European Union And Asean:

Are region-to-region relations between the EU and ASEAN possible? Martin Hiebsch, 2014-04-03 Essay from the year 2013 in the subject Politics Region Other States grade 1 3 King's College London language English abstract The relationship between the European Union EU and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN is perceived as having a unique importance Camroux 2009 4 The first formal meeting between ASEAN and the European Economic Community EEC took place in June 1972 Lim 2012 47 and was the first of its kind between the precursor to the EU and another regional entity Nowadays the relationship is widely considered as a model for interregional relations Camroux 2009 4 However there are many obstacles impeding a further institutionalisation of the region to region relations Negotiations about the enhancement of the cooperation often have stalled during the past decades and the progress of interregional convergence proceeds slowly The following essay will answer the question whether region to region relations between the EU and ASEAN are possible and analyse their degree of the institutionalisation In order to draw a picture of the development towards interregional cooperation the essay will summarise the historical emergence of the relationship and identify the obstacles within the current state of interactions The author will present the argument that region to region relations are possible and already exist However he will point out that because of ASEAN's lacking capacities the interregional relations continue to be limited to certain fields and agreements in the economical and political domain remain mostly bi and multilateral The essay will explain the structures of the already existing interregional cooperation and stress how an enhanced relationship would be beneficial for both organisations Finally it will summarise its findings and provide an outlook for the years to come

EU-ASEAN Relations in the 21st Century D. Novotny, C. Portela, 2012-10-17 Escaping the economic and security centered approaches prevalent in contemporary U S debate the contributors explore political relations between the European Union EU and Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Their inter disciplinary perspectives touch on domains such as security comparative integration human rights energy The EU and ASEAN - Ready for the Future? Judith Becker, 2008-05 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject Politics International Politics Topic European Union grade 85% 2 0 A GPA 3 7 Peking University School for International Studies course Southeast Asian Regional Studies 19 entries in the bibliography language English abstract The relations between the EU and ASEAN are characterized by many achievements and many drawbacks in the last decades Additionally even though the relations date back to the beginning of the 1970s they have not fulfilled the expectations of many people in both Europe and Southeast Asia for two main reasons Firstly the context in which these relations take place has significantly changed with the end of the Cold War and the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 Naturally the aims and objectives of the relationship have to be much broader than thirty years ago because they have to take into account these changed international circumstances since they do not take place in a vacuum Secondly both ASEAN and the EU developed internally for example through different rounds of enlargements These internal developments of the two partners have to be taken into account as well just as the changed international environment Since 2001 owing to the reasons mentioned above new initiatives were proposed to reinvigorate the relationship and to make it more effective in facing the new profoundly changed international arena Can these initiatives achieve the aim of improving the relationship and consequently prepare it for the challenging future The essay will proceed as follows Firstly the spider web of relations between the EU and ASEAN will be portrayed to give an impression of the complexity of the relationship Secondly the main developments since 2001 will be introduced and analyzed to be able thirdly to conclude if the relations are healthy enough to face the challenges of the future

The European Union and Asean NA NA,2016-04-30 In mid 1997 a major crisis embraced the economies of Southeast Asia Its effects were severe particularly on the countries of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations many of whose currencies suffered market devaluations This volume addresses the causes of the crisis and its ramifications for both trade and investment between the European Union and ASEAN at the turn of the century

Southeast Asia and the European Union Naila Maier-Knapp,2014-09-19 Amidst the Eurozone crisis the European Union EU is stepping up its dialogue and engagement with and within Southeast Asia The EU s contemporary approach towards Asia emphasises the importance of open economies and common challenges of the 21st Century So called non traditional security issues have been portrayed increasingly as an avenue to share experiences and enhance cooperation between the EU and Southeast Asia This contemporary conceptual re orientation demands a closer look at the EU as an actor in Southeast Asia This book is the first contemporary monograph length discussion of the EU as a politico security actor in in the region post Cold War Drawing upon the historical and institutional context and a broad range of empirical case studies it considers the non traditional security crises of the late 1990s and early 2000s in Southeast Asia as triggers for enhanced regional and inter regional cooperation In doing so the book construes new insights into our understanding of the EU as a global actor and its normative influence in regions far away from Europe Providing a crisis centric and sector specific analysis which is much needed the book will be of interest to scholars of Southeast Asian Politics and European Politics as well as policy makers
