Mass Appraisal Methods Tom Kauko, Maurizio d'Amato, 2009-01-28 This book takes a cross disciplinary and cross cultural look at mass appraisal expertise for property valuation in different market conditions and offers some cutting edge approaches The editors establish an international platform and present the scientific debate as well as practical feasibility considerations Heretic and orthodox valuation methods are assessed based on specific criteria partly technical and partly institutional Methodological evaluation is approached using two types of criteria operational concerns about how to determine property value differentials between spatial and functional units of real estate in a valid and reliable way technical criteria and the kind of market circumstances being operated in institutional criteria While technical criteria are relatively well researched there is little theoretically informed work on the connection between country context and selection of property appraisal methods The book starts with an examination of current mass property appraisal practices presenting case studies from widely differing markets from the American and Dutch where regression based methods have been used successfully for some time to the Eastern European and other emerging economies where limitations have to be compensated by focusing on the modelling assumptions. The second part of the book looks at sophisticated modelling approaches some of which represent combinations of elements from two or more techniques. Whatever the exact modelling approach the requirements are always high for the quality of the data and suitability of the method. In the final section methods are evaluated and compared according to technical criteria and against institutional contexts. With its exceptionally wide coverage of valuation issues, Mass Appraisal Methods an international perspective for property valuers addresses property valuation problems common to different countries and approaches applicable in both developed and emerging economies.

Investing in International Real Estate M. A. Hines, 2000-10-30 With numerous cogent examples from real estate markets worldwide Dr Hines makes it clear that investing in foreign real estate is by no means the same as investing domestically. She shows how why and when special strategies must be devised to enter the world market conveys essential information on global investment opportunities outlines career opportunities and advancement strategies in international investment and provides insights into international business in the context of global real estate investing. Her focus on industrial commercial and residential real estate reflects both the major investment interests of world class investment professionals and the diversity of real estate market conditions. Her book is thus an essential resource for professional real estate investors teachers and their graduate level students. Dr Hines focuses on the general investment strategies that successful and profitable international real estate investors have devised over many years and now follow assiduously. Readers gain knowledge of direct investment in industrial commercial and residential real estate and through the purchase of securities such as real estate investment trusts and mortgage backed issues. After discussing basic international real estate differences and general acquisition strategies the book moves to functional strategies such as valuation land development construction financing and tax strategies. Dr Hines concludes with a coverage of housing and shopping centers office buildings and industrial property investment all of which allow readers to observe the differences among functional areas and then tie them to the differences among investments in various types of properties. Her book covers Western Eastern and Central Europe East Southeast Central and South Asia Africa in general and Morocco in Northwest Africa in particular plus the Middle East and North and South America.

Property Investment Appraisal Andrew E. Baum, Neil Crosby, Steven Devaney, 2021-01-06 Discover an insightful examination of the property investment appraisal process from leaders in the industry. This book explains the process of property investment appraisal the process of estimating both the most likely selling price market value and the worth of property investments to individuals or groups of investors investment value. Valuations are important. They are used as a surrogate for transactions in the measurement of investment performance and they influence investors and other market operators when transacting property. Valuations need to be trusted by their clients and valuers need to produce rational and objective solutions. Appraisals of worth are even more important as they help to determine the prices that should be paid for assets even in times of crisis and they can indicate market under or over pricing In a style that makes the theory as well as the practice of valuation accessible to students and practitioners the authors provide a valuable critique of conventional valuation methods and argue for the adoption of more contemporary cash flow methods They explain how such valuation models are constructed and give useful examples throughout They also show how these contemporary cash flow methods connect market valuations with rational appraisals The UK property investment market has been through periods of both boom and bust since the first edition of this text was produced in 1988 As a result the book includes examples generated by vastly different market states Complex reversions over rented properties and leaseholds are all fully examined by the authors This Fourth Edition includes new material throughout including brand new chapters on development appraisals and bank lending valuations heavily revised sections on discounted cash flow models with extended examples and on the measurement and analysis of risk at an individual property asset level The heart of the book remains the critical examination of market valuation models which no other book addresses in such detail

Real Estate Appraisal Sarah Sayce, Judy Smith, Richard Cooper, Piers Venmore-Rowland, 2009-02-11 The education of the real estate professional is changing and aligning itself more closely with the world of business This book takes a new approach to property appraisal by exploring the pricing mechanism in this changing context It develops the notion of the pricing mechanism in relation to property covers practical issues of comparison and the real problems in applying valuation theory explores calculations including social and environmental worth ignored in other texts As real estate professionals now advise both on strategic and operational aspects of built assets they must take into account practices of other investment markets and see investors as competitors to owner occupiers Both owner occupiers and investors have to assess accurately how their buildings perform but also be aware of wider sustainability issues and social and environmental responsibilities Real Estate Appraisal from value to worth meets these new demands by examining the latest techniques of the marketplace developing an understanding of both market appraisal and worth and highlighting the emerging role of sustainability as a driver for decision making in real estate Written by a group of highly experienced lecturers and professionals at the cutting edge of investment practice the book has an accessible style and authoritative coverage for both students and practitioners facing changes in established ways of working For supporting material please go to www.blackwellpublishing.com/sayce
