time the European Union has become one of the world's most powerful and important bodies. Its critical role in international affairs extends to several different areas: economics, culture, the environment, and of course international security and foreign affairs. This important volume explains and evaluates EU foreign policy in all its confusing dimensions. Is there really any such thing as European Union Foreign Policy? If so, what is it? What are its goals and priorities, and how effective is it? How do outsiders perceive EU foreign policy, and what are the ramifications of those views? Those are just some of the questions this book tries to answer. In order to draw the most comprehensive picture possible of EU foreign policy, Federiga Bindi and her contributors dissect both horizontal and vertical issues. Vertical concerns focus on particular geographic regions such as the EU's foreign policy toward Africa and Asia and its relations with the United States. Horizontal issues explore wider crosscutting themes that help explain the EU's foreign policy choices and operations, such as decisionmaking processes and procedures, European self-identity, and core priorities such as peace, democracy, and human rights.

Back To Europe, Karen Henderson, 2005-10-09. As The European Union Opens Negotiations On Membership With Five Of The Ten post communist states, who have applied, this book looks at some of the challenges presented by Eastern enlargement, not only to existing member states and European institutions, but also to the Central and Eastern European countries themselves. The approach is interdisciplinary and brings together contributions from academic specialists on security and international relations, European institutions, the economics of European integration, and the domestic politics of Central and Eastern Europe. The book has been structured to provide a clear and comprehensive introduction to the topic for students taking a range of courses, including European integration, the politics of post communist democracies, and Europe's post Cold war order. At the same time, it will be accessible to more general readers with an interest in European Union affairs, while presenting research to specialists in the area.

European Union Law for the Twenty-First Century: Volume 1 Τάκης Τριδύμας, Paolisa Nebbia, 2004-10. This book is based on contributions made to the WG Hart Workshop 2003. It contains articles by leading experts seeking to assess the state of development of EU law, some fifty years after the establishment of the Communities, and to contribute to the current debate on the European Constitution. The first volume concentrates on the themes of European Constitutionalism and EU external relations. It analyses the proposed Constitution, dealing among others with the division of competence between the EU and the Member States, Community legislation, the role of national parliaments, democracy in the EU, human rights, and the Court of Justice. It also contains articles on EU external relations, covering among others enlargement, the common foreign and security policy, immigration and asylum policy, and the relations between the EU and the WTO.

European Integration in Times of Security

Challenges Andreas Kellerhals, 2025-03-21 The European Commission's Enlargement Package 2023 proposed opening accession negotiations with Ukraine, Moldova, and Bosnia and Herzegovina while granting candidate status to Georgia, bringing the total to seven candidate states and two potential candidates. Ensuring compliance with the Copenhagen criteria remains a key challenge alongside necessary institutional reforms, particularly regarding EU decision making and unanimity rules. In migration policy, the adoption of the New Pact on Migration and Asylum in December 2023 marked a major step toward a unified approach. Based on solidarity, shared responsibility, and human rights, it aims to improve long-term migration management, though implementation remains a challenge. Meanwhile, the EU continues to navigate its digital and green transitions. A milestone in 2023 was the adoption of the world's first legal framework for AI regulation, reflecting the EU's ambition to set global standards, though its impact on the digital economy remains uncertain. This publication explores these key developments, highlighting the interplay between policy making and societal engagement in a shifting geopolitical landscape. It features contributions from Fatlum Ademi, Jelena Ceranic Perisic, Viorel Cibotaru, Iris Goldner Lang, Christos V. Gortsos, Gabor Halmai, Dorian Jano, Andreas Kellerhals, Maroje Lang, Lee McGowan, Roman Petrov, Carla Portela, and Juan Santos Vara. Network Europe was founded in 2003 by the Europa Institute at the University of Zurich, with support from the Swiss government. It serves as a forum for scholarly exchange on legal and political aspects of European integration, bringing together researchers from across Europe.

The European Union, the World Bank and the Policymaking of Aid Eugenia Baroncelli, 2019-01-03 Based on the experience of the author, an IPE scholar and former trade policy consultant at the World Bank, WB, the book offers an in-depth exploration of the EU-WB relations conceptualized as hybrid delegation. Coupling cross-time analyses of their interaction in the regions of the Middle East and North Africa, Europe and Central Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa, with an original investigation on the coordination among the EU member states at the Executive Board of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, over the voice and participation reform of 2008-2010, the book advances an innovative theoretical framework to assess the EU-WB joint institutional and field policy performances. Augmented PA models of delegation, role theory, and performance analyses are engaged and selectively recombined to investigate the nature, evolution, and impact of the interactions of the two organizations, both in their everyday and constituent politics. Hybrid delegation in motion is reconstructed against the background of post-Washington Consensus and post-Lisbon EU, to unveil the changing division of labour between the two largest development multilaterals of the new global context. The book will be of interest to scholars, students, and practitioners in European Politics, Development, International Relations, International Political Economy, and Global Economic Governance.

