Mohr, 2010-05-05 The much anticipated anthology on Plato's Timaeus Plato's singular dialogue on the creation of the universe the nature of the physical world and the place of persons in the cosmos examining all dimensions of one of the most important books in Western Civilization its philosophy cosmology science and ethics its literary aspects and reception Contributions come from leading scholars in their respective fields including Sir Anthony Leggett 2003 Nobel Laureate for Physics Parts of or earlier versions of these papers were first presented at the Timaeus Conference held at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign in September of 2007 To this day Plato's Timaeus grounds the form of ethical and political thinking called Natural Law the view that there are norms in nature that provide the patterns for our actions and ground the objectivity of human values Beyond the intellectual content of the dialogue's core its literary frame is also the source of the myth of Atlantis giving the West the concept of the lost world The A to Z of French Cinema Dayna Oscherwitz, MaryEllen Higgins, 2009-09-02 It can be argued that cinema was created in France by Louis Lumière in 1895 with the invention of the cinematographe the first true motion picture camera and projector While there were other cameras and devices invented earlier that were capable of projecting intermittent motion of images the cinematographe was the first device capable of recording and externally projecting images in such a way as to convey motion Early films such as Lumière's La Sortie de l'usine a minute long film of workers leaving the Lumière factory captured the imagination of the nation and quickly inspired the likes of Georges Méliès Alice Guy and Charles Pathé Through the years French cinema has been responsible for producing some of the world's best directors Jean Renoir Jean-Luc Godard François Truffaut and Louis Malle and actors Charles Boyer Catherine Deneuve Gérard Depardieu and Audrey Tautou The A to Z of French Cinema covers the history of French film from the silent era to the present in a concise and up-to-date volume detailing the development of French cinema and major theoretical and cultural issues related to it This is done through a chronology an introduction photographs a bibliography and hundreds of cross-referenced dictionary entries on many of the major actors directors films movements producers and studios associated with French cinema Going beyond mere biographical information entries also discuss the impact and significance of each individual film movement or studio included This detailed scholarly analysis of the development of film in France is useful to both the novice and the expert alike Unthinking Eurocentrism Ella Shohat, Robert Stam, 2013-09-27 This excellent book corrects eurocentric criticism from media studies in the past by examining Hollywood movie genres such as the western and the musical from a multicultural perspective Cinema, Colonialism, Postcolonialism Dina Sherzer, 2010-07-05 In this first major study of French colonial and postcolonial cinema Dina Sherzer compiles essays by some of the foremost scholars on the subject who interrogate and analyze the realities behind the images of the nation's past and present Through an examination of France and its colonies multiethnic contemporary France and cinematic discourses which have been and are being produced about France's colonial past these authors explore how the images relay underlying assumptions and their relation to historical and political facts A variety of subjects and viewpoints inform these studies which cover the entire range of films on that topic The authors expound upon the role French and Francophone films are currently playing in reconstructing and imagining France's colonial past Not only do the essays examine how French cinema has represented the encounter of French citizens with individuals from former colonies during the colonial era they examine how French cinema has portrayed and has come to terms with the immigration of former colonial subjects to France In addition the book features another postcolonial facet by analyzing films of directors from the former colonies who give their own representation of colonialism and presentation of their culture This study is a major contribution to postcolonial research Race gender and geography are central themes throughout this book that presents innovative material that contributes to the history of French cinema and emphasizes how cinema participates in and is a part of national culture      Cinema and the Invention of Modern Life Leo Charney, Vanessa R. Schwartz, 2023-09-01

Casting aside the traditional conception of film as an outgrowth of photography theater and the novel the essays in this volume reassess the relationship between the emergence of film and the broader culture of modernity Contributors leading scholars in film and cultural studies link the popularity of cinema in the late nineteenth century to emerging cultural phenomena such as window shopping mail order catalogs and wax museums Casting aside the traditional conception of film as an outgrowth of photography theater and the novel the essays in this volume reassess the relationship between the emergence of film and the broader culture of modernity Contributors leading scholars      Irresistible Empire Victoria De Grazia, 2009-07 The most significant conquest of the twentieth century may well have been the triumph of American consumer society over Europe's bourgeois civilization It is this little understood but world shaking campaign that unfolds in de Grazia's account of how the American standard of living defeated the European way of life and achieved the global cultural hegemony that is both its great strength and its key weakness today Tracing the peculiar alliance that arrayed New World salesmanship statecraft and standardized goods against the Old World's values of status craft and good taste de Grazia describes how all alternative strategies fell before America's consumer oriented capitalism first the bourgeois lifestyle then the Third Reich's command consumption and finally the grand experiment of Soviet style socialist planning From publisher description      Republic of Images Alan Williams, 1992-03 Chronicling one of the most popular national cinemas this book traces the evolution of French filmmaking from 1895 the year of the debut of the Cinematographe in Paris to the present day Williams offers a synthesis of history biography aesthetics and film theory      Film - An International Bibliography Malte Hagener, Michael Töteberg, 2016-12-16 Kommentierte Bibliografie Sie gibt Wissenschaftlern Studierenden und Journalisten zuverlässig Auskunft über rund 6000 internationale Veröffentlichungen zum Thema Film und Medien Die vorgestellten

