Evangelism In The Reformed Tradition:

Reformed Theology and the Style of Evangelism (Stapled Booklet) John H. Leith, 2010-07-01 The responsibility to bear witness to the gracious presence of God in Jesus Christ in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth has been the perennial task of the Christian community from the beginning But the style and form of evangelism has varied according to time and place There is no one way of evangelism as the history of Christians witnessing and confessing their faith makes very clear The life of the Christian community has been and is enriched by a variety of evangelistic styles and by multiple theological confessions There is however a limit to possible Christian theologies and the preeminent theological task of the church is to test its proclamation by the word of God in Jesus Christ as attested in scripture to see that it is within the boundary There is also a limit to the legitimate styles of evangelism Some styles of evangelism corrupt and others strengthen the witness but more significantly style always betrays the real content There is an intimate but seldom seen connection between a person's thought and his style which Alfred North Whitehead defined precisely as the ultimate morality of mind The purpose of this paper is to relate Reformed theology to the form and style of evangelism The paper presupposes that evangelism as shaped by Reformed theology is a valid and effective form of evangelism but it does not presuppose that such form of evangelism is the only form that has validity or effectiveness It is hoped that the proposal will be the occasion for self criticism in the work of evangelism and for renewal of theological and ecclesiastical life in the Reformed tradition

How Shall We Witness? Milton J. Coalter, Virgil Cruz, 1995-01-01 Witness has long been recognized as an essential task of Christ's disciples But the question of how to evangelize responsibly has often confused and divided the Christian community How Shall We Witness is an account of one Christian family seeking to heed Christ's commission to witness in and to the world

Knight, 2025-04-08 Evangelism has entered a new day From the 1980s to the present a vast array of new forms of evangelism have emerged shaped and informed by theological reflection on the good news of Jesus Christ and the mission of God Rejecting the reduced and formulaic forms of evangelism typical of most of the twentieth century these newer approaches speak more of the reign and love of God relationship and community and both personal and social transformation They are very diverse but each has something to contribute to how we understand and practice evangelism This book is a doorway into these theologies of evangelism and their fresh and dynamic ways of sharing the good news

The Continuing Conversion of the Church Darrell L. Guder, 2000-03-20 Western society is now a very different very difficult mission field In such a situation the mission of evangelism cannot succeed with an attitude of business as usual This volume builds a theology of evangelism that has its focus on the church itself Darrell Guder shows that the church s missionary calling requires that the theology and practice of evangelism be fundamentally rethought and redirected focused on the continuing evangelization of the church so that it can carry out its witness faithfully in today s world In Part 1 Guder explores how under the influence of reductionism and individualism the church has historically moved away from a biblical theology of evangelism Part 2 presents contemporary challenges to the church s evangelical ministry especially those challenges that illustrate the church s need for continuing conversion Part 3 discusses what a truly missional theology would mean for the church including sweeping changes in its institutional structures and practices Written for teachers church leaders and students of evangelism this volume is vital reading for everyone engaged in mission work

Symposium on Evangelism (JCR Vol. 07 No. 02) R. J.

Rushdoony, Kenneth Gentry Jr., Herbert Bowsher, Lewis Bulkeley, Donovan Courville, Jefferson Duckett, P. Richard Flinn, James Jordan, Francis Mahaffy, Tommy W. Rogers, What's wrong with Reformed evangelism

Something certainly appears to be wrong. When we look at the growth of Arminian Baptist churches and compare this growth with the various Reformed Baptist and Presbyterian denominations the numbers are very discouraging. When J. Gresham Machen left the old Presbyterian Church of the USA he believed that his newly formed Presbyterian Church of America would grow rapidly as a result of its commitment to biblical inerrancy and the fundamentals of the faith. Instead it suffered a split the next year June 1937 and the two new denominations the Bible Presbyterians and Orthodox Presbyterians have not grown much in membership since 1937. Much the same has been true of the various Dutch based Reformed denominations. They grow only if the birth rate increases and the death rate decreases within the respective groups. As I noted at age 21 the Dutch churches seem to have substituted procreation for a Board of Home Missions. I wasn't tactful in my youth the way I am today. So what's the problem? As you might expect there is more than one problem. There is a whole pile of problems such as:

- 1 not systematic evangelism programs
- 2 imitation Arminian evangelism programs
- 3 ineffective evangelism programs
- 4 a message geared to confrontation not conquest
- 5 the humanism of our era
- 6 lack of capital
- 7 lack of confidence
- 8 lack of past successes to serve as precedents
- 9 seminaries that don't emphasize evangelism
- 10 too much concern for the rigors of theological speculation and not enough for the demands of applied theology
- 11 an inability to recognize and emphasize the strong points of the Reformed heritage
- 12 fatalism regarding stagnation and defeat
- 13 ignorance of the warfare between Christianity and humanism
- 14 compromised apologetic methodology
- 15 rationalism
- 16 a constricted view of the Kingdom of God
- 17 incompetence in the area of communication
- 18 a failure to tithe

