Engagement in 21st Century French and Francophone Culture Helena Chadderton, Angela Kimyongür, 2017-11-08 In the face of the contested legacy of engagement in the Francophone context this interdisciplinary collection demonstrates that French and Francophone writers artists intellectuals and film makers are using their work to confront unforeseen and unprecedented challenges campaigns and causes in a politically uncertain post 9 11 world Composed of eleven essays and a contextualising introduction this volume is interdisciplinary in its treatment of engagement in a variety of forms as it reassesses the relationship between different types of cultural production and society as it is played out in the twenty first century With a focus on both the development of different cultural forms Part 1 and on the particular crises that have attracted the attention of cultural practitioners Part 2 this volume maps and analyses some of the ways in which cultural texts of all kinds are being used to respond to engage with and challenge crises in the contemporary Francophone world

Rethinking the French Classroom E. Nicole Meyer, Joyce Johnston, 2018-12-13 This volume investigates how teaching practices can address the changing status of literature in the French classroom Focusing on how women writing in French are changing the face of French Studies opening the canon to not only new approaches to gender but to genre expanding interdisciplinary studies and aiding scholars to rethink the teaching of literature each chapter provides concrete strategies useful to a wide variety of classrooms and institutional contexts Essays address how to bring French Studies and women's and gender studies into the twenty first century through intersections of autobiography gender issues and technology ways to introduce beginning and intermediate students to the rich diversity of women writing in French strategies for teaching postcolonial writing and literary theory and interdisciplinary approaches to expand our student audiences in the United States Canada or abroad In short revisiting how we teach why we teach and what we teach through the prism of women's texts and lives while raising issues that affect cisgender women of the Hexagon queer and other gendered women immigrants and residents of the postcolony attracts more openly diverse students Whether new to the profession or seasoned educators faculty will find new ideas to invigorate and diversify their pedagogical approaches

Transnational French Studies Alec G. Hargreaves, Charles Forsdick, David Murphy, Nora Hertel, 2010-01-01 In March 2007 France's Le Monde published a Manifesto for a World Literature in French a proposal to recast Francophone literature as world literature written in French Signed by a multinational group of forty four authors many from former French colonies the manifesto has drawn mixed reactions Praised by some for breaking down the hierarchical division between French and Francophone literature it has been criticized by others for recreating that division through the exoticism of the Francophone body of work In Transnational French Studies leading scholars address this debate and assess the wider question of the evolving status of French Francophone and postcolonial studies amid the challenges of globalization

Entre Hommes Todd W. Reeser, Lewis Carl Seifert, 2008 Despite its debt to French thought for theoretical constructs masculinity studies have been dominated by work on English language texts and contexts Entre Hommes lays the foundation for French and Francophone masculinity studies in both a cultural and theoretical sense This ground breaking volume considers what is meant by French or Francophone masculinities per se and how these identities have or have not changed over time with essays spanning periods from the Middle Ages to the present An introduction situates the study of masculinity within the work of recent French thinkers and essays examine both key writers and recurring cultural images

Engagement in Twenty-first-century French and Francophone Culture Helena Chadderton, Angela Kimyongür, 2017 In the face of the contested legacy of engagement in the Francophone context this interdisciplinary collection demonstrates that French and Francophone writers artists intellectuals and film makers are using their work to confront unforeseen and unprecedented challenges campaigns and causes in a politically uncertain post 9 11 world Composed of eleven essays and a contextualising introduction this volume is interdisciplinary in its treatment of engagement in a variety of forms as it reassesses the relationship between different types of cultural production and society as it is played out in the twenty first century With a focus on both the development of different cultural forms Part 1 and on the particular crises that have attracted the attention of cultural practitioners Part 2 this volume maps and analyses some of the ways in which cultural texts of all kinds are being used to respond to engage with and challenge crises in the contemporary Francophone world Page 4 of cover

Translation in French and Francophone Literature and Film James T. Day, 2009 This volume collects papers presented at the annual French Literature Conference sponsored by the Department of Languages Literatures and Cultures of the University of South Carolina