Rubriken reichen von Nachschlagewerk über Filmgeschichte bis hin zu Fernsehen Video Multimedia The Cinema of Poetry P. Adams Sitney, 2015 Informed by the criticism of iconic filmmaker Pier Pasolini The Cinema of Poetry offers spirited explorations of poetry's influence on classic films by Dimitri Kirsanoff Ingmar Bergman and Andrey Tarkovsky It also highlights how avant garde films made by Joseph Cornell Lawrence Jordan Jerome Hiler Gregory Markopoulos and others found rich unexpected sources of inspiration in a diverse group of poets that includes Stéphane Mallarmé Emily Dickinson H D Ezra Pound Robert Duncan John Ashbery and Aeschylus Written with verve and panache it represents the culmination of P Adams Sitney's career long fascination with the intersection of poetry film and the avant garde Doubting Vision Malcolm Turvey, 2008 Jean Epstein Dziga Vertov Bela Balazs and Siegfried Kracauer viewed the cinema as an art of mass enlightenment that escapes the limits of human sight and reveals the true nature of reality Here Turvey offers a detailed exegesis of their work showing how it constitutes a distinct tradition within film history revelationism that continues to have a profound influence on contemporary film theory Criticizing and building on their arguments he shows in what ways film is a genuinely revelatory art Art in Cinema Frank Stauffacher, 2006 Fascinating documentation of one of the most important film societies in American history Camera Works Michael North, 2005 Camera Works is about the impact of photography and film on modern art and literature With examples from the avant garde of the little magazine and from classic authors like Fitzgerald and Hemingway it argues that literature and art become modern by responding to these new means of representation Blaise Cendrars Eric Robertson, 2022-08-04 A new account of the life and work of innovative pseudonymous French poet novelist essayist and film writer Blaise Cendrars In 1912 the young Frédéric Louis Sauser arrived in France carrying an experimental poem and a new identity Blaise Cendrars was born Over the next half century Cendrars wrote innovative poems novels essays film scripts and autobiographical prose His groundbreaking books and collaborations with artists such as Sonia Delaunay and Fernand Léger remain astonishingly modern today Cendrars's writings reflect his insatiable curiosity his vast knowledge which was largely self taught and his love of everyday life In this new account Eric Robertson examines Cendrars's work against a turbulent historical background and reassesses his contribution to twentieth century literature Robertson shows how Cendrars is as relevant today as ever and deserves a wider readership in the English speaking world Mists of Regret Dudley Andrew, 2021-11-09 Just before World War II French cinema reached a high point that has been dubbed the style of poetic realism Working with unforgettable actors like Jean Gabin and Arletty directors such as Renoir Carné Gremillon Duvivier and Chenal routinely captured the prizes for best film at every festival and in every country and their accomplishments led to general agreement that the French were the first to give maturity to the sound cinema Here the distinguished film scholar Dudley Andrew examines the motivations and consequences of these remarkable films by looking at the cultural web in which they were made Beyond giving a rich view of the life and worth of cinema in France Andrew contributes substantially to our knowledge of how films are dealt with in history Where earlier studies have treated the masterpieces of this era either in themselves or as part of the vision of their creators and where certain recent scholars have reacted to this by dissolving the masterpieces back into the system of entertainment that made them possible Andrew stresses the dialogue of culture and cinema In his view the films open questions that take us into the culture while our understanding of the culture gives energy direction and consequence to our reading of the films The book demonstrates the value of this hermeneutic approach for one set of texts and one period but it should very much interest film theorists and film historians of all sorts

The Cine Goes to Town Richard Abel, 2023-09-01 Richard Abel's magisterial new book radically rewrites the history of French cinema between 1896 and 1914 particularly during the years when Path Fr res the first major corporation in the new industry led the world in film production and distribution Based on extensive investigation of rare archival films and documents and drawing on recent social and cultural histories of turn of the century France and the United States his book provides new insights into the earliest history of the cinema Abel tells how early French film entertainment changed from a cinema of attractions to the narrative format that Hollywood would so successfully exploit He describes the popular genres of the era comic chases trick films and f eries historical and biblical stories family melodramas and grand guignol tales crime and detective films and shows the shift from short subjects to feature length films Cinema venues evolved along with the films as live music color effects and other new exhibiting techniques and practices drew larger and larger audiences Abel explores the ways these early films mapped significant differences in French social life helping to produce thoroughly bourgeois citizens for Third Republic France The Cin Goes to Town recovers early French cinema's unique contribution to the development of the mass culture industry As the one hundredth anniversary of cinema approaches this compelling demonstration of film's role in the formation of social and national identity will attract a wide audience of film scholars social and cultural historians and film enthusiasts Richard Abel's magisterial new book radically rewrites the history of French cinema between 1896 and 1914 particularly during the years when Path Fr res the first major corporation in the new industry led the world in film production and distribution
