the development of Jewish positions on the relationship between Church and State from the Revolution until the Great War It is a comprehensive study of the complex interplay among different segments of the Jewish population and the community's attempt to come to terms with its social and religious status in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries As this book demonstrates the organized French Jewish community strategically charted the political waters by steering clear of extremist political positions and by adopting a soft clerical approach to Church State issues This centrist approach subjected French Jews to criticism from both anticlerical and clerical forces but nonetheless the rabbinate consistorial officials and the Jewish press believed that French Judaism and French Jewry would thrive most in a climate of moderation

Race and Sex across the French Atlantic

Frieda Ekotto, 2012-07-10 Jean Genet's masterpiece Les Nègres was first published in 1958 in the midst of the Algerian war and first performed at the Théâtre de Lutèce in Paris in October 1959. Yet even though the play is more than 50 years old it remains a fundamental contribution to critical race theory as Genet unequivocally posits that no matter what a black person does or doesn't do simply to be black in our times is itself a tragedy. Placing Genet in the context of Negritude movement Race and Sex across the French Atlantic equally reveals and examines blackness within the African American dialogue with a white French author's provocative questions about race: Is a black man always black and even more fundamentally, What is blackness? Within this framework to question blackness therefore is to set out on an ontological quest as blackness has become a real living thing in its own right within European ideology, social theory and historical consciousness even as Les Nègres has taken its place as a major text in the francophone and philosophical tradition of writing on race. In essence this book concentrates on the way in which language particularly the French language has shaped ideas about race within transatlantic discourses and with its companion continental philosophy has also shaped the historical understanding of discourse on race. It navigates between multiple readings of race within the French Atlantic using Lorraine Hansberry's play Les Blancs, Dany Laferrière's Comment faire l'amour avec un Nègre sans se fatiguer, Genet's dialogue with the Black Panthers and different conceptions of the so-called N-word. Race and Sex across the French Atlantic thus explores how Les Nègres offered a groundbreaking reading of how race functioned and continues to function as an all-pervasive discourse that provides a central principle around which society in general is organized. The play stages a deeply self-reflexive and critical examination of the very essence of Women, Work, and the French State Mary Lynn Stewart, 1989 In France during the 1880s and 1890s the protection of women and girls in the workplace was advocated by sociologists, social economists, union leaders, enlightened industrialists and politicians of virtually every ideological hue. In response laws were enacted restricting not only the number of hours and the time of day that women could work but also their access to dangerous trades. Mary Lynn Stewart argues that these restrictions though initiated to protect women and girls were actually a method of exploiting women's dual role of short-time wage worker and unpaid housewife and mother.

French Muslims in Perspective Joseph Downing, 2019-05-24 With the largest Muslim population in Western Europe France has faced a number of critiques in its attempts to assimilate Muslims into an ostensibly secular but predominantly Catholic state and society This book challenges traditional analyses that emphasise the conflict between Muslims and the French state and broader French society by exploring the intersection of Muslim faith with other identities as well as the central roles of Muslims in French civil society politics and the media The tensions created by attacks on French soil by Islamic State have contributed to growing acceptance of the Islamophobic discourse of Marine Le Pen and her far right Front National party and debates about issues such as headscarves and burkinis have garnered worldwide attention Downing addresses these issues from a new angle eschewing the traditional us and them narrative and offering a more nuanced account based on people's actual lived experiences French Muslims in Perspective will be of interest to students and scholars across sociology politics international relations cultural studies European Studies and French studies as well as policy makers and practitioners involved in immigration education and media
