Hopkin, 2003 Concentrating on the militarised borderlands of eastern France this book examines the disjuncture between the patriotic expectations of elites and the sentiments expressed in folksongs folktales and popular imagery in which issues of sexuality violence and separation took far greater prominence Hopkin follows the soldier through his life cycle from greenhorn recruit to grizzled veteran to show how the peasant conscript was separated from his previous life and re educated in military mores and the response that this transformation elicited from his family and community BOOK JACKET French Popular Lithographic Imagery, 1815-1870: Genre: urban and military Beatrice Farwell, 1981 Queering Contemporary French Popular Cinema Darren Waldron, 2009 Queering Contemporary French Popular Cinema combines close film analysis with a small scale qualitative investigation of audience responses to examine images of queerness in contemporary French popular cinema and their reception Through its blending of the textual and the empirical this book provides a unique insight into the ways in which sexuality and gender are represented on the cinema screen as well as the spectator reactions they elicit Since the mid 1990s depictions of lesbians gay men and queer forms of sexual desire and identity have shifted to the mainstream of French cinematographic representation as evidenced by the box office success of a series of highly commercial comic films including Gazon maudit Josiane Balasko 1995 Pdale douce Gabriel Aghion 1996 Le Placard Francis Ver 2000 and Chouchou Merzak Allouache 2003 Alongside this commercial strand a series of small budget alternative comedies and other genre films have also challenged heteronormative conceptualizations of sexuality and gender Films such as Sitcom François Ozon 1998 L

Homme est une femme comme les autres Jean Jacques Zilbermann 1997 Pourquoi pas moi St phane Giusti 1999 Dr le de F lix Olivier Ducastel and Jacques Martineau 2000 and Les Chansons d amour Christophe Honor 2007 portray desire as fluid and or gender as unfixed With their use of parody and their blending of comedy with the musical melodrama romance or road movie these and other similar films have resonated with a burgeoning viewing public tired of having to seek queerness in connotation of appropriating marginal characters in ostensibly straight narratives and of tragedy and trauma as the principal modes of representation and spectator address

French Popular Lithographic Imagery, 1815 - [eighteen Hundred and Fifteen To] 1870 Beatrice Farwell,1983 Text/Image Mosaics in French Culture Laurance Grove,2017-03-02 This study compares text image interaction as manifested in emblem books and related forms and the modern bande dessin e or French language comic strip It moves beyond the issue of defining the emblematic genre to examine the ways in which emblems and their modern counterparts interact with the surrounding culture and what they disclose about that culture Drawing largely on primary material from the Biblioth que nationale de France and from Glasgow University Library s Stirling Maxwell Collection of emblem literature Laurence Grove builds on the ideas of Marshall McLuhan Elizabeth Eisenstein and more recently Neil Rhodes and Jonathan Sawday Divided into four sections Theoretics Production Thematics and Reception Text Image Mosaics in French Culture broaches topics such as theoretical approaches past and present to text image forms the question of narrative within the scope of text image creations and the reuse of visual iconography for diametrically opposed political or religious purposes The author argues that despite the gap in time between the advent of emblems and that of comic strips the two forms are analogous in that both are the products of a parallel mentality The mindsets of the periods that popularised these forms have certain common features related to repeated social conditions rather than to the pure evolution over time Grove s analysis and historical contextualisation of that mentality provide insight into our own popular culture forms not only the comic strip but also other hybrid media such as advertising and the Internet His juxtaposition of emblems and the bande dessin e increases our understanding of all such combinations of picture and text
