Freedom To Do Gods Will Religious Fundamentalism And Social Change:

The Freedom to do God's Will James Busuttill, Gerrie ter Haar, 2003-09-02 Under the auspices of top international commentators The Freedom to do God's Will considers the global impact of fundamentalism on religious traditions including Hinduism Buddhism Mormonism Christianity Judaism and Islam With special reference to human rights issues women's rights and the influence of social factors it brings a new dimension to a field of study often dominated by purely religious or political perspectives whilst challenging received ideas about the violence and conservatism of fundamentalist movements Illustrated with original case studies the ten investigative essays from a multicultural panel of experts each with specific local and academic knowledge of the faiths and issues they discuss offer an intimate and highly specific portrait of why and how fundamentalism occurs

The Sociology of Religion George Lundskow, 2008-06-10 Most Sociology of Religion texts are decidedly staid and uninteresting covering contemporary developments which are only contemporary only from a disciplinary perspective They are not contemporary if viewed from the perspective of the religion's practitioners in religious and non religious settings The textbooks that attempt to be interesting to undergraduate students often fall short because they either try to cover too much in an encyclopedic format or sacrifice a sociological perspective for a personal one Many use real life examples only superficially to illustrate concepts Lundskow's approach is the opposite students will learn the facts of religion in its great diversity all the most interesting and compelling beliefs and practices and then learn relevant concepts that can be used to explain empirical observations The book thus follows the logic of actual research investigate and then analyze rather than approaching concepts with no real bearing on how religion is experienced in society This approach using provocative examples and with an eye toward the historical and theoretical not to mention global experience of religion will make this book a success in the classroom The author envisions a substantive approach that examines religion as it actually exists in all its forms including belief ritual daily living identity institutions social movements social control and social change Within these broad categories the book will devote particular chapters to important historical moments and movements leaders and various individual religions that have shaped the contemporary form and effect of religion in the world today

A Guide to the Phenomenology of Religion James Cox, 2006-08-15 Provides an introduction and overview to the Phenomenology of Religion through describing analysing and evaluating the ideas of key thinkers in the phenomenology of religion This book also examines the thinking of scholars within the Dutch British and North American schools of religious phenomenology

Holy Warriors, Infidels, and Peacemakers in Africa Y. Sutcliffe, 2017-03-02 Treating religion as a fully social cultural historical and material field of practice this book presents a series of debates and positions on the nature and

Perspectives on theology of religions

Jaco Beyers, Piet J. van der Merwe, Wilhelmina Magdalena Shaw, Ronald Allen Baatsen, Johannes Janse van Rensburg, Tessa Freeman, 2017-11-23 In the public theology discourse the concept public square has become significant In today s multicultural and globalised world it is inevitable that people with different religious affiliations will encounter one another in the public square Public theology cannot but become theology of religions Scholars in the field of religion studies are compelled to reflect theologically on the relevance of religiosity in the postmodern secular world The term theology of religions refers to the academic inquiry into the relationship between religions The collected essays constitute such an inquiry In the end it is not so much about the encounter of religions but rather of people Religion is no longer regarded as a monolithic body of beliefs and practices The authors concede that the concept religion is too fluid to be delineated precisely The book s approach to the relationship between religions i e theology of religions reflects how the authors understand the origin and nature of religion a theology of religion in the singular This book focuses more on theology of religions plural than on theology of religion singular The main objective of the book is to present a variety of perspectives on how theology of religions manifested in different contexts This includes historical i e Luther s theology of religions and the Roman Catholic position on other religions as taken by Vatican II as well as cultural and religious perspectives In the first chapter the editor gives a brief overview of the development of the discipline of theology of religions The postmodern era is characterised by an almost non foundational approach The second chapter traces the development of the discipline in the Roman Catholic tradition in particular This contribution is based on the insights of P J van der Merwe 1944 2014 who as researcher and Head of the Department of Science of Religion and Missiology at the University of Pretoria developed a specific theological position on non Christian religions A whole generation of theologians was trained in this school of thought He passed away in 2014 and this publication pays tribute to his life s work on religions and their relations The contributions that follow are the culmination of the research of postgraduate students at the University of Pretoria The third chapter presents a perspective on the Reformation with a particular focus on Martin Luther In this year of the quinentenary anniversary of the Reformation the legacy of Reformed belief is highlighted The fourth chapter describes the relationship between Christianity and Islam from the perspective of a willingness to embrace The fifth chapter analyses the relation between Christianity Judaism and Islam from the perspective of intergroup threat theory A model for theology of religions in a South African context is developed in the sixth and final chapter This scholarly book pays tribute to the academic contribution of P J van der Merwe mentor of the authors of these multifaceted reflections on theology of religions The target audience is specialists in the field of religion studies The distinctive contribution of the book is the innovative perspectives on the relationship between Islam and Christianity in both the Roman Catholic and Protestant contexts International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity Sit on Our Hands, or Stand on Our Feet? Roger Philip Abbott, 2013-01-07 The aim of Sit on Our Hands or Stand on Our Feet is not to present a theology that explains disasters In fact there is no such theology Nor is this work primarily for those who are responded to it is not part of the theological grab bag that Christian responders carry with them to use for the benefit of casualties It is more a part of the Christian's engaged practical theological apprenticeship prior to and during a response This book represents the role of the practical theologian who empowers the church community's legitimation and contribution in disaster response and who encourages individual Christians whose calling into particularly relevant professions whose natural skills and or professional training could find them placed in a major incident responding status paid or voluntary doing their work as unto the Lord It is a serious must read for any Christians who have hearts heavy with compassion but who are not sure what to do or why when disaster strikes Bridge Or Barrier Gerrie Ter Haar, James J. Busuttil, 2005 Annotation This collection of essays focuses on religion and violence in the so called brahmic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam An additional chapter on Buddhism highlights the comprehensive vision of this religious tradition in the field of peace building The book discusses the transformative role of religion in situations of violent conflict It considers both the constructive and destructive sides of religious belief and particularly explores ways in which religion s may contribute to transforming conflict into peace
