Evaluation In Child And Family Services Comparative Client And Program Perspectives:

Assessing Outcomes in Child and Family Services Anthony N. Maluccio, 2017-11-30 In this collective portrait editors and authors do not attempt to draw systematic country by country comparisons Given the magnitude of the issues they believed that it would be inappropriate to paint with too broad a stroke What they have accomplished however is to codify and identify what the participants repeatedly noted in regard to issues and difficulties inherent in conducting outcome evaluation These include varying definitions of outcome complexities in measuring outcomes of particular interventions with different groups of consumers and documenting the effectiveness of the intervention the tendency to focus on evaluation of process more than outcome the challenge of involving practitioners in the evaluation task in part because its value is unclear to them or perceived as distant or untrustworthy the typical inadequacy of resources available for systematic evaluation and the need to inject rigor into the design and execution of evaluation projects The authors demonstrate strong conviction about sharing research expertise across national boundaries learning through each other how to cope with organizational impediments to cross national collaboration and strengthening the interaction between practice and research Their contributions suggest that there is wide interest in pursuing cross national collaboration In recent years largely in response to demands by their funding sources for accountability assessment of performance and cost effectiveness researchers in human services have been devoting increased attention to outcome evaluation Limited attention however has been given to the findings of evaluation studies conducted in different countries The present volume has been organized and edited to address the task of learning from outcome research across the world Its goal an extension of a major goal of the human services in any one country is to improve life chances of vulnerable children and youth Evaluation in Child and Family Services Tiziano Vecchiato, Anthony N. Maluccio, Cinzia Canali, As child and family interventions assume greater international application it will be helpful to examine the various ways in which service innovations are being evaluated As demonstrated in the seminar from which these chapters resulted only by sharing our specific professional interests our too frequent problems in measurement our despair in implementing complicated studies and our successes can we advance the evaluation of human services and their outcomes This volume considers a variety of programs and issues in the field of child and family services While different perspectives are evident among the authors in terms of their focus and or emphasis there is common concern about the value of examining each program or service so as to maximize its impact as well as its potential for dissemination Intervention research should spur and motivate cross national efforts not only among researchers but also among social workers and other practitioners from diverse professions engaged in the delivery of human services Such collaboration would contribute to the ultimate goals of achieving greater clarity about the specifics of best practices in child and family services protocols for assessing outcomes and ways of improving service delivery How then can researchers and policymakers in diverse settings within diverse countries improve practice and service delivery on behalf of children and families What particular program findings can be generalized to improve services How can we share and implement new solutions The contributions to this volume address such questions from varying international perspectives Contributors provide answers and generate discussion points for consideration by practitioners as well as researchers The book is a must for social work parishioners in areas involving the delivery of goods as well as services Tiziano Vecchiato is scientific director of the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Anthony N Maluccio is professor of social work at Boston College Graduate School of Social Work Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Cinzia Canali is research associate at the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy

Improving Outcomes for Children and Families Anita Lightburn, Cinzia Canali, Jane Aldgate, Tony Maluccio, Tiziano Vecchiato, Wendy Rose, 2011-03-15 This edited collection offers an international perspective on the challenges of designing and undertaking outcome based evaluation of child and family services It introduces the key ideas and issues currently being debated in the evaluation of these services and provides examples of evaluation from policy and practice

Improving Outcomes for Children and Families Anthony N. Maluccio, 2011 This edited collection offers an international perspective on the challenges of designing and undertaking outcome based evaluation of child and family services It introduces the key ideas and issues currently being debated in the evaluation of these services and provides examples of evaluation from policy and practice

International Journal of Child and Family Welfare, Assessing Children's Needs and Circumstances Steve Walker, Hedy Cleaver, 2004-03-01 Drawing on interviews with social workers and their managers and families and young people themselves the authors of this important book show how the principles embodied in the Assessment Framework have been applied to social work practice This book should be read by all professionals working to promote the welfare and well being of children

The Child Welfare Challenge James K. Whittaker, 2017-07-12 Within a historical and contemporary context this book examines major policy practice and research issues as they jointly shape child welfare practice and its future In addition to describing the major problems facing the field the book highlights service innovations that have been developed in recent years The resulting picture is encouraging especially if certain major program reforms are implemented and agencies are able to concentrate resources in a focused manner The volume emphasizes families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded child welfare agencies The book considers historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential services where social work has an important role Authors address the many fields of practice in which child and family services are provided or that involve substantial numbers of social work programs such as services to adolescent parents child mental health education and juvenile justice agencies This new edition will continue to serve as a fundamental introduction for new practitioners as well as summary of recent developments for experienced practitioners