Travel in Twentieth-Century French and Francophone Cultures Charles Forsdick, 2005-05-19 This book is one of the first studies of twentieth century travel literature in French tracking the form from the colonial past to the postcolonial present Whereas most recent explorations of travel literature have addressed English language material Forsdick's study complements these by presenting a body of material that has previously attracted little attention ranging from conventional travel writing to other cultural phenomena such as the Colonial Exposition of 1931 in which changing attitudes to travel are apparent Travel in Twentieth Century French and Francophone Cultures explores the evolution of attitudes to cultural diversity explaining how each generation seems simultaneously to foretell the collapse and reinvention of elsewhere It also follows the progressive renegotiation of understandings of travel and travel literature across the twentieth century focusing in particular on the emergence of travel narratives from France's former colonies The book suggests that an exclusive colonial understanding of travel as a practice defined along the lines of class gender and ethnicity has slowly been transformed so that travel has become an enabling figure encapsulated in notions such as James Clifford's traveling cultures central to analyses of contemporary global culture Engaging initially with Victor Segalen's early twentieth century reflection on travel and exoticism and Albert Kahn's Archives de la Plan te Forsdick goes on to examine a series of interrelated texts and phenomena early African travel narratives inter war ethnography post war accounts of Citro n 2CV journeys the travel stories of immigrant workers the work of Nicholas Bouvier and the Pour une litt rature voyageuse movement narratives of recent walking journeys and contemporary Polynesian literature In delineating a francophone space stretching far beyond metropolitan France itself the book contributes to new understandings of French and Francophone Studies and will also be of interest to those interested in issues of comparatism as well as colonial and postcolonial culture and identity Liverpool University Press Autumn 2010 Catalogue , From Francophonie to World Literature in

French Th r se Migraine-George,2020-03-01 In 2007 the French newspaper Le Monde published a manifesto titled Toward a World Literature in French signed by forty four writers many from France's former colonies Proclaiming that the francophone label encompassed people who had little in common besides the fact that they all spoke French the manifesto's proponents the so called francophone writers themselves sought to energize a battle cry against the discriminatory effects and prescriptive claims of francophonie In one of the first books to study the movement away from the term francophone to world literature in French Th r se Migraine George engages a literary analysis of contemporary works in exploring the tensions and theoretical debates surrounding world literature in French She focuses on works by a diverse group of contemporary French speaking writers who straddle continents Nina Bouraoui H l ne Cixous Maryse Cond Marie NDiaye Tierno Mon nembo and Lyonel Trouillot What these writers have in common beyond their use of French is their resistance to the centralizing power of a language their rejection of exclusive definitions and their claim for creative autonomy

Transnational Spaces and Identities in the Francophone World Hafid Gafaiti,2009-07-01 The dissolution of the French Empire and the ensuing rush of immigration have led to the formation of diasporas and immigrant cultures that have transformed French society and the immigrants themselves Transnational Spaces and Identities in the Francophone World examines the impact of this postcolonial immigration on identity in France and in the Francophone world which has encompassed parts of Africa the Middle East Southeast Asia and the Americas Immigrants bear cultural traditions within themselves transform host communities and are in turn transformed These migrations necessarily complicate ideals of national literature culture and history forcing a reexamination and a rearticulation of these ideals Exploring a variety of texts informed by these transnational conceptions of identity and space the contributors to this volume reveal the vitality of Francophone studies within a broad range of disciplines periods and settings They remind us that the idea and reality of Francophonie is not a late twentieth century phenomenon but something that grows out of long term interactions between colonizer and colonized and between peoples of different nationalities ethnicities and religions Truly interdisciplinary this collection engages conceptions of identity with respect to their physical geographic ethnic and imagined realities From Francophonie to World Literature in French Thérèse Migraine-George,2013-12-01 In 2007 the French newspaper Le Monde published a manifesto titled Toward a World Literature in French signed by forty four writers many from France s former colonies Proclaiming that the francophone label encompassed people who had little in common besides the fact that they all spoke French the manifesto s proponents the so called francophone writers themselves sought to energize a battle cry against the discriminatory effects and prescriptive claims of francophonie In one of the first books to study the movement away from the term francophone to world literature in French Th r se Migraine George engages a literary analysis of contemporary works in exploring the tensions and theoretical debates surrounding world literature in French She focuses on works by a diverse group of contemporary French speaking writers who straddle continents Nina Bouraoui H l ne Cixous Maryse Cond Marie NDiaye Tierno Mon nembo and Lyonel Trouillot What these writers have in common beyond their use of French is their resistance to the centralizing power of a language their rejection of exclusive definitions and their claim for creative autonomy French in and Out of France Kamal Salhi,2002 This book examines policy planning and implementation and language variation in the realm of intercultural communication in France Europe the Americas Australia North and Sub Saharan Africa and the Middle East The book aims to discern trends in the development of the capacity of Francophone speakers to engage in dialogue across linguistic boundaries Each study in the volume seeks to evaluate and analyse the antagonistic situations that have resulted from colonial culture and the post independence hegemonic cultures These situations are investigated through their expression in the French language and the languages with which it coexists in the countries considered here The expertise of linguists and language specialists in this volume provides formalist and structural insights and an innovative phenomenology of language and newly available quantitative and qualitative studies of synchronic language These methodologies are applied to a wide range of subject areas law history literature politics and society Taken as a whole the book offers a fresh perspective on the issues surrounding French within and beyond France in the post colonial and Francophone contexts Francophone Post-Colonial Cultures Kamal Salhi,2003-04-28 The recent rise of Francophone studies within French studies has created the need for a one volume exploration of the range of expression in the French language following the colonial period Francophone Post Colonial Cultures collects discussions of literary texts and cultural identity from Europe North Africa the Caribbean and South Asia regions of the world that seem to have only the French language in common Despite enormous differences among all the countries where French is spoken Francophone literatures tend to deal with a similar spread of issues This volume positions the study of the Francophone world and its cultures as a comparative project in which post colonial Francophone cultures and the specific alterity of these cultures emerge as inextricable from and essential to an understanding of modern France Organized by region boasting an international roster of contributors and including summaries of selected creative and critical works and a guide to selected terms and figures Francophone Post Colonial Cultures is an ideal resource for scholars of French literature and advanced students looking to read beyond the French literary canon Transnational French Studies Charles Forsdick, Claire Launchbury, 2023-10-01 The contributors to Transnational French Studies situate this disciplinary subfield of Modern Languages in actively transnational frameworks The key objective of the volume is to define the core set of skills and methodologies that constitute the study of French culture as a transnational transcultural and translingual phenomenon Written by leading scholars within the field chapters demonstrate the type of inquiry that can be pursued into the transnational realities both material and non material that are integral to what is referred to as French culture The book considers the transnational dimensions of being human in the world by focussing on four key practices which constitute the object of study for students of French language and multilingualism the construction of transcultural places and the corresponding sense of space the experience of time and transnational subjectivities The underlying premise of the volume is that the transnational is present and has long been present throughout what we define as French history and culture Chapters address instances and phenomena associated with the transnational from prehistory to the present opening up the geopolitical map of French studies beyond France and including sites where communities identified as French have formed

