French Ordinary Murder:

French Ordinary Murder Ray Harrison, 1983 Murdered In Marseille: Three France Crime Thrillers In One Volume Alfred Bekker, 2023-08-08 This volume contains the following novels Marquanteur And The Special Pistol Marquanteur And The Test Of Courage Marquanteur And The Madame Without Scruples A robbery with several deaths has dire consequences What was actually planned as a test of courage for joining a gang results in a gang war in the middle of Marseille and the trail of blood becomes ever wider Commissaires Marquanteur and Leroc have to be careful not to become targets themselves Alfred Bekker is a well known author of fantasy novels thrillers and books for young people In addition to his major book successes he has written numerous novels for suspense series such as Ren Dhark Jerry Cotton Cotton Reloaded Kommissar X John Sinclair and Jessica Bannister He has also published under the names Neal Chadwick Jack Raymond Jonas Herlin Dave Branford Chris Heller Henry Rohmer Conny Walden and Janet Farell Fatal Fictions Alison L. LaCroix, Richard H. McAdams, Martha Craven Nussbaum, 2017 Writers of fiction have always confronted topics of crime and punishment This age old fascination with crime on the part of both authors and readers is not surprising given that criminal justice touches on so many political and psychological themes essential to literature and comes equipped with a trial process that contains its own dramatic structure This volume explores this profound and enduring literary engagement with crime investigation and criminal justice The collected essays explore three themes that connect the world of law with that of fiction First defining and punishing crime is one of the fundamental purposes of government along with the protection of victims by the prevention of crime And yet criminal punishment remains one of the most abused and terrifying forms of political power Second crime is intensely psychological and therefore an important subject by which a writer can develop and explore character A third connection between criminal justice and fiction involves the inherently dramatic nature of the legal system itself particularly the trial Moreover the ongoing public conversation about crime and punishment suggests that the time is ripe for collaboration between law and literature in this troubled domain The essays in this collection span a wide array of genres including tragic drama science fiction lyric poetry autobiography and mystery novels The works discussed include works as old as fifth century BCE Greek tragedy and as recent as contemporary novels memoirs and mystery novels The cumulative result is arresting there are killer wives and crimes against trees a government bureaucrat who sends political adversaries to their death for treason before falling to the same fate himself a convicted murderer who doesn't die when hanged a psychopathological collector whose quite sane kidnapping victim nevertheless also collects Justice Thomas reading and misreading of Bigger Thomas a man who forgives his son's murderer and one who cannot forgive his wife's non-existent adultery fictional detectives who draw on historical analysis to solve murders These essays begin a conversation and they illustrate the great depth and power of crime in literature Murder in the Métro Gayle K. Brunelle, Annette Finley-Croswhite, 2010-05 On the evening of May 16 1937 the train doors opened at the Porte Dorée station in the Paris Métro

to reveal a dying woman slumped by a window an eight inch stiletto buried to its hilt in her neck No one witnessed the crime and the killer left behind little forensic evidence This first ever murder in the Paris M tro dominated the headlines for weeks during the summer of 1937 as journalists and the police slowly uncovered the shocking truth about the victim a twenty nine year old Italian immigrant the beautiful and elusive Laetitia Toureaux Toureaux toiled each day in a factory but spent her nights working as a spy in the seamy Parisian underworld Just as the dangerous spy Mata Hari fascinated Parisians of an earlier generation the mystery of Toureaux s murder held the French public spellbound in pre war Paris as the police tried and failed to identify her assassin In Murder in the M tro Gayle K Brunelle and Annette Finley Croswite unravel Toureaux s complicated and mysterious life assessing her complex identity within the larger political context of the time They follow the trail of Toureaux s murder investigation to the Comit Secret d Action R volutionnaire a secret right wing political organization popularly known as the Cagoule or hooded ones Obsessed with the Communist threat they perceived in the growing power of labor unions and the French left wing the Cagoule s leaders aimed to overthrow France s Third Republic and install an authoritarian regime allied with Italy With Mussolini as their ally and Italian fascism as their model they did not shrink from committing violent crimes and fomenting terror to accomplish their goal In 1936 Toureaux at the behest of the French police infiltrated this dangerous group of terrorists and seduced one of its leaders Gabriel Jeantet to gain more information This operation the authors show eventually cost Toureaux her life The tale of Laetitia Toureaux epitomizes the turbulence of 1930s France as the country prepared for a war most people dreaded but assumed would come This period therefore generated great anxiety but also offered new opportunities and risks to Toureaux as she embraced the identity of a modern woman The authors unravel her murder as they detail her story and that of the Cagoule within the popular culture and conflicted politics of 1930s France By examining documents related to Toureaux s murder documents the French government has sealed from public view until 2038 Brunelle and Finley Croswite link Toureaux s death not only to the Cagoule but also to the Italian secret service for whom she acted as an informant Their research provides likely answers to the question of the identity of Toureaux s murderer and offers a fascinating look at the dark and dangerous streets of pre World War II Paris

French Crime Fiction, 1945-2005 Margaret-Anne Hutton, 2016-04-22 In the first major study of representations of World War II in French crime fiction Margaret Anne Hutton draws on a corpus of over a hundred and fifty texts spanning more than sixty years Included are well known writers male and female such as Aubert Simenon Boileau Narcejak Vargas Daeninckx and Jonquet as well as a broad range of lesser known authors Hutton s introduction situates her study within the larger framework of literary representations of World War II setting the stage for her discussions of genre the problem of defining crimes and criminals in the context of the war the epistemological issues that arise in the relationship between World War II historiography and the crime novel and the temporal textures linking past crimes to the present Filling a gap in the fields of crime fiction and fictional representations of the War Hutton s book calls into question the way both crime fiction and the French theatre of World War II have been conceptualized and codified The History of England; from the Text of Hume and Smollett, to the Reign of George the Third and Thence Continued ... by T.
