Horror That Haunts Us Karrà Shimabukuro,Wickham Clayton,2024-02-06 Horror's pleasures fundamentally hinge on looking backward either on destabilising trauma or as a period of comfort and happiness which is undermined by threat However this stretches beyond the scares on our screens to the consumption and criticism of the monsters of our past The horror films of our youth can be locations of psychological and social trauma or the happy place we go back to for comfort when our lives become unsettled Horror That Haunts Us Nostalgia Revisionism and Trauma in Contemporary American Horror is a collection of essays that brings together multiple theoretical and critical approaches to consider the way popular horror films from the Teen Film Catherine Driscoll, 2011-06-01 What makes a film a teen film? And why when it represents such powerful and enduring ideas about youth and adolescence is teen film usually viewed as culturally insignificant? Teen film is usually discussed as a representation of the changing American teenager highlighting the institutions of high school and the nuclear family and experiments in sexual development and identity formation. But not every film featuring these components is a teen film and not every teen film is American. Arguing that teen film is always a story about becoming a citizen and a subject, Teen Film presents a new history of the genre, surveys the existing body of scholarship and introduces key critical tools for discussing teen film. Surveying a wide range of films including The Wild One, Heathers, Akira and Donnie Darko, the book's central focus is on what kind of adolescence teen film represents and on teen film's capacity to produce new and influential images of adolescence.