Women's Lives in Contemporary French and Francophone Literature Florence Ramond Journey, Karen McPherson, 2016-10-13 The essays in this volume provide an overview and critical account of prevalent trends and theoretical arguments informing current investigations into literary treatments of motherhood and aging They explore how two key stages in women s lives maternity and old age are narrated and defined in fictions and autobiographical writings by contemporary French and francophone women Through close readings of Maryse Condé, Hélène Cixous, Zahia Rahmani, Linda L. Pierrette Fleutieux and Michèle Sarde among others these essays examine related topics such as dispossession, female friendship and women s relationships with their mothers By adopting a broad synthetic approach to these two distinct and defining stages in women s lives this volume elucidates how these significant transitional moments set the stage for women s evolving definitions and interrogations of their identities and roles Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature Leslie Barnes, 2014-12-01 Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature explores an aspect of modern French literature that has been consistently overlooked in literary histories the relationship between the colonies their cultures, languages and people and formal shifts in French literary production Starting from the premise that neither cultural identity nor cultural production can be pure or homogenous Leslie Barnes initiates a new discourse on the French literary canon by examining the work of three iconic French writers with personal connections to Vietnam Andr Malraux Marguerite Duras and Linda L In a thorough investigation of the authors linguistic metaphysical and textual experiences of colonialism Barnes articulates a new way of reading French literature not as an inward looking homogenous monolingual tradition but rather as a tradition of intersecting and interdependent peoples cultures and experiences One of the few books to focus on Vietnam s position within francophone literary scholarship Barnes challenges traditional concepts of French cultural identity and offers a new perspective on canonicity and the division between French and francophone literature The French in Our Lives Kathleen Stein-Smith,2021-12-28 The French in Our Lives examines the profound influence of French language culture and thought in the world and specifically on the US and Americans throughout history While many books discuss the similarities and differences between the two cultures this book focuses on the influences frequently overlooked of French culture on the US The insights provided through this examination promote a better appreciation and understanding of the significance of the French language and of French ideas and values throughout the world and in the US Designed to enhance awareness of the significance of the French language and Francophone culture in the US and globally this book will be of interest to students and instructors across disciplines from French language and culture to US history and international studies Diversity and Decolonization in French Studies Siham Bouamer,Loïc Bourdeau,2022-04-04 This edited volume presents new and original approaches to teaching the French foreign language curriculum reconceptualizing the French classroom through a more inclusive lens The volume engages with a broad range of scholars to facilitate an understanding of the process of French de colonization as well as its reverberations into the postcolonial era and a deeper engagement with the global interconnectedness of these processes Chapters in Part I revisit the concept of the francophonie decenter the field from metropolitan or hexagonal and white France and underline how current teaching materials reproduce epistemic and colonial violence Part II adopts an intersectional approach to address topics of gender inclusivity trans affirming teaching queer materials and ableism Finally Part III presents new ways to transform the discipline by affirming our commitment to social justice and making sure that our classrooms are representative of our students enriching diversity