The EU and Member State Building Soeren Keil, Zeynep Arkan, 2014-12-05 This book critically examines the process of statebuilding by the EU, focusing on its attempts to build Member States in the Western Balkan region. This book analyses the European Union's policies towards and the impact they have upon the states of the Western Balkans and assesses how these affect the nature of EU foreign policy. To this end it focuses on the tools and mechanisms that the EU employs in its enlargement policy and examines the new instruments of direct intervention in Bosnia and Kosovo political coercion in the case of Croatia and Serbia in relation to the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and stricter conditionality in the Western Balkan countries The book discusses the key aim of this special form of statebuilding which is to establish functional liberal democratic states in Albania Bosnia and Herzegovina Croatia Kosovo Macedonia Montenegro and Serbia in order for them to join the EU and to cope with the responsibilities and pressures of membership in the future However the authors argue that while the EU sees itself as an international actor that promotes and protects liberal democratic values norms and principles its experiences in the Western Balkans demonstrate how the EU's actions in the region have undermined the basic principles of democratic decision making such as the European support for impositions in Bosnia and international law Kosovo and have consequently contributed to new tensions see police reform in Bosnia and the tensions between Kosovo and Serbia and dependencies This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding EU politics global governance and IR Security Studies in general

The European Union and the United States Jost Morgenstern-Pomorski, Terrence Guay, Michael Smith, 2024-11-14 In this thoroughly revised edition of The European Union and the United States authors Smith Guay and Morgenstern Pomorski delve deep into the complexities of the EU US relationship amidst pivotal shifts on the global stage By examining the relationship through the lens of competition convergence and crises this textbook goes beyond narrow focuses on the EU US relationship offering a nuanced analysis of changing dynamics It stands as the definitive and all encompassing guide to transatlantic relations considering recent developments in business trade political economy and foreign policy while carefully navigating the commonalities and differences that exist between the EU and the US This updated edition also reflects on contemporary changes such as cyber security climate change the rise of populism and the emergence of global powerhouses like China India and Brazil successfully situating the EU US relationship within a broader international context Throughout the authors diverse academic backgrounds enable an interdisciplinary approach to the material rebalancing content to include international relations comparative politics and management In doing so this textbook provides a holistic view of transatlantic affairs With additional features including focused case studies summary tables and speech extracts this text serves as the ideal companion for higher level undergraduate students and postgraduate students studying EU politics or anyone seeking to deepen their knowledge of the broader subject area

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2004

New Europe's New Development Aid Balázs Szent-Iványi, Simon Lightfoot, 2015-04-17 This book examines the international development policies of five East Central European new EU member states the Czech Republic Hungary Poland Slovakia and Slovenia These countries turned from being aid recipients to donors after the turn of the millennium in the run up to EU accession in 2004 The book explains the evolution subsequent to EU accession and current state of foreign aid policies in the region and the reasons why these deviate from many of the internationally agreed best practices in development cooperation It argues that after the turn of the millennium a Global Consensus has emerged on how to make foreign aid more effective for development A comparison between the elements of the Global Consensus and the performance of the five countries reveals that while they have generally implemented little of these recommendations there are also emerging differences between the countries with the Czech Republic and Slovenia clearly aspiring to become globally responsible donors Building on the literatures on foreign policy analysis international socialization and interest group influence the book develops a model of foreign aid policy making in order to explain the general reluctance of the five countries in implementing international best practices and also the differences in their relative performance

The European Union's Geopolitics Mathias Jopp, Johannes Pollak, 2025-02-07 The book deals with the urgent need for the EU to position itself globally in the wake of Brexit a rapidly worsening climate crisis the COVID 19 pandemic an aggressive Russia and an ever more assertive China After 60 years of intensive navel gazing that focused on institutional design more than world politics the EU is now forced to defend its liberal democratic values which have come under attack from inside and outside the European integration project Moreover Realpolitik is back on the agenda Europe's content negligence of defense matters in the past few decades has been revealed by Russia's war of aggression against Ukraine

European Union Law for the Twenty-First Century: Volume 1 Takis Tridimas, Paola Nebbia, 2004-09-28 This book is based on contributions made to the WG Hart Workshop 2003 It contains articles by leading experts seeking to assess the state of development of EU law some fifty years after the establishment of the Communities and to contribute to the current debate on the European Constitution The first volume concentrates on the themes of European Constitutionalism and EU external relations It analyses the proposed Constitution dealing among others with the division of competence between the EU and the Member States Community legislation the role of national parliaments democracy in the EU human rights and the Court of Justice It also contains articles on EU external relations covering among others enlargement the common foreign and security policy immigration and asylum policy and the relations between the EU and the WTO

The European Union Elizabeth E. Bomberg, John Peterson, Alexander C-G. Stubb, 2008 The book also features exhibits comparing the EU with other international bodies and systems of government This will help students to better understand the EU by underlining how it is like other systems of governance and in what ways it is unique The book's overall aim is to provide an accessible lively introduction to how the EU works and why it matters

Democracy Promotion and the 'Colour Revolutions' Susan Stewart, 2013-09-13 This book reviews the interplay between domestic contexts and democracy promotion efforts in selected countries of the former Soviet Union and the Western Balkans The idea behind the six case studies is twofold In the three cases where colour revolutions occurred Serbia Georgia Ukraine the authors explore the extent to which external democracy promoters adapted their strategies to respond to new domestic contexts In the other three cases Azerbaijan Belarus Russia the authors investigate how the political leadership has reacted to colour revolutions elsewhere and which consequences their reactions have had for democracy promotion In all cases an assessment of democratization processes in the country is provided as a basis for drawing conclusions about the potential for domestic and foreign actors to promote democratic development An introduction and conclusion embed the case studies in the existing literature on democracy promotion and generalize the findings across the countries studied On the practical level the volume offers suggestions for improving democracy promotion endeavours proposing in particular a more balanced approach which goes beyond supporting specific individuals and organizations to include addressing the structural level This book was published as a special issue of Democratization
