Epistolary Poetry in Byzantium and Beyond Krystina Kubina, Alexander Riehle, 2021-05-04 Letters were an important medium of everyday communication in the ancient Mediterranean Soon after its emergence the epistolary form was adopted by educated elites and transformed into a literary genre which developed distinctive markers and was used for instance to give political advice to convey philosophical ideas or to establish and foster ties with peers A particular type of this genre is the letter cast in verse or epistolary poem which merges the form and function of the letter with stylistic elements of poetry In Greek literature epistolary poetry is first safely attested in the fourth century AD and would enjoy a lasting presence throughout the Byzantine and early modern periods The present volume introduces the reader to this hitherto unexplored chapter of post classical Greek literature through an anthology of exemplary epistolary poems in the original Greek with facing English translation This collection which covers a

From Byzantium to Modern Greece Roderick Beaton, 2024-12-11 The twelfth century was a time of cultural renewal and innovation in Byzantium just as it was in the west In literature the long disused genres of epic satire and the novel or romance took new forms during that century at the same time in language the vernacular made its first tentative literary appearances These developments continued uninterrupted through the late Byzantine and early modern periods Scholarship since the nineteenth century has been sharply divided over these texts do they represent the first breakthrough of an emergent Modern Greek literature or merely a footnote to the Byzantine learned tradition What in particular do they have to tell us about the collective self definition of the Greek speakers who wrote them roughly during the period 1100-1600 And how has their subsequent reception contributed to defining and consolidating the national identity of the Modern Greeks since the nation state was established in the 1820s The papers collected in this book explore the relation between literary texts and collective consciousness scrutinizing the evidence of the texts themselves in their late or post Byzantine context and assessing how their reception both influenced and was influenced by the processes of nation building in Modern Greece Ecologizing Late Ancient and Byzantine Worlds Laura Borghetti, Thomas Arentzen, 2025-07-10 How can we study the late ancient and Byzantine history from ecological perspectives How might one grapple with the more than human in sources and media created by humans Exploring the diverse ways in which pre modern texts engaged with the broader natural world this book presents scholarly ventures into the terrains of the past From the ancient treatises on dreams to monastic tales from the Hexameron literature to the Byzantine romance from the Exeter Book to a mysterious Byzantine icon the chapters investigate a diverse range of literature and other sources uncovering intricate ecosystems of relationships The team of leading international experts behind the volume focuses on encounters between human and more than human beings They pay attention to the entanglement of multiple agencies that cut through texts and other meshes With insights from such theoretical traditions as ecocriticism new materialism and environmental humanities they re expose ancient media to the elements