Enhancing the Well-being of Children and Families through Effective Interventions Wendy Rose, Professor Colette McAuley, Peter Pecora, 2006-01-30 Services for families and children are rightfully the focus of intense scrutiny and debate and there is a clear need to establish a knowledge of which services work well This volume provides a comprehensive overview of research evidence from the UK and USA on the effectiveness of selected child welfare interventions Social Work Practice with Families and Children Anthony Maluccio, Barbara Pine, Elizabeth M.

Tracy, 2002-09-11 This book emphasizes family centered social network and school based interventions in the preparation of social workers for direct and indirect practice with clients from vulnerable populations especially the poor people of color and recent immigrant groups With an eye to recent changes in social work practice and service delivery including the impact of welfare reform and managed care on vulnerable families and children Social Work Practice with Families and Children helps social work students and practitioners understand the increasingly complex needs of their clients Three valuable appendixes include information about tools and instruments to support practice child welfare resource centers and electronic resources pertaining to the field Enhancing the Well-being of Children and Families Through Effective

Interventions Colette McAuley, Peter J. Pecora, Wendy Rose, 2006 This reader compares up to date policy and research evidence from the UK and USA on the effectiveness of core child welfare interventions The text shows how knowledge of effective interventions can be used to improve assessment of needs and planning and reviewing services to children and their families Handbook of Community-Based Clinical Practice Anita Lightburn, Phebe Sessions, 2006 Bridges community practice and clinical practice by collecting 33 chapters from social workers psychologists and psychiatrists that outline and illustrate the state of the art Designed specifically for clinicians making the transition to community based work Provided by publisher Indicators of Children's Well-Being Asher Ben-Aryeh, Robert M. Goerge, 2006 This book contains a series of articles that represent a broad range of viewpoints about how the use of social indicators affects child and family policy The book discusses the use of indicators as an effective tool to change policy A distinguished international group of researchers and policymakers provide insights into the past current and future use of good information to develop and change policy that improves the well being of children and youth in the United States This book will be of value to policymakers journalists researchers and professionals working in the social sciences humanities and health professions It is one of the first efforts to link child well being indicators to policies and services It combines methodology issues with conceptual issues and actual experience and looks on child well being indicators from an effectiveness perspective From Child Welfare to Child

Well-Being Sheila Kamerman, Shelley Phipps, Asher Ben-Arieh, 2009-10-23 This chapter provides a brief overview of the book highlighting the modest progress from child welfare to child well being reflected in these chapters and the parallel movement in Kahn's career and research as his scholarship developed over the years It then moves to explore the relationship between two overarching themes child and family policy stressing a universal approach to children and social protection stressing a more targeted approach to disadvantaged and vulnerable individuals including children and the complementarity of these strategies Introduction To a large extent Alfred J Kahn was at the forefront of the developments in the field of child welfare services protective services foster care adoption and family preservation and support

Overtime his scholarship moved to a focus on the broader policy domain of child and family policy and the outcomes for child wellbeing His work as is true for this volume progressed from a focus on poor disadvantaged and vulnerable children to a focus on all children He was convinced that children by definition are a vulnerable population group and that targeting all children employing a universal policy as a strategy would do more for poor children than a narrowly focused policy targeted on poor children alone As we first argued more than three decades ago Not for the Poor Alone Universalism and Income Testing in Family Policy one could target the most disadvantaged within a universal framework and this would lead to more successful results than targeting only the poor The Child Welfare Challenge Peter J. Pecora, James K. Whittaker, Richard P. Barth, Sharon Borja, William Vesneski, 2018-09-03 Using both historical and contemporary contexts The Child Welfare Challenge examines major policy practice and research issues as they jointly shape child welfare practice and its future This text focuses on families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded child welfare agencies and considers historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential treatment services where social work has an important role This fourth edition features new content on child maltreatment and prevention that is informed by key conceptual frameworks informed by brain science public health and other research This edition uses cross sector data and more sophisticated predictive and other analytical processes to enhance planning and practice design The authors have streamlined content on child protective services CPS to allow for new chapters on juvenile justice cross over youth and international innovations as well as more content on biology and brain science The fourth edition includes a glossary of terms as well as instructor and student resource papers available online