One of the criticisms that has been aimed at the Christian reconstructionist movement is that it has not been concerned with evangelism. An odd charge coming from pastors who have never demonstrated that they have had any grasp of evangelism techniques given their tiny churches and invisibility in their communities. The Christian reconstruction movement is less than a decade old. It has little capital. Yet despite its youth and its lack of capital it has been influential enough to become a force in American thought and culture. When Newsweek identified the source of the religious right's ideas it listed Chalcedon and only Chalcedon Feb 2 1981 p 60. But this is not evangelism in the eyes of the critics. This doesn't count. So what does count? Not sheer numbers certainly the critics cannot point to their own success using this criterion. What is the nature of legitimate evangelism? The latest issue of The Journal of Christian Reconstruction addresses itself to this important question. But more than this it offers specific affordable suggestions to struggling congregations about how they can grow become more influential and count for something within their communities. We need both a theory of evangelism and a practical program for evangelism. The Symposium on Evangelism offers both. There has been an enormous waste in virtually all popular programs of evangelism. They have not been cost effective. They have not targeted their audiences properly. They have not been geared to repeated contacts They have not been structured in terms of long range objectives objectives stretching out two or more generations The evangelism programs popular if that word can even be used in Reformed circles have generally been warmed over versions of Arminian evangelism These techniques have not worked for Reformed churches yet the pastors have not been willing to scrap them and rethink the whole question Is there a distinctively Reformed evangelism Are its techniques fundamentally different from those employed by Arminian churches Is there a distinctively Christian reconstructionist evangelism a type of evangelism unavailable to the majority of Arminian denominations and congregations The answer to all three questions is the same Yes The Journal provides the evidence Far from being unconcerned with evangelism the Chalcedon movement is vitally concerned with evangelism It is a small movement at present and it needs capital How can it expect to become a world wide force for social change if it neglects evangelism How can its perspective spread to the decision makers of this age except by evangelism Everyone needs evangelism the Arminians the introspective Reformed groups the traditional conservatives the Roman Catholics the universities the heathen seats of power the media the Iron Curtain nations and all points in between But the average pastor faces more immediate problems He has to build up his struggling congregation He needs to take the first steps That s why we have devoted an issue of the Journal to evangelism What distinguishes the Chalcedon movement s view of evangelism from the rival varieties that are common today is the scope of evangelism We are convinced that no evangelism program can hope to succeed unless it is driven by a vision of universal conquest The three strongest political forces in the world today are Marxism militant Islam and modern science All three are predestinarian All three are officially optimistic All three believe that they possess the key which will unlock the door of history All three believe that they have access to the true law structure which will give them power over the world All three see themselves as agents of historical and social change All three see the whole world as their proper and required domain Until Christians can match them doctrine for doctrine vision for vision we will sit on the sidelines of history cheering for no one in particular Waiting for the game to end so that we can go home That s what most Christians are doing now This produces an ineffective evangelism It produces a socially irrelevant witness It produces the kind of witness the Roman emperors would have preferred to see the early church proclaim The emperors of our day can live with this sort of witness too It is time to change both our strategy and our tactics Gary North

The Study of Evangelism Paul W. Chilcote, Lacey C. Warner, 2008-02-13 Christians and communities of faith today are rediscovering evangelism as an essential aspect of the church s mission Many of the resulting books in the marketplace however have a hands on orientation often lacking serious theological engagement and reflection Bucking that how to trend The Study of Evangelism offers thirty groundbreaking essays that plumb the depths of the biblical and theological heritage of the church with reference to evangelistic practice Helpfully organized into six categories these broad diverse writings lay a solid scholarly foundation for meaningful dialogue about the church s practice of evangelism A Living Tradition: Presbyterian Theology in Dialogue with Today Vincent

Froom ,2024-12-11 A Living Tradition Presbyterian Theology in Dialogue with Today In A Living Tradition Vincent Froom invites readers to explore the vibrant intersection of Presbyterian theology and the pressing issues of the modern world Rooted in a rich heritage of Reformation thought Presbyterianism has long been characterized by its intellectual rigor commitment to social justice and dedication to living out faith in community But how does this enduring tradition engage with the complexities of 21st century life This thought provoking work examines how foundational doctrines such as covenant grace and community speak to contemporary challenges including environmental stewardship racial reconciliation gender equality and the church s role in an increasingly secular society With clarity and insight Froom weaves historical perspectives with fresh theological reflection showing how Presbyterianism can remain a dynamic and transformative force in today s world Accessible to lifelong Presbyterians and newcomers alike A Living Tradition is both a celebration of the church s enduring principles and a call to engage with the evolving spiritual and societal needs of our time It is a must read for anyone seeking to understand how the past and present converge in the Presbyterian faith to inspire justice hope and renewal for the future
